Three Road Contracts Let

At the session of the county court on Tuesday bids were opened for three road jobs and there were seven bidders on one job, eight on another and nine on the last, indicating that labor is more abundant than it was just after the war. There was a wide range in the bids on some of the work.

The contract for the Haynes Slough road was awarded to McCulloch Bros. & Roberts at their bid of $2,500. There were two other bids between that figure and $3,000, and four between $3,000 and $4,000. The highest was $3,879.84, or about sixty per cent more than the work is to be done for.

On the Kentuck-Glasgow job the award was to A. B. Gidley at his bid of $11,230. The bids ranged from that up to $17,190, also about sixty per cent higher.

The last job was making a connection up along the Simpson park between Sherman avenue in North Bend and the ferry slip at the point. Here R. M. Weider, who was the high man on the other two jobs was the low one and got the work at $3,799.98. The highest bid here was $4,733.31 or about 25 per cent higher, the other six ranging from $3,933 to $4,635.

Coquille Wins Two Games

Myrtle Point's high school basketball team was beaten by Coquille for the second time this year when they came down here Tuesday evening. The score was 27 to 20. Coquille had the strongest team she has been able to put on the floor this season Tuesday night, Don Pierce being back in the game after several weeks lay-off with an infected finger. The boys played a good game and deserved their victory.

As it now stands the locals have a percentage of 500, having won three and lost three games. There is yet to play on the local floor games with Bandon and Marshfield, but it is not expected that these two games will change their percentage figures.

The Myrtle Point high school girls won from the Coquille girls 27 to 25; while the local boys' grammar grade team won from a similar Myrtle Point team, 21 to 7.

"Deception" Next Week

Splendor, Pomp and Fine Story has "DECEPTION," taken from the pages of history of the Sixteenth century. Distinguished by splendor of appointments, pomp, majesty and a story of signal merit. "DECEPTION," a superb Paramount picture, which will be displayed at the Liberty Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, is a veritable screen masterpiece, said to surpass any picture production presented to the American picture loving public in many years.

Dealing with the love romance of Anne Boleyn, the second wife of King Henry VIII of England, "DECEPTION" has a dramatic and appealing story that will strike a human chord of sympathy in every American picture audience. The mother love exhibited by this woman whose beauty won her a throne, has its direct appeal to the heart and every woman will respond to its cry. Henry Forten, a famous European screen player, vests the role of Anne Boleyn with a majesty and force hitherto unwitnessed in the silent drama.

The part of King Henry is portrayed with signal artistry by Emil Jennings, whose characterization of Louis XV in "PASSION" made him a stellar screen celebrity throughout Europe and America. The director is Ernest Lubitch, a Bohemian producer, who won international fame by his superb production of "PASSION." The supporting players are thorough artists and more than five thousand persons appear in the production.

Hemstitching done while you wait. Compare work with others. Satisfy your own curiosity. All work guaranteed. Prices 10 and 12 1-2 cents per yard. Mrs. Maybelle Ford's Millinery.

Mayor of Sitkum in Line

The "Mayor of Sitkum," Walter Laird, was in town this morning. He says that if he wasn't so good a friend of Chas. Hall's he wouldn't do what he is going to do—tell all the people in Brewster valley to vote for Mr. Hall for governor in May. The reason is that Louie Simpson called on representatives from every point in Coos county to make a few remarks at the Hall banquet in Marshfield, but he evidently forgot there is such a place as Sitkum on the map.

Two Speeders Fined

Traffic Officer Williams stopped Harry Kern, son of Commissioner H. G. Kern, on the highway between North Bend and Marshfield Wednesday night about midnight and ordered him to report to Justice Maybee the next day. ### Funeral of Irving Lamb

The funeral services for Irving Lamb which were held in the M. E. Church South last Saturday afternoon were attended by hundreds who came to pay their last respects to the young man and show their sympathy with his parents in their hour of bereavement. There was not a dry eye in the house as the large assemblage passed the bier of their young friend and looked for the last time on the features of one who had always had a smile and a cheery greeting for everyone.

The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous, and consisted of pillows, set pieces, wreaths and sprays of choice cut flowers.

Rev. A. B. Pendleton delivered a touching and comforting address, after which the funeral procession moved out to the Masonic cemetery, where the body was laid to rest.

New Peace Dollar Here

Out of the order for one hundred of the new "Peace" dollars of last year's mintage, the First National Bank here received ten, and they were quickly taken by those fortunate enough to get in early. On one side of this new coin is a lady's head with the words "Liberty," "In God we trust," the date, and the designer's initials. On the obverse side is the same wording as on the older coins, "United States of America," "E. Pluribus Unum," "One Dollar," and the word "Peace," in bas relief on the rock upon which perches the American eagle with an olive branch in his talons, and the sun's rays shooting up from beyond the plain.

There were only a limited number of these dollars coined last year, but when the face of the goddess has been redrawn—this one was the face of the designer's wife—and his initials removed, there is to be a larger coinage of the "Peace" dollar than was made last year.
