EAST FORK NOTES

Saturday Mr. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs.
Jones and three children came in from Klamath Falls with a four horse team outfit and a saddle horse, bound for Coquille. Mr. O'Brien was in the Yukon country at Dawson eight years and Alaska, at Fairbanks, 12 years.
He knows it both ways the ups and the downs and the downs and the ups of Alaska and a fire in the timber of Washington that cleaned him out of his last stake made in Alas.

Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. Epperson and three children, of Seattle, and Portland, who have had a week's outing in Coos county, camped at Mountain Glade on their way out over the mountains. This is their first camping trip. Mr. Epperson is traveling salesman for Brace & Co., wholesale novelties of Seattle. While the others were on vacation, he did business and vacation when in camp, and they all seemed to be happy on the job, and enjoying the scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiston and son, George Whiston, and E. M. Suiter, of Looking Glass, came in Monday bound for the beach. It will be Mr.
Suiter's first view of the ocean.

Mr. Rose, of Roseburg, is visiting his son, Will Rose, and Mrs. Rose.

The newspaper report that told of Mayor Baker, of Portland, and a lot of other guys answering a summons to meet at a certain place and there found they were "summoned" in the interest of the Ku Kluxers, shows them up as having more unoccupied time than they have of occupied brains. If they did not have the sand to strip the sheet off from those "100 per cent Americans," why did they not have the good sense to get out instead of listening to the extolling blab of thugs and murderers.

er both for $2.15 a year.
