Health Assn. Meeting

The Coquille division of the Coos County Public Health Association met at the city hall at 7:30 Tuesday evening. More than forty people were present.

A talk was made by Dr. A. J. Warren, formerly assistant state health officer of North Carolina and also a member of the staff of the international health board, who is now acting as state director in Oregon for the full time health department. He stated that the progress that had been made in the schools here in so short a time was very encouraging. Most excellent work, he said, was being done by the committee in planning hot lunches for the school children, one means for the betterment of the health of the community.

The nurses committee were reported to be progressing very favorably in the dental clinic work.

After reports of committees had been made the rest of the evening was devoted to two very instructive talks on the care of the teeth by Dr. Bunch and Dr. Reitman.

Those who missed hearing these talks are cordially invited to be present at the November meeting. The regular meeting of the association are held on the third Tuesday evening of each month.

Total Is Not Known

The only voters who are registering in the county now are new voters, who have just reached the voting age, those who have recently moved into the county and those who have changed from one voting precinct to another. So any guess as to the present political line-up of the voters based entirely on the new registration are liable to be misleading.

In an item about the registration at the bay yesterday's Times says: "W. J. Rust who took the names of those who wanted to register for the next election reported to the county clerk a total of 220 names. Justice E. H. Joehnk, who was also appointed to register voters turned in about 160. It was stated that about half of those who registered this time were republicans and the other half was made up of democrats, independents and those belonging to other parties."

Speaking with Mr. Agee, deputy county clerk, this morning about the new registration here, he says, he thinks it is running about two-thirds republicans and one-third democratic, the number of the minor parties being practically negligible.

Next week we hope to publish the full registration statistics for all parties.

Williams Has Accident

Traffic Officer Williams was thrown from his motorcycle near Delmar Tuesday afternoon when he was trailing a speeding autoist and almost got caught in a pocket between two passing cars. Mr. Williams escaped injury but Tom Smith, county truck supervisor, who was riding the rear seat of Williams' motorcycle sustained an injured leg.

J. A. Larson and E. D. Duncan were coming from Coquille in the Larson car and in the sharp turn near Delmar met the Coast Auto Lines stage bound for Coquille. As they neared each other, another machine swung out from behind the jitney and passing it almost caught in the wedge between the Larson car and the jitney. Williams was following the speeding car closely. Owing to the near collision, both the stage and the Larson car stopped abruptly. This forced Williams to turn into the embankment to avoid hitting one of the autos. His wheel overturned but he fell free and only Smith was hurt.

Never Shot Anybody

Hark Dunham has many an interesting story to tell of the six years during which he was chief of police at Marshfield. He was a good deal of an athlete at that time and quite strong and agile, so that he was always able to handle the lawbreakers there without using his gun; and he is glad to be able to say that during the time he held that position he never killed a man. He boasts, however, that he could kick the hat off from the head of a man of ordinary height at that time.

There were in those days nineteen saloons and four houses of ill fame in the bay city, and a police officer didn't have many dull days. He recalls the time when a couple of "bad men from Bitter Creek" came in boasting how they were going to run the town. They had made holy terrors of themselves at Roseburg and on the way over as a sort of diversion had shot up Myrtle Point.

He met the pair in a saloon and warned them that they must behave themselves. In a little while, however they were making a rough house there, and he found something more than talk was needed. So he went in and seized one of the two in his powerful grip and started for the jail with him. Immediately the captive's pal took a hand in the game and started for Hark ordering him to let his prisoner go and threatening to shoot him down in his tracks if he did not.

Even that didn't make the marshal pull his gun, but he waited the onrush until the fellow was just near enough and then let out one with that powerful right foot of his which broke the outlaw's wrist.

His prisoner got loose then but he secured the wounded man instead and put him behind the bars. It took about two months for his broken wrist to heal and then he got a sentence to ten years in the penitentiary.

The man first arrested made a quick getaway and was never seen at Marshfield again. Those who got up against Hark in those days speedily came to have a wholesome fear of him.

PUBLIC SCHOOL

Vote 314 x Yes

The purpose of the compulsory public school attendance bill is to insure the instruction of all Oregon children of grammar school age in a common language, a common history and common ideals, to the end that American unity shall be promoted, American ideals safeguarded and American institutions perpetuated.

This bill is proposed because its supporters believe that only by universal education of our children on standard and uniform lines can these things be achieved.

This bill proposes no religious restrictions. It contemplates no limitation of the right of the parent to teach religion to his child in his own way and according to his own belief. It raises no issue of religious difference.

This bill is purely a measure to insure that all children by attending the public schools shall be taught alike during their grammar school years, so that their outlook may grow to be a unified outlook for the common weal and for their country and its institutions.

To make an all-American nation we must have all-American instruction of our children along recognized standard lines. Ignorance of American ideals and institutions and language is the greatest menace to them, because those who do not understand them properly do not support them.
