SCHOOL NOTES

The class of underweights in the Primary Building experienced very pleasant visits last Tuesday morning from Miss Lane, of the Oregon Agricultural College, and Miss Kalbus, Home Demonstration Agent for Coos county. These visits were made in the interest of the official duties and the ladies took advantage of witnessing the little people enjoy their mid-forenoon refreshments of whole milk taken through straws. At the close of the period Miss Lane talked to the children about the need of bringing their weight and height up to normal, and how this can be done by the use of wholesome food at regular intervals, plenty of fresh air and going to bed not later than eight o'clock each night. Moving picture shows were out of the question on school nights after Miss Lane and the children had completed their discussion and they are now arranging to keep a chart to record each week of loss or gain. Miss Kalbus is kindly preparing these individual charts, which have been found successful incentives in other schools.

Visitors—Mr. Robert Holverstott, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Katherine Hansen. Miss Fitzgerald spent last weekend at Hauser visiting Mrs. Harvey May, formerly Miss Gladys Howard.

True and False Hunger

Sometimes appetites become so perverted that it is hard to distinguish between true and false hunger. The true appetite may be recognized by a feeling that the food is going to taste good. That gnawing, burning, all-gone sensation in the stomach is often due to an inflamed mucous membrane caused from indigestion. Better than to add more food, no food should be taken for several meals. In the mean time water should be taken freely and the stomach given complete rest.

The following may have a familiar ring to some folks:

A Boy's Stomach

What's the matter with you, ain't I always been your friend?
Ain't I been a partner to you, all my pennies don't I spend Getting nice things for you? Don't I give you lots of cake?
Say stummick, what's the matter that you have to go and ache?

Why, I loaded you with good things yesterday, I gave you more Potatoes, squash an' turkey than you'd ever had before,
I gave you nuts and candy, pumpkin pie and chocolate cake,
An' last night when I go'd to bed you had to go and ache.

Say, what's the matter with you, ain't you satisfied at all?
I gave you all you wanted, and you was hard just like a ball,
An' you couldn't hold another bit of puddin', yet last night
You ached mos' awful, stummick, that ain't treatin' me just right.

I've been a friend to you, I have, why ain't you a friend o' mine?
They gave me castor oil last night because you made me whine.
I'm awful sick this morning, an' I'm feelin' mighty blue,
Beoz you don't appreciate the things that I do for you.

House Burned Monday

The six-room house belonging to Mrs. Eli Dean and occupied by John Hurley, on the Fairview road just around the point of the hill north from the Watson ranch, was destroyed by fire at 8 o'clock last Monday evening. Mr. Hurley was down at Cedar Point at the time loading cattle and when Mrs. Hurley discovered the flames breaking through the roof it was too late to put it out. She and the children and a neighbors saved all the household goods on the lower floor but lost what was in the bedrooms upstairs. How the fire started will never be known for it originated about 25 feet from the chimney in the attic. The most likely explanation is that rats had carried matches up there and had ignited them when they bit the sulphur as several wood rats were seen to run from the building. Mr. Hurley has not yet got into communication with Mrs. Dean to learn whether the house was insured or not. His goods were not.

The house stood about 300 yards back from the road and could hardly be seen on account of the brush and trees except from across the Cunningham valley at the McCurdy place.

Douglas County Commise Across

Douglas county is not going to prove a slacker in road work nor will our road to Roseburg fall for lack of enthusiastic support on the part of our neighbors to the east. At a meeting of the County Court of that county at Roseburg last Saturday it was decided to call an election on a $450,000 road bond proposition, which will make the bonded indebtedness of that county on road account a full million dollars.

In order that work may start on the Camas valley section of the Coos Bay highway, it was advised that the county court turn over to the highway commission $45,000 of the former bond issue and that an appropriation be made from the general fund to meet the present demands of the commission. This would suffice until the election.

The Roseburg News-Review telling of the meeting, says:

"Work on the Drain-Reedsport highway, the connecting up of Glendale, Riddle and other towns to the Pacific Highway and the completion of the Coos Bay highway are included in the road construction plan formulated this morning at a meeting of the county court with members of the Douglas County taxpayers league and the Chamber of Commerce. It is proposed to issue $450,000 in bonds, preferably short term bonds. Of this amount approximately $125,000 would be used in matching the highway commission in completing the Coos Bay highway to link up with the coast highway from California, and the remainder would be used to complete connecting roads from Glendale to Riddle to the Pacific Highway, for the Drain, Reedsport highway and for other permanent construction work.

