Do Not Be Deceived

The composition of a feed on the tag does not tell of its digestibility. It may contain 25 per cent protein and yet a small percentage only be digestible to the animal.

The chemist knows and you know that, for cow feed; a mixture of wheat bran, ground corn, ground barley, ground oats and oil meals contains only the highest percentage of digestible food nutrients.

Guernsey Breeders Elated

Breeders of the "Fawn and White" in Coos county are very much elated this week to hear of the new addition to the fine herds of the county by the purchases made lately by B. O. Roberts, of the Fairview Valley, of eight head of high class females from the Calkins and Riggs farm of the Willamette Valley. Two of these cows have records of 509.76 pounds of fat, 9,839 pounds of milk; 511.31 pounds of fat and 9,552.6 pounds of milk respectively for Imp. Butter Flower 4th and Victoria's Daisy. A third cow, sired by Imp. Ivy's Masterpiece has a record of 8,975.2 pounds of milk and 550.97 pounds of fat, and two of her daughters out of Langwater Emigrant together with a third daughter of Langwater Emigrant and one of Khedive breeding make up the herd of one of the most wonderful foundation herds to ever be brought into Coos county.

The breeding of these individuals niche very closely to the breeding of the Yeksa's Khedive of Rose City, now belonging to the County Farm and with the two herds so closely located it looks as if the Fairview valley district bids fair for a Guernsey center.

The Guernsey cow is noted for her size, roidness, constitution, gentle disposition and her rich yellow colored milk.

It is reported that Mr. Roberts paid about $600 apiece for the individuals, which certainly is a very moderate price for such high class breeding. The milk of these cows is testing over 6 per cent as an average for the year.

Bought 34 Quarter Sections

Timber off 34 quarters of land in Coos county was sold last week at Roseburg to the Coos Bay Lumber company and to B. B. Chandler, who is understood to have bought for the Vaughan Logging company. The timber purchaser by the Smith-Powers company, through Carl L. Davis, was one section or four quarters, and a very handsome price was demanded, in fact, $70,000, which makes the price $17,500 for each quarter. This land and timber is situated in the district which the Coos Bay Lumber company camp on Cunningham creek two or three miles north of Coquille tops.

Mr. Chandler's buy was in the district near the head of Isthmus inlet, a few miles west of the Cunningham tract sold to the Coos Bay Lumber Co., and he purchased 30 quarter sections, for the sum of $116,000 plus.

The main feature of this sale is the fact that the buyers had to pay spot cash for the timber and the logging concerns which will cut it have only ten years in which to remove the timber.

If they fail to clear the timber away in the allotted time of ten years it may revert to the government. Sometimes, however, there are cases where the government has leniency and the time might be extended.

In addition to the regular cash payment, the buyers are assessed one-fifth of one per cent of the total for "commissions," which it is understood, is for expenses of the sale, including the advertising and duties connected with making the transfers.

National Cancer Week

The following announcement has been made:

The American Society for the Control of Cancer has designated November 12 to 18 as National Cancer Week, during which time the society will have physicians instruct the public in the causes and prevention of this disease which is claiming the lives of 90,000 people in the United States each year.

In co-operation with the public, health workers have been able to reduce the death rate from tuberculosis 50 per cent, while other diseases like typhoid fever, yellow fever, small pox, diphtheria, cholera and bubonic plague have been brought under scientific control and are no longer found in epidemic form among civilized people.

Statistics show that cancer is on the increase in the United States. Fortunately this increase can be checked by instructing the public in the early symptoms of this disease and the causes which are likely to give it a start.

The Coos County Health Association will arrange for public meetings in each town of the county during Cancer Week where the subject of cancer will be discussed by a physician and questions about this disease answered.

Everyone who possibly can should attend these meetings and learn how this disease is controlled and cured.

E. MINGUS, M. D., Local Chairman American Society for the Control of Cancer.

McKINLEY NOTES

The dance at McKinley Hall Saturday evening was well attended. Mr. and Mrs. Bangman, of Coquille, furnished the music. The proceeds are to be applied on the hall piano.

