If the prisoners in the county jail want to get out and enjoy the fresh air and freedom to move about, they will have to stop trying to run away, is the decision of Sheriff Ellingsen. He will keep them locked up at any rate until the county court passes on the question whether it is willing to employ guards to watch them while they work.

The Lows Entertain

Last Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Low entertained a party of their friends, both ladies and gentlemen, very pleasantly. The decorations were autumn leaves. Music was furnished by Mrs. E. L. Perrott, who played delightfully.

Cards were the principal amusement, there being nine tables. L. P. Branstetter and Mrs. J. S. Barton won the high scores and the consolation prizes went to Mrs. H. C. Getz and H. W. Pierce. Delicious refreshments were served and all enjoyed a wonderful time.

Return from Twin Falls

Dr. and Mrs. V. L. Hamilton returned last Friday from their auto trip to southern Idaho and the doctor left again that evening for Portland returning Monday morning. He was very favorably impressed with the irrigated section around Twin Falls but says he has no immediate intention of forsaking the cool climate of Coos county for the heat of that desert section, although it is a beautiful country, where the water is applied to the land.

Only 25 Miles an Hour

When the case against Jay Carter, one of the Coast Auto Line drivers, for exceeding the speed limit on the Coquille-Marshfield highway, came up in Justice Joehnk's court at Marshfield yesterday, the company contested the case on the ground that it was unjust discrimination for the county to restrict busses to 25 miles an hour when the state law permitted owners of private vehicles to run 30 miles an hour. The justice overruled this demurrer, deciding that as long as all for hire busses came under the same regulations the rule was legal. In conclusion he said:

"The traffic regulations passed by the county court and county commissioners of Coos county, Oregon, on the 26th day of July, 1921, in the regulating of motor passenger and freight vehicles upon public highways of Coos county, Oregon, are reasonable, constitutional and valid. Therefore, the demurrer of the defendant to the complaint is and the same is hereby overruled."

Myrtle Point's Big Well

Work on the city well at the foot of Alder Street, which was begun some time ago, is progressing nicely. The well is now twelve feet in diameter and about twelve feet deep, and is being curbed with two inch plank as it is dug. They are figuring on digging it down to bed rock, and the water is already running in pretty fast but they manage to keep it clear.

The completion of this well will mean a great deal to Myrtle Point as it is expected it will furnish an adequate supply of pure water at all seasons of the year and we will not have to depend upon impure river water as we have in the past during the summer months.—American.

Stakes Set for Dredging

D. L. Buckingham, engineer for the Coquille drainage district No. 11, set the stakes in the slough for the dredging from the North Bank road to the Beaver Hill trestle on Monday. McLeod Bros. will begin work on the slough in a few days. They are at present finishing up the dyke near Pitts Point, which is known as project No. 3.—Times.

Coal Mine Leased

There has been filed for record in the office of the county clerk a lease of the property of the Riverton Coal & Development Company, which is located at Riverton on the Coquille river. W. T. Alpine leases the property for twenty years with the privilege of mining coal and is to pay the owners a royalty of 25 cents per ton.—Bandon World.

Hallowe'en Dance Oct. 29

The Hallowe'en dance to be given by the Woman's Club Saturday, Oct. 29, promises to be one of the most enjoyable as well as novel dances that has ever been given in Coquille. Unique favors are to be given and all dance lovers know that the music will be the best when it is said that Mrs. Eula Perrott's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

New Machine at Laundry

A. L. Simpson has recently installed a new washing machine, fifty per cent larger than those in use before, and a new extractor of a better type. This latter machine attains a velocity of 1500 revolutions per minute and when flat work comes from it the clothes are dry enough to mangle. This increase in equipment at the laundry was necessary to take care of the increasing volume of business which comes here from up and down the river and from the local customers.

Who Else Could It Be

Arbuckle has entered a plea guilty in the case in which he is charged with killing Virginia Rapp. He was the last person with her when she received mortal injuries but he did not seem to be suspicious. However, Billy Sunday says she alone was responsible. That is us of the case when a great writer cut quite a swath of time, doing more or less during the same time declaring, "Refus; it's run."
