Broadbent Notes

Fred True's mother and father arrived Friday from the East to make their home in Broadbent. They are building a bungalow near their son's, where they will live. They spent a winter here three years ago and after trying it back in Iowa again they have decided Oregon weather is the best. We are glad to have them with us again and hope Coos will not deceive them.

Ground has been graded and gravelled for a church. Owing to the splendid weather we are having the ladies served hot dinners for the men out of doors.

Verna Hermann, who is teaching at Sixes in Curry county, spent the week end at home with her parents.

Forrest Hermann is quite sick and the neighbors are going to have a bee Tuesday to dig potatoes and pick his apples. His little son, Delose, who had his arm thrown out of place and broken, is able to have it out of the sling.

Mrs. Ed. Forrest, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

Mrs. Geo. Hermann is confined to her bed and her sister, Mrs. Agnes Furrow, from Hillsboro, is now with her.

Will Hartley met with a serious accident while pulling stumps. His horses ran away and his legs were caught in the cable, which broke a bone twice in one and bruised the other badly. He called for help and L. L. Thomas, who was passing by in his car, went to his rescue. He took Mr. Hartley to Pemberton's hospital, where the bones were set and he is doing nicely.

Dr. Glasper tested Forrest Hermann's dairy herd last week and only one reacted.

Arthur Sigway and son are here visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Neal.

A school program and basket social were given at the school house Saturday night. A very large crowd was in attendance and the proceeds were $111.60. The money is to be used for repapering and painting the building. Special music, instrumental, by Katherine Warner and solo by Mrs. John Robbins were much enjoyed by everyone. The teachers wish to thank every one for their hearty support in making the social a success.

$20,000 Fire at Powers

This is the story of the Powers fire early Tuesday morning as told in a Times' letter that day:

About $20,000 loss was caused by a fire which early this morning destroyed the Collier hotel and the buildings occupied by the Holcom pool hall and the Cochran pool hall, and for a time threatened the entire business section of the city.

Use of hose and a water tank maintained by the Coos Bay Lumber Company prevented the spread of the flames to Mrs. Kate Jackson's restaurant next door and to other buildings.

There were rooms over both of the pool halls and about twenty-five rooms in the hotel. In all fifty rooms were occupied when the fire occurred but all of the occupants were awakened in time to get out of the buildings without injury but the roomers lost all of their possessions.

Ollie Smith was in one of the rooms sick, and he was carried out on a stretcher.

The fire started about 1:30 o'clock this morning and probably from the stove used in the restaurant part of the Cochran pool hall. The flames rapidly spread to the other pool hall and the hotel. The buildings destroyed are in the block opposite the depot.

The Collier hotel was owned and operated by James Collier and the loss was about $10,000. Insurance of $5,000 was carried.

Sam Holcom owned the building in which his pool hall was located. The loss is about $5,000, with $2,500 insurance.

L. Cochran had a finely fitted pool hall and his loss is about $10,000 with $6,000 insurance.

Ben Winquist had a barber shop in the pool hall and he lost everything.

Practically nothing was saved from the buildings as the fire had made headway when the people were awakened and they did not have a chance to get anything out.

Auto Accident at Bandon

A Bandon press dispatch says that Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, elderly pioneers of Bandon about 70 years of age, were both badly injured last Friday night when their auto ran off the end of the main street and crashed to pieces on the sand flats 20 feet below.

Several saw the accident but it is not known just how it happened. It was possibly due to the windshield being clouded. Mr. Jones, who was driving, failed to turn up the hill at the end of the street and went on ahead and through the railing off the planked street, which here makes an elbow over the tide flats. The right front wheel of the auto struck the ground first and the machine was demolished.

Mrs. Jones was on the back seat. Both were quite badly hurt, it is feared, internally. Mr. Jones' chest was crushed when he was thrown against the steering gear. Both he and his wife were at once taken to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have but one child, Mrs. John Tucker, of Bandon. Mrs. Jones' father is John B. Marshall, Bandon's nonagenarian, who is about 94 years of age.

EAST FORK NOTES

Clyde Barker's car caught fire Sunday on the old Coos Bay road near the Dora school house. He was alone and got out without being injured. Considerable damage was done but the engine and some other parts are all right.

The people in Road District No. 14, Brewster Valley, had a road meeting Saturday and voted a ten mill tax to put gravel from the South Fork of the Coquille river on the road.

Jessie Laird, a twelve year old lad of Brewster Valley, went to Gravel Ford and got one of their horses, which got hurt when working on the road near Bridge.

W. C. Rose has been sort of knocked out with a bad cold for a couple of weeks, and is not in the best of health yet.

Fred Hobson went put with a bunch of cattle which he ships from Roseburg to Klamath county.

The same day a bunch was on the road for Louis Kolhagen, of Roseburg, from his ranch on the North Fork.

Last week Joe Albina received a white Leghorn rooster, which cost him $20 at the Hollywood Fair, Washington. That rooster is some bird.

A man by the name of Sea, in New York, would burn all women's colleges to the ground. He would put the women at hard manual labor, "to put in their heads some little trace of sense." You will find his statement on first page of Oregonian of Nov. 23, col. 7. He says, "of all fool things in the world I think the college for women is the worst."

I'll bet that while the women think Mr. Sea may be real pretty they know he can not see far and talks like a fool.

R. A. Easton.

Five years ago Tuesday J. H. McCloskey bought the Coquille Creamery of F. E. Conway, who had abandoned his plan to make it a condensation. Mr. McCloskey has managed this institution very successfully ever since, except for the short time it was the property of the Oregon Dairyman's League.

Having helped them finish the war with Germany both England and France, according to their former premiers, Georges Clemenceau and David Lloyd-George, are now dead anxious that Uncle Sam should take a hand in helping them make peace.

The state highway commission wants the legislature to change the laws, so that fines imposed for violation of the state traffic regulations shall be paid into the state highway fund instead of the county treasury.
