Postal Improvement Week

This is postal improvement week throughout the United States, and we are all invited to suggest ways in which we think the postal service can be improved.

Individually, the writer has only one change to broach so far as Coquille is concerned. That is that when the big eastern mail comes in at three o'clock the Portland dailies be put up first. Possibly all will not agree with us and some business men may prefer that the letter mail have the right of way. If the majority of the patrons of the office think that way certainly the choice of a single individual should not be considered. But do they?

To have to cool our heels in the lobby while our box catches lots of one cent letters, advertising and promotion circulars which have no interest whatever for us, is certainly not the best service for us. The days' news and not the letter mail is what we would like first.

The local question attended to we have some other things to consider. The Sentinel goes to Neligh, Nebraska—that is, one copy does. In revising our list recently the Neligh line was reset, and by a typographical error the word was spelled "Ne-light." Right away quick came a surt notice from the postal division headquarters at Omaha, "No such postoffice in the state named." Of course, that was correct. We had unintentionally varied from the spelling by adding a surplus letter. The head and front of our offending went no farther.

Some pin-headed young clerk seems to have thought it smart to show how superior was his knowledge of the spelling of the name of the Nebraska county seat. Here in the west they do not do things that way. Instead of consigning a newspaper to the waste box it is always a matter of pride to deliver every possible letter or parcel to the person addressed even if the "backing" is hard to decipher. For instance, we have more than once received mail addressed to "Coggswell," Oregon, here in Coquille. Once it was an important business letter from a middle western state, and its author finding he had got the address wrong sent a wire to correct it. There have perhaps been a hundred ways in which the name of our city has been misspelled in addressing letters sent here, but as there is no other postoffice named Coquille in the entire United States the letters generally arrived no matter how reckless the spelling—even it is in such erratic fashion as "Coak Hell," which is the exact way in which it was phonetically written on one envelope that reached here.

At Chicago, too, at the postal division headquarters they have an ignoramus, who sends us a notice ament a paper addressed to La Pierre, Mich., that there is "no such postoffice in the state named." Having information direct from the subscriber there that he is getting his Sentinel regularly at that postoffice we paid no attention to that card and shortly there comes along another to exactly the same tenor and effect.

Dr. W. H. Vose Married

Dr. Wm. H. Vose and Mrs. Flora E. Peters were married Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m., at the former's home at the Allen apartments in North Bend. Justice C. E. Maybee officiated.

Only members of the family, comprising the doctor's daughter, Miss Luigene Vose, and his brother, Fred R. Vose, were present at the ceremony.

Mrs. Peters came to Coos county about two years ago, from California, where she was raised. She is an ardent booster for North Bend.

Dr. Vose has been in the county for about the same time. He was formerly located in Coquille, and is well known in most of the county towns. Previous to that, he was located in Portland, except for the time he served with the army forces.

He only recently opened his offices in North Bend and established a residence there.—Coos Bay Times.

Logger Killed at Sumner

C. W. Upton was over here from Camp One at Sumner yesterday and told of the fatal accident which happened there Wednesday when Jacob Ames, 33 years of age, was so badly injured that he died at Mercy Hospital at four o'clock the next morning.

The unfortunate man was bucking logs, and as he sawed through the one he was working on, the upper end slid quickly, pinning his left leg between the sliding log and the butt of the one he had sawed. As the upper log slid past it took practically every bit of flesh from a point four or five inches above the knee, and tore away his foot, tendons, flesh and bones.

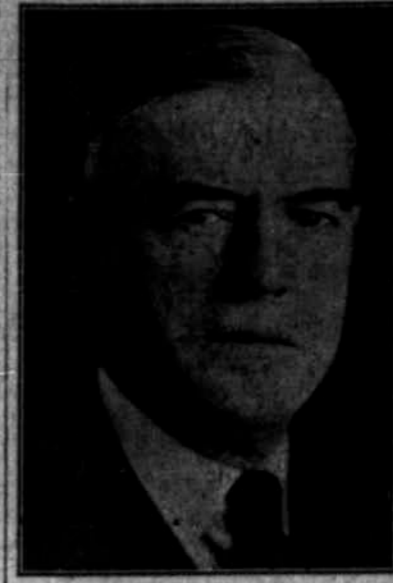

Blood transfusion was accomplished by Dr. Dix in the hope that an operation could be performed on his leg, but the shock and loss of blood was too much for him to withstand.

MAKE OREGON SAFE FOR THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

RE-ELECT

RALPH E. WILLIAMS

COMMITTEEMAN

The Only Westerner Ever Elected Vice-Chairman of the Republican National Committee

KEEP THE WEST IN POWER

The Republican National Committee consists of one member from each state in the Union and is the political organization of the party.

In June, 1921, at the Committee's first meeting after the inauguration of President Warren G. Harding, every state cast its vote for Ralph E. Williams of Oregon for vice-chairman of the Committee, recognizing by their unanimous vote his fitness and ability as a leader to fill this responsible position.

A vote for Ralph E. Williams for Republican National Committeeman will confirm the action of the forty-eight states in electing him vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, a position never before held by a Western man.

Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, as vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, is directly in line to become National chairman, the highest position attainable in the Republican organization.

A National Committeeman on the National Committee does not make or execute the laws, but carries out the policies and platform of the party adopted by the delegates at each previous National Convention.

Mr. Williams is senior member of the National Committee. Seniority in this committee gives one the same power as seniority in the U. S. Senate.

VOTE TO KEEP HIM THERE

(Paid Adv. by Committee of Republicans, C. L. Starr, Sec'y, 617 Board of Trade Bldg., Portland, Ore.)

His sufferings are described as terrible.

Mr. Ames was a resident of Myrtle Point where his mother, Mrs. Sarah Ames, lives. He also has a brother, Archie, living at Powers, and two others, Horace and Roscoe, at Myrtle Point. A sister lives in Lane county and another at Baker. The interment is to be at Myrtle Point tomorrow afternoon at 1:30.

Notice to Public

I have severed my connection with the Henderson Coal Company and will not be responsible for any debts contracted by that company after this date.

Dated May 5, 1922.

It's like picking up money in the street to get the Oregon Farmer every week for a year at only 15 cents when subscribing for the Sentinel.

Hot Ovens for Autos

J. E. Z. Fowle, cashier of the Beaver Hill Coal Co., has applied for Letter Patent for an over attachment for automobiles whereby hot coffee and a warm lunch may be prepared while motoring along, on pleasure trips, picnics, or an extended journey, says the Times.

This unique invention will be very convenient and much appreciated by those visiting our National Forests and reservations where the government prohibits the building of fires for the purpose of preparing something to eat.

Don't forget our Oregon Farmer combination in renewing for the Sentinel. You get a good deal for your money there.

10% greater power

The energy of a storage battery is generated by the action of the solution on the "paste" of the plates.

By a special formula a superior "paste" of greater energy value and cohesive qualities has been compounded for Columbia plates.

Standard size Columbia Storage Batteries easily generate 10% greater power and likewise give 10% more service. The type for Dodge cars costs only $38.00, exchange price. The size which fits 80% of all cars costs only $24.65, exchange price.