"The meeting held this morning was very enthusiastic over the prospect. The gathering was called by the county court, which did not desire to initiate a bonding measure without first discussing the matter quite thoroughly with representative organizations. The meeting was attended by a large number of representative men from the Taxpayers League and the Chamber of Commerce and the plan was thoroughly discussed."

Gravel Ford Items.

H. E. Brown, of Marshfield, has purchased the home of Guy Wilburger, part of G. G. Swan's place on the Coquille river at Gravel Ford. It is understood that Lucien P. Brown, his son, has leased the place for one year and will reside there. The parents will make this their home later on.

Danny O'Meely is visiting at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Kely.

Mr. Riggles gave a very splendid sermon at the Gravel Ford church last Sunday.

Little Miss Elinor Bruner is visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Pinkston.

Miss Alice G. Banbury, who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks, is again able to resume her duties of teaching school.

Mrs. Knenick, teacher of the Shiloh school, district No. 48, enjoyed a visit from her husband and brother last week end.

Mrs. T. G. Sumerlin has been on the sick list for the past few days.

Mr. Riggles spent Saturday evening with T. G. Sumerlin and family.

Alice Banbury spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. E. J. Casebeer.

Mrs. T. D. Hockema is enjoying a visit from her brother.

Andrew Cotton has been quite busy sawing wood in this vicinity for the past few weeks.

Mrs. E. M. Clayton, who has been sick for the past two weeks, is very slowly improving.

Mr. Waters, the eye-glass man, passed through this country Sunday.

Don't forget the Easter sermon and basket dinner at the Gravel Ford church house Sunday, March 27th. Everyone invited to attend.

Charles H. Kroeger, the McNess traveling man, was seen in this territory the middle of the week.

Little Helen Detwiler is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. T. G. Sumerlin.

Paving on Marshfield Road

"So near and yet so far." That paving the Scandia company has begun at the Burkholder corner about three blocks north of this office unfortunately is going in the wrong direction, and we have no intimation when, if ever, the mudhole alongside this office will be obliterated, or "spurious versunket," as the Hun instructions to their naval commanders sometimes read.

Didn't Want It Known

We met a beamingly happy pair in the County Clerk's office one day not long ago. They had just secured a license to travel life's highway together, but waylaid the reporter with a request to "keep it out of the paper for a week." As they gave no reason for the plea the news was not withheld from our readers.

Quaker Heat is Quicker Heat —and Cleaner too

The Quaker Pipeless Furnace is built of heavy riveted boiler plate steel—and steel radiates heat three times as fast as cast iron. That is why Quaker heated homes are always so comfortable on cold mornings. Just open the draft and up through the Quaker Register pours an enormous volume of warm, pure, clean air. Before you buy a furnace, find out about the

"The Pipeless Furnace that is built of Steel"

It not only gives you quicker heat but more of it from the same fuel. Every corner of every room is warmed thoroughly. It's cleaner too because every joint is riveted tight like a steam boiler. Can't leak gas, soot or ashes like the common joints of cast iron furnaces do. Fire pot is lined with high temperature fire bricks. Hold heat extra long. Won't crack nor leech out. Handy water filler outside of furnace keeps air moist and pure. The Quaker is the ideal heating plant for homes, schools, churches and stores. Easily and quickly installed in any old or new building.

Beauty or Abundance?

Which is more important to the farmer, a strain that produces beautiful individual specimens or one that gives an abundant yield of consistent good quality? Do you want blue ribbons—or bushels per acre? A new way of judging farm produce is described in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

A. R. Rice tells of agricultural exhibits where corn, for example, is judged on its germinating and producing qualities—not on its good looks. It sounds like a sane idea.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is the business farmer's weekly —It is edited to help make the farm pay. And a strain of corn or of hogs or of beef or dairy cattle that produces the yield that brings in the profit is the strain that it pays the business farmer to grow. This national service weekly of progressive farm methods always reports to its 800,000 prosperous readers the developments and improvements that will show on the farm bank account. Every week it brings a helpful and inspiring message—on each Thursday of the next 52 weeks it will visit you—if you send me just $1.00 today.
