Basket Ball Last Saturday

North Bend students were almost as numerous as Coquille fans at the basket ball game last Saturday night, the theatre attraction cutting down the usual attendance at such athletic contests.

The first game between the girls of North Bend H. S. and Coquille H. S. was a very interesting and pretty one. The local five started off like sure winners and the first half almost played the visitors off their feet, winning it 8 to 4. But the young ladies from the Bay came back strong in the second half and before the home girls were able to get started had piled up a score which wiped out Coquille's lead, and with a point or two of margin. But their hopes were short lived for the half ended with the score 16 to 13 in Coquille's favor.

At the conclusion of that game, one of the North Bend players was overheard to remark that the boys would make up a plenty for the girls' defeat, and she was a true prophet, the North Bend team winning by a 40 to 17 score. That it was not more one-sided is due to the fact that Coquille woke up in the second half and played somewhere near the game they are capable of. As in the game with Jefferson High a month ago, the first half was marked by an absence of pep and ginger on Coquille's part that permitted the visitors to run wild and score almost at will. But our boys played a stronger game in the second half and were fighting all the way.

Even though they might be consistent losers, a team will receive the support of its own people if they are playing the game to the limit, but the fans want to see good team work, interference, guarding and passing. "Don't loaf on the job," is a very important rule for all games, especially when playing against a team like North Bend's.

Tonight the team journeys up to Myrtle Point and next Friday they go down to Bandon, after which we will have some more games at home. The standing of the five teams to date is:

Team	Played	Won	Lost	Percent
Bandon	2	2	0	100%
Marshfield	3	2	1	66%
North Bend	5	3	2	60%
Coquille	2	0	2	0%
Myrtle Point	2	0	2	0%

Must Protect the Highways

A trip over the Bandon-Curry road at this time convinces anyone interested in the building of good roads that maintenance is a mighty necessary item. Great pride has been taken in this highway for it is practically the only piece of good road we have ever enjoyed in this community.

To look at it now with its deep ruts and badly soaked spots is enough to set one thinking.

The road must be protected and kept up if it is to last until the state makes it a paved highway. It may prove a hardship to limit loads during the wet season, yet it simply must be done.

There is complaint against the County Court at the present time, because of the flat 3000 lb limit placed on loads, the argument being that the loads should be governed according to the traction of the vehicle. The argument may be well founded and a change in the application of restrictive measures may prove advisable.

One thing is certain, whatever conditions are destroying the highway that has cost taxpayers thousands of dollars to build, must be changed.

The taxpayers look to the County Court for reasonable protection in this matter.—Bandon World.

Mrs. Turner Entertained

Mrs. L. L. Turner entertained a large number of the younger set last Friday evening. The ever popular "500" was played and Mrs. G. E. Low carried off high honors while Mrs. R. E. Creager was consoled. At the close of the evening the hostess served a delicious two course luncheon, after which the ladies departed thanking Mrs. Turner for an unusually pleasant evening.

Mrs. Geo. Lorenz the Hostess

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Geo. Lorenz was hostess to the "500" club, with several additional tables. Mrs. Bert Folsom scored high for the club, while Mrs. V. L. Hamilton won the honors for guests, Mrs. Robt. Creager and Mrs. Ben Currie scoring low. A two course lunch, both artistic and delicious completed a most pleasant afternoon.

Domestic Science Lessons

"Twenty Lessons in Domestic Science," by Marion Cale Fisher has recently been received by us for review.

This is a complete advanced course in domestic science and home economics boiled down to meet the requirements of the housewife and the student.

The entire course consists of twenty practical lessons—one hundred pages filled with the most valuable information the housewife can possess—heretofore taught only in domestic science schools.

This book, we note, is priced at $2.00 per copy and from what we understand it contains a complete $100.00 college course, condensed, and it is practically free to every interested housewife.

The Home Economics Department of the Calumet Baking Powder Co., 4100-28 Fillmore St., Chicago, Ill., will be pleased to place this book in any interested party's hands upon receipt of two slips taken from 1-lb cans of Calumet Baking Powder and twenty cents to cover cost of postage and packing.

Vulcanizing and battery service at Graham's Garage.

The Jury Disagreed

In a case against Joe Magale, the proprietor of the Bianco shining parlor at Marshfield, the jury was out four hours yesterday and finely divided evenly on the question whether the "vino" he had been selling was used as a beverage or as a medicine. Attorney McKnight made a deposition that he had not bought it as a beverage. The stuff contains 18 per cent of alcohol. County Attorney Ben Fisher says he will try the case again.

Arrested for Having Liquor
E. McKeown, of Coquille, who was returning from Marshfield to the county seat on a jitney Saturday afternoon was arrested by Constable Goodman. The officer found a bottle of moonshine in McKeown's grip. The latter was arrested and taken before Justice Joehnk. Two charges were preferred, one of being drunk and the other of having liquor in his possession. Justice Joehnk ordered McKeown taken to jail. About an hour later friends had him released.
Monday morning McKeown pleaded not guilty to both charges. He claimed the bottle was put in his grip without his knowledge. He engaged John D. Goss to defend him.

Entertains for Her Mother
Wednesday being the birthday of Mrs. Sara Snyder, her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Johnson, celebrated the occasion with a pleasant afternoon party. The time was devoted to conversation and needlework until half past four, when delicious cake and ice cream were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Martha Stevens, Mrs. Henry Lorenz and Mrs. Harriett Sweet Mace. After that, a goodly pile of ribboned parcels were unwrapped by Mrs. J. H. Moore and the pretty and useful gifts therein were duly admired. Those present were Mesdames Sara Snyder, Allan McLeod, H. L. Varney, E. H. Kern, F. W. Barker, L. J. Cary, H. N. Lorenz, J. L. Aasen, Stanley Bartlett, Wm. Candlin, E. G. Woods, J. H. Messer, James Richmond, J. B. Sweet, R. B. Rogers, Samuel Ball, J. H. Moore, Harriett Mace, S. V. Epperson, Martha Stevens, H. L. Johnson and Miss Mary Bransham.

Farewell for Mrs. Longston
Mrs. N. N. Neiman entertained about twenty ladies at one o'clock luncheon last Saturday for the pleasure of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Longston, who left for her home at Granger, Wash., the following day.
Dainty place cards of yellow indicated the seats of the guests, at small tables, the color scheme of yellow and lavender prevailing throughout the lunch.

After lunch, the afternoon was devoted to "500" the hostess inaugurating quite an innovation along that line by introducing "topsy-turvy 500" which proved to be highly entertaining.
Mrs. Neiman was assisted in serving by her little daughter, Harriett.

Mrs. Walker Entertains Club
The Junior "500" club spent a jolly evening with Mrs. Archie Walker on Wednesday evening. After the usual number of games the hostess served her famous lunch of chicken tamales and other good things.
The prize winners for the evening were Mesdames N. N. Neiman and Lene Leneve, first; while Misses Edna Harlocker and Winnie Curry brought up the rear.
Mrs. Walker is entertaining again this evening.

A Little Folks' Party
Little Miss Margaret Paulson invited a number of guests to a "doll party" Wednesday afternoon, which occasion proved to be the little hostess' fourth birthday.
A cake with pink icing and candles adorned the lunch table, also favors of pink baskets containing candies, for the little mothers, while the wee children were favored with tiny pink silk bags and various articles of jewelry. It was a wonderful afternoon.
