WHEN SUBSCRIPTIONS EXPIRE

The figures following the date of the month on your paper or label are for the year only. Thus "Jan. 31" means "January 1, 1931" and "April 31" means "April 1, 1932." The Sentinel has no expiration dates except on the first of some month. It saves so much time in bookkeeping to have only 12 expiration dates in the entire year, instead of three hundred and sixty-five that we are glad to give you one, two, or three free papers, if need be, to have it that way. Your subscription for the Sentinel, if it does not expire February first, will expire March first or on the first day of some succeeding month.

Only Two in Jail Now

The county jail is a rather lonesome place now, only two people being detained there. They are Orval Anderson and John Galli. It is a combined case of "woman and wine" so to speak, Anderson being held for assault and Galli on a booze charge. More people are expected to register with the sheriff soon.

Chief of Police

A big scandal has developed at Marshfield involving City Marshal John W. Carter and the wife of Loyal Neish. Carter was badly beaten up by Neish at the latter's home when he returned in the evening and found the officer there.

Absent Tribbey, night officer, testified to having slipped into the house after he saw Carter enter and heard incriminating remarks, while hidden.

Carter denies all the charges made and he and his friends claim it is a frame up. The woman in the case was formerly Mrs. Eva Lapp.

The gist of Mrs. Neish's testimony in this case we clip from the Times, as follows:

She claimed that the night of the trouble Carter had stopped her at the entrance to her home and made some remark, but that she went on in and did not notice that Carter followed her in until she saw his reflection in her mirror.

She said he said he had "come up to talk to her and love her a little." She told him to get to out of there.

She said that he walked on in and locked the door. She said he put his arm around her and they scuffled for fifteen or twenty minutes, until her husband appeared.

She claimed they fought hard and that she successfully resisted him. She said she broke her watch chain into a "hundred pieces."

On cross examination, she admitted to City Attorney Brand that she made no outcry. Mr. Brand wanted to know how much longer she would have struggled without calling for help in a situation like that, and she said she would have soon called. She said that in the struggle they did not bump into the bed, the dresser nor the stove.

Mr. Brand evidenced a desire to show that if Carter had attempted to mistreat her that Night Officer Tribbey, who had testified that he was in a bathroom a few feet distant, would have been able to hear it and Tribbey had testified that he did not hear any struggle or outcry.

Yesterday was the third day of this trial and the case was closely argued by City Attorney Brand for Marshal Carter and by E. Lothard McClure for Neish.

The jury was out less than an hour when it brought in the following rather cryptic verdict:

"We, the jury, duly empaneled in the case of the City of Marshfield vs. Loyal Neish, do hereby find and return, this, our verdict, and say we find the defendant, L. Neish not guilty."

"We hereby exonerate J. W. Carter, but under the circumstances recommend that the city officials of Marshfield make a general housecleaning in the police department." (Signed) L. S. Kaufman, foreman, J. Lee Brown, Hugo Quist, Jas. Rolandson, F. W. Rehfield, and D. C. McCarty.

Economy Carried to Excess.

A short time ago, on seeing a man who was sitting beside me in a cafeteria "get away" with a large hamburger sandwich in three bites, all "mind your own business" policies were cast aside and I remarked, "You must intend to catch an out-of-town train; you are in such a hurry."

He came back with, "Oh, no. You see every one's stomach requires a certain amount of meat and it is known that by gulping it it takes longer to digest. As meat is high I eat this way and by so doing I have to eat meat but every third day."—Exchange.

"Should women smoke?" asked the man who likes to theorize.

"That isn't the question any longer," said Mr. Gadspur.

"No?"

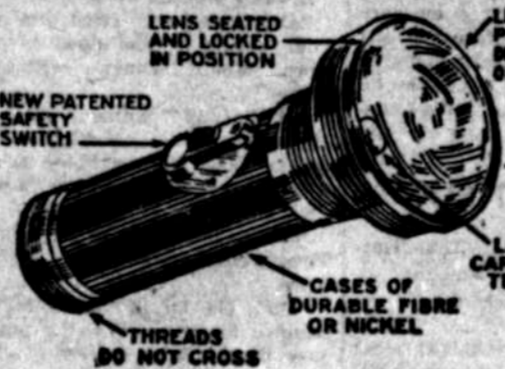

"What we've got to decide now is whether or not the additional fire risk caused by women smokers will justify the insurance companies in raising their rates."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Calumny in the Calendar.

"Do you regard Friday as an unlucky day?"

"Most assuredly any day with such a bad reputation is unlucky, whether it deserves it or not."
