Ray Long has just added to his equipment at Graham's Garage a "burning in" machine by which auto engines are brought to a smooth running condition after being overhauled.
Geo. Watkins and John D. Goss were among the Marshfield attorneys, who came over here Monday to attend the Circuit Court, which convened on that day for the February term.

Dewey Walker, a younger brother of Archie Walker, has been visiting here the past two weeks. Many people remember him as a 15-year old boy who lived in Coquille some six years ago.
Owing to Robert Train being ill with appendicitis, the case of the Southern Oregon company for alleged trespass while he was operating a logging camp, will not be heard at this term of court.

Wm. Rohm, of Riverton, an old time resident of the Coquille valley, suffered a partial stroke of paralysis Wednesday when a blood vessel broke in his brain. He is 75 years of age and his condition is critical.
The conduits have been laid for the new telephone building here, but the installation of the plant there has been delayed by the failure to receive the new equipment on time. However, it is expected to have everything in order there in a few days.

Fay W. Jones left in his auto for the Bay Wednesday morning from which point he will ship his car by boat to San Francisco. After a short stay there, he and Mrs. Jones, who went over last Saturday, will proceed to their new home in Sacramento, Calif.
William O. Anderson, of North Bend, was brought over here Monday night and placed in jail on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. An indictment was found against him by the last grand jury, the principal witness being a Marshfield girl.

Geo. C. Huggins, of the McMinnville Oregon Fire Relief Association, was over here Monday to adjust the loss on Wm. Peart's residence last Friday. The amount of damage there was $288.45. To suffer a loss Friday and get the insurance Monday was as quick action as we ever heard of on the part of an insurance company.
Mrs. Brown at Health Resort

Wm. Brown has received word from his wife, who with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Beulah Nosler, went out to McCredie Springs a couple of weeks ago, that the springs there are proving very beneficial to their health. Mrs. Brown has been suffering more from rheumatism lately while Mrs. Nosler went for her asthma. The springs are located about 60 miles from Eugene on top of a mountain, with cottages and a hotel for the accommodation of visitors, and many remarkable cures of rheumatism are credited to the efficacy of the baths and water.

All Children Invited
Rev. W. S. Smith, of Bandon, is going to preach at the Presbyterian church here Sunday, March 6, both morning and evening. The service at 11 a. m. will be for the children and it is hoped not only that all the children at the Sunday School will remain to hear it, but that all other children who can possibly do so will be there to enjoy it.

It would be interesting but probably uncomfortable to be in Washington today and see the inaugural parade and the transfer of the government from a democratic to a republican administration.
It's like picking up money in the street to get the Oregon Farmer every week for a year at only 15 cents when subscribing for the Sentinel.

Jackson Road Breaks Up
Commissioner Tooham, whose recent southern trip extended as far as Tennessee and Alabama, reports finding unexpected road conditions down in Dixie. He inspected what is known as the Jackson highway, a wagon road built half a century ago and added to since that time until the broken rock of which it is composed had acquired a thickness of two feet. As long as traffic on this road was moved entirely by horse power, it stood up well and was considered a model in its way. But when heavily loaded motor trucks came to be driven over it at greater speed, the road began to break up until at the present time it has become impassable for trucks, and joy riders have to pick their way very carefully to get over it. Indeed, he says, it is full of chuck holes from which it requires more than their own power to extricate either cars or tractors.

Death of W. C. Guerin
W. C. Guerin, a brother of Theo. Guerin of Myrtle Point, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. E. A. Folsom, of this city, died at Bakersfield, California, last Monday from tuberculosis and was buried at the Presidio yesterday. Mr. Guerin was an old Coos county boy, having lived at Eckley and Myrtle Point until about 14 years ago. He had in recent years been a government surveyor, doing a great deal of that work in Alaska, as well as in California, Florida and elsewhere. Most of the older residents of the Coquille valley knew Watt Guerin and will regret to learn of his passing.

New Equipment Coming In
Earl W. Gates, of the Coos & Curry Telephone Co., was over from Marshfield Wednesday. He says that the company expects to put a man to work the first of next week installing the equipment for the new exchange which is now coming in.
They also expect to tear down the old dwelling alongside their new building, which they have been using as a warehouse, and build a new warehouse with a concrete floor at the rear of their new exchange building.

Mrs. Getz Entertains
On Wednesday evening Mrs. H. C. Getz delightfully entertained the junior "500" club and a few other guests. After playing six tables Mrs. Hal Pierce and Mrs. C. E. Price were found to have made high score for the evening and were awarded beautiful handmade prizes. The living rooms were artistically decorated with yellow daffodils. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Clay Knowlton, served an elaborate two-course luncheon.

Appreciates Home Paper
In ordering a change in the address of the Sentinel sent him at Oakland, Cal., Kenneth P. Lawrence, a son of Recorder J. S. Lawrence of this city, says: "I am moving into my own home and I would miss the weekly visit of the home town paper very much—as it gives me the news of all my old friends and is like a letter from them."

