Arage High Blagant List

Editor Sentinel:—In reading over the "complete" list of Coos County 8th grade graduates, as published in the Coos Bay Times, also the Coquille Sentinel, copies of which I have before me, one is almost led to wonder if the Arage Consolidated school, with a list of 16 graduates, and which is so completely left out, is really a part of Coos county, or has Arage dropped off the map? We will assume, however, that it was an oversight on some one's part and not intentional, that we have been so completely ignored in this list.

On the evening of June 11th under the leadership of Miss Hazel Rada-baugh, as teacher of the Intermediate grades, an eighth grade graduating exercise was held at Arage, as mentioned previously in the Sentinel. With Mrs. Eva Tracy at the piano, it was a pretty sight, when the 16 successful eighth grade graduates searched in and took their places before the audience, amid the applause of a well packed house. The exercise was opened by prayer by Rev. E. L. Woodward; several songs were rendered by the school, a piano and violin solo by Mrs. Eva Tracy and Arthur Ferrier, a reading, "Aunt Eleanor's Hero," by Miss Flossie Rada-baugh were given. Mr. C. E. Mulkey, county school superintendent, was present, also Rex Dallas, of the Christian church at Coquille. Mr. Mulkey, in addressing the audience, spoke very commendably of the wonderful work done in this school, mentioning the fact that in going over the records, he found that this was the largest number of 8th grade graduates of any rural school in the past three years in this county. After a few more brief but very encouraging remarks he then introduced Rex Dallas, Christian minister, who also gave a splendid address. Among other things he encouraged the graduates to press on to greater achievements, mentioning the fact that this was only the stepping stone to lives of greater usefulness. His address, delivered in his pleasing and inspiring manner, was certainly enjoyed by all.

Mr. Joe Lett, as chairman of the board, then presented the diplomas, which were gladly received by those who had labored so faithfully in some cases under such trying circumstances to obtain them. After presentation of the diplomas the class was almost "smothered" with flowers, one party, Mrs. Walter Schroeder, herself contributing a large clothes basketful, including a lovely, big bunch of calla lilies to each of the class. Following are the names of those who were successful, either by exemption or state examination: Edyth Woodward, Arthur Ferrier, Alfred Cornwell, Wen-

Whole Family Hurt

A near fatal accident occurred near the Yeakam place on the Marshfield highway Monday morning, which resulted in injuries to all the eight occupants of Fred Adams' car, serious enough to put them all in bed. The buckling of the front wheel of the Ford turned the car into the bank which was there so steep that it turned over backward and threw all its occupants on the pavement.

Fred Adams, the driver, had a scalp cut and one ear almost torn off. Mrs. Adams was crushed under the car and badly bruised. Irene Adams, their four-year-old daughter, was cut on top of her head. Mrs. Kate Adams, the driver's mother, had two ribs broken and her arm skinned from the elbow to the wrist. Mrs. Maude Davis, a sister of the driver, received scalp wounds and bruises. Her daughters, Lena Davis and Hazel Davis were both hurt, the latter, who is only four years old, having struck the pavement so hard as to cause concussion of the brain. Mrs. Kate Davis, mother-in-law of the driver, was cut about the head and body and had one eye badly hurt. It was at first feared Hazel Davis had been fatally injured but an X-ray examination showed that her skull was not broken and in the afternoon she was pronounced out of danger. The driver, with one ear dangling, really seems to have been the worst hurt.

Two in Coquille Valley

During the three months ending July 1, State Engineer Percy A. Couper issued 125 permits to appropriate water in this state. Two of them were from the Coquille Valley, as follows:

To S. H. Clinton, of Bandon, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed tributary of Coquille river for domestic water supply.

To W. G. Shields, of Coquille, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed spring, tributary of Coquille river, for domestic use.

The Columbia River Highway

RED CROWN GASOLINE

The Gasoline of Quality

THE remarkable engineering skill which built the Columbia River Highway opened a veritable paradise for motorists.

This highway follows the Columbia River from the Pacific Ocean—near Astoria—as far east as The Dalles, and leads the tourist through a country of indescribable scenic interest—high waterfalls, huge rocks, picturesque woods—an ideal vacation land for the motorist who appreciates nature at its best.

And on your travels along the Columbia River Highway you can always get "Red Crown," the gasoline of quality—an all-refinery gasoline with a continuous chain of filling points.

Look for the Red Crown sign before you fill.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarette aftertaste.

It's Camels for you.