Rachel Brown was home over the week end from Coquille, where she is attending high school.

Supt. C. E. Mulkey visited the McKinley school on Thursday of last week. In the evening he spoke at a community meeting in regard to a high school. It was decided that it would be more practical to transport the students to town next year. The matter will probably come to a vote at the next budget meeting.

The McKinley school is very proud of its 100 per cent attendance record for last month. Whether the hot lunches are responsible or not we cannot say, but the general health of the school is exceptionally good.

The school is planning a Thanksgiving entertainment to be given Wednesday evening, Nov. 29th. Lunches will be served and the proceeds will go to buy equipment for the lunch room.

Dr. Straw, of Marshfield, has purchased W. H. Bunch's upper place. It is supposed that he will build a summer home.

C. M. Halstrom made a business trip to Coquille Monday.

Mrs. Royer, who underwent a major operation at Mercy Hospital, has returned to her home at Lawhorn's Camp.

EAST FORK NOTES

County School Superintendent C. E. Mulkey sent notices to the district clerk of a school meeting to be held in the school house of school district No. 22 (Dora) at 2:30 p. m., Nov. 21st for the purpose of electing three directors. K. E. Marvey, clerk of the district, also signed and posted them. Oscar Bunch, the chairman of the board, resigned on account of moving to Fairview, where he is working in McCarthy's logging camp.

Here's hoping the special road tax to be voted on at Leatherman's place in Road District No. 15 may carry. We want to go to Myrtle Point over a rock road and are willing to pay our share of the taxes to do so.

Mrs. Boyer came home from the hospital at North Bend Sunday. The ride tired her, otherwise there were no ill effects.

William Culbertson shot a coyote recently. It was in his meadow with his cattle and his sheep were in the same field.

Mrs. Wells and daughter, of Ione, Cal., are visiting Mrs. William Culbertson and family.

Mr. Springstead, of Douglas county, who is taking care of Grandma Shepherd, mother of Mrs. Al Alford and J. D. Laird, with Mrs. Albert Christensen, of the Brewster valley sawmill, was a passenger on Brown's mail stage and took in the scenery at the Bay.

Mrs. Bolander and Royer went up to Brewster Valley Saturday and went down Sunday with cattle that Bolander sold to Royer; they had been running on the Bolander ranch, which is rented by Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins.

Election did not go in every thing as I voted. But there is satisfaction for to know that when I voted for Olcott that my vote was cast for a man who is not a straddler or a trimmer of sails to the shifty winds of popularity.

It looks now that Newberry, of Michigan, will get kicked out of the senate into outer darkness, where he belongs. He and his republican ruffians shall learn the lesson that money is not the voice of God.

Good morning, Mr. Normalcy, it really looks by the national election as though the emptiness of your greedy phrase, "getting back to normalcy" had been discovered. And that the righteousness of the League of Nations exists.

Even though the boosters have won in some places, the Constitution of the United States is not a dead thing. It is alive with the rights of man as he ought to be. As he ought to be, so shall he be.

Both Papers Change Hands

A. E. Vochies, proprietor of the Grants Pass Courier, has purchased the Crescent City Courier at Crescent City, Cal. The paper is one in which Judge Childs was interested. It is announced that the management will be the same and that it will still be in charge of George Sarwell and Mrs. Linnie Duffy, who have been leaving the paper.

Recently the Del Norte Triangler, the other weekly newspaper of Crescent City, was purchased by Jack

Juss, published of the Gold Beach Reporter.

Fined $100 at Portland

A Portland press dispatch of Tuesday states that Richard Sato, export manager for the Robert Butler Lumber company, was fined $100 Monday by Judge Bean on his plea of guilty to attempting to smuggle five bottles of liquor into Portland from a company steamer moored at Marshfield. Sato is a graduate of the University of Japan and the University of Chicago.
