

McKINLEY SCHOOLS

On Saturday, March 6th, McKinley Grange held a special meeting to plan their program of Farm Bureau work. C. C. Farr and Miss Mabel Kalbus were present and Mr. Farr gave a talk on what the Farm Bureau is and what it is doing. Following this, Miss Kalbus talked on the farm woman work in connection with the Farm Bureau. Lunch came next and after that was taken care of Mr. Farr held a meeting out side on the porch and the following projects were taken up: Pest project—Henry Egnon. Market project—I. J. Bennett. Purple Vetch—Hugh Lawhorn and A. L. Brown. Live stock—A. L. Brown. While this was being carried out, Miss Kalbus was holding a ladies' meeting in which the following projects were adopted: Clothing—Mrs. Arthur Brown, leader. Home Conveniences—Mrs. Leah Lawhorn, leader. Hot lunch for school children—Mrs. Wilcox, leader. After this work was finished Mr. Whaley, president of the Oregon Guernsey cattle club spoke. His talk was very fine and will long be remembered by all who heard it.

Two other visitors were also heard from. Mrs. H. W. Young, from Coquille, expressed her pleasure at being able to attend our meeting and also Mrs. Jessie Crans, from Kansas, who is visiting Mrs. Young, was glad she came and expressed her pleasure in the day's program. At a late afternoon hour we adjourned and each one went to their several homes, all better men and women for our association together.

Frank Snow received the sad news of the death of his father at Santa Ana, which occurred Feb. 7th. Grandpa Snow, as all McKinley knew him, made his home with us here about 18 years ago. He owned what is now the Lee Mast farm, which he sold in a few years to the present owner and he and Grandma Snow, who was alive at that time, moved to California. He made several trips back to Coos county and lived for awhile in Coquille. In 1909 he moved again to California, where he resided up till the time of his death, Feb. 7, 1921.

Mr. Blair left for Seattle this week for a ten days' visit with his son. Mary Bennett and sister, Mrs. McDowell, were home over Sunday this week.

The McKinley Sunday School is planning a short program for Easter. Lynn Snow was a Coquille visitor Saturday.

Send Japan No More

Andy Davis, who came over from the Bay Tuesday morning to visit Coquille and Bandon on one of his regular inspection trips, says that the chief work in this section is inspecting white cedar.

"And a peculiar thing about it," continued Mr. Davis, "is that nearly every foot of it is being purchased by Japan. I don't like to see it, either, for I think one of these days some cedar is coming back to us to plague us in the form of war planes. The proprietor of one small mill on the Sixes river, whose orders are direct from Japan, says the specifications are rigid for clear, straight grained wood and that means airplane stock." "When I go to congress," Andy concluded, "I will have a bill passed prohibiting exportation of white cedar to Japan."—Coos Bay Times.