Father McDevitt's Birthday
Rev. Father McDevitt was over here last Sunday, and was given a complimentary dinner by his parishioners here, in the basement of Leo J. Cary's residence, in honor of his seventieth birthday. The event was also celebrated in Marshfield the following day, when Mr. Cary went over.

Now Behind the Bars
This morning we found Lee Goodman behind the bars in the court house annex, where he is temporarily discharging the duties of turnkey. Whether he or C. C. Evland, who has for the past two years filled that position, will be permanently retained is as yet undetermined.

Rebekahs to Meet on 9th
All members of Mamie Rebeckah Lodge No. 20 are requested to be present at the next regular meeting of the order, Wednesday, March 9th. Initiation of a large class and a banquet are scheduled. Visiting members are invited. Mrs. Beatrice Getz, Sec.

Mar. 4—Leslie C. Pullen, of Marshfield, and Ida C. Johnson, of Bandon.
Mar. 4—Harry Lenhardt and Mert Gentry, both of Marshfield.

Murder Trial Next Week
The Stephens murder case will probably be tried the first of next week and is expected to consume about three days, as getting a jury which knows nothing about the case will not be a quick job.

Judge Wade As a Solicitor
Judge Wade was called upon to accept the role of Solicitor last Monday in deciding who was entitled to a baby. The little girl is the daughter of Mrs. Bernice Holmquist, who was in the Vander plant here. She had been deserted by her husband and formerly lived at Powers and had left her baby there in the care of Ruby Morrison, whose name at least is not unfamiliar to Coos county newspaper readers.
Complaint was made to Judge Wade by parties who objected to Ruby as a foster parent and the child was given into the care of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hodson, of Coos River.

Knows Nothing of Agreement
Referring to the statement, credited to Senator Hall in an interview elsewhere quoted from a bay paper that there has been a "new agreement" between the state highway commission and the county court of this county in regard to the construction of roads in this county, Judge Wade says he knows nothing of any such agreement. He only knows that when the court told the commission what they were expecting the state to do, they got no definite answer, being told merely that to do so much for Coos county would leave other counties short or words to that effect.
The "new agreement" referred to was stated to be in regard to making a 50-50 division of the expense of the road up the Coquille Valley from Bandon to beyond Myrtle Point, for about $300,000 worth of work.

That Resold Car
The Geo. Malanson vs. Ernest Barnum automobile case, which is to go to trial today involves a claim for an interest in a car which Barnum had sold to Malanson, paying him $850 of the $1050 price. For some reason Malanson turned the car back to Barnum to be resold. It was sold again all right and Malanson now claims that all that Barnum received for it beyond the $200 still owing by him on the purchase price should be turned back to him, about $800 being involved. Quite naturally Barnum does not see it that way, auto dealers not being in the habit of selling machines without compensation. So a jury will have to wrestle with the problem of making a fair division between them.

Sand Pit Suit For $4,000
The case of E. H. Metcalf against Perham, Brown, Dean and Hague, which has been on trial in the Circuit Court here for the past two days involves a sandpit on South Slough. The defendants who were then the contractors on Coquille-Marshfield road paving had taken over the pit to get material for the work, and had possession of it but for three or four days when the state highway engineer decided that the sand there did not come up to the specifications and could not be used. Now Metcalf is suing for $4,000 claimed to have been spent in work on the sand pit to put it in the condition in which he turned it over to Perham and his partners.

Mrs. Pierce Entertains
Mrs. Hal Pierce entertained the "500" club with many additional guests Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ed Lorenz carried off the honors in the club and Mrs. H. N. Butler had high score among the guests. The hostess served a dainty and very appetizing lunch at the conclusion of the cards. Again the same evening Mrs. Peirce entertained a number of ladies at "500" and Mrs. Butler excelled her afternoon score and was the recipient of a deck of cards as a reward for the best playing. Mrs. Perrot was consoled with a lovely little vase of flowers.

Marking Time This Morning
We found the Circuit Court marking time this morning, owing to the shortage of jurymen. One jury was out in the case of Metcalf vs. Perham et al, involving a sand pit on South Slough; and the box could not be filled for the Malanson-Barnum automobile case until the former jury comes in, because only eight more jurymen were present.

Moose Chooses Officers
The Local Order of Moose held their annual election of officers last night, the following being chosen: Dictator—J. D. Bell. Vice Dictator—Jerry Peart. Prelate—Leslie A. Schroeder. Secretary—Earl Schroeder. Treasurer—Don Burr. Trustees 3 years—C. E. Young.

Judge Coke Did It First
The Sentinel was not quite up-to-date on the subject of clearing up the docket in this county. Judge Coke here had already made the rule that cases on which no action had been taken for a year must be stricken from the docket; and Judge Hamilton, of Roseburg, had merely followed his lead in adopting the same rule in Douglas county.
Hemstitching
Prompt attention given to mail orders and I will pay the return postage. 12 1/2 cents per yard. "Thread furnished." Anna Morrison, Coquille.
