Christmas Thought

What is your program for Christmas Day?
 No matter what other things you may have in view, do not forget that the minister has a special message for you.

It is a message that has been handed down from the days of the babe in the manger—a message that is old, yet always is new—one which is precious beyond price, yet which has no price attached.

The hand that made you beckons you to church on Christmas Day.

Is there someone hereabouts with whom you are not on the best of terms?

Has some little incident estranged you?

Christmas will be a good day to forget the incident and remember the friend and neighbor.

We do not come into this world of our own volition, and our leaving will be without regard to our wishes or desires.

Life is too short to be spent in squabbles and misunderstandings.
 There is a better way.

Is there a stranger within our midst—one who has been with us but a short time, and is without close friends, and possibly with but a limited acquaintance?

Christmas may not be quite so merry for him, or her—unless we make it so.

The stranger within our gates should not be a stranger, at least on Christmas day.

Remember the poor and needy.
 Give of your substance, that there may be none without sustenance on the day of days. Christ gave his all that we might be enriched by his sacrifice. The unfortunate may be cheered by a slight sacrifice from us.

Short Snaps

It is the things we don't do that require the most explaining.

The world is full of men who will dance attendance upon a flirt and then walk up to the altar with a sensible girl.

Patching up a quarrel is poor business. It is better to make a new garment and take a fresh start.

A handsome woman commands admiration. A good one, whether handsome or not, commands respect.

Never judge a man by the front he puts up. You are only looking at the best side.

The door of hope does not swing both ways. It is wide open.

Hot air is never the result of cold deliberation.

A man with a real grievance seldom mentions it. He bottles it up and lets it work until the cork blows out.

Borrowing trouble is an unprofitable business. It is never worth the effort it takes to get it.

There would be more justice in our courts if the cases were not so often tried before the jury hears the evidence.

"Cancel the war debts," is the latest wall that comes from across the sea. It was also the first, and it will not be the last.

Some men can not resist the temptation to talk shop at a social gathering. They don't believe in paying for their advertising.

A caustic tongue leaves a sting behind, but it seldom gets its owner to the front.

Coquille's Great Asset

The advantages of Coquille's hub-like location on Coos county's highway system and its superior climatic attractions are thus cogently set forth in the Coos Bay Times Christmas edition:

Coquille, the county seat of Coos county, is so located that the city will greatly benefit by the system of highways which are being completed in this section of Oregon.
 Business interests of the city are alive to this fact and expecting a big trade through the visitors. A new hotel will be built for the accommodation of tourists and others, and it is expected that the coming year will see many advancements.

It may be regarded that Coquille is the hub of the highways. There is a paved thoroughfare between Coquille and Marshfield and toward the east the Coos Bay-Roseburg highway to Douglas county and the Pacific highway. Coquille is the central point for the automobile passenger lines and all transferring of passengers that is done takes place in the city. All of the different lines start from Coquille.

Leading from the county seat is the road to Bandon which connects on down the coast, and besides there are other roads leading out of Coquille which extend to various resort spots.

Whether tourists are coming up the coast from California, whether they are coming in by way of Roseburg or going out from Coos Bay they must pass through Coquille and it is the natural stopping place. On account of the three roads coming together at this point it becomes a terminus.

The city is prepared to take care of the visitors. There is a fine auto camp ground, and many places outside and near the city which invite campers. There are garages, and auto supply places and first class stores.

Around Coquille is a fine farming country which shows one of the best agricultural sections of the county. The city itself is a pleasant place to stop with climate which is almost ideal in the summer season.
 It is not as cool as the coast nor too warm to be comfortable, just being out of range of the ocean winds.

The highway between Coquille and Coos Bay is paved and the distance can be made in forty minutes without breaking the speed limit. The two sections of the county are in this way very closely allied.

Health Department Notes

One definite and one indefinite case of typhoid fever have been reported by Dr. Richmond to be present in Coquille. The Health Department is endeavoring to trace down the source of infection.

Meantime it will be remembered that the Army kept typhoid down to less than 1 per cent of its personnel during most of the war by means of vaccination. Vaccination is free to all at the City Hall office of the Health Department on Saturday mornings.

Two more cases of diphtheria have developed, one at Bay Park and one at Bunker Hill. The two cases were associated by direct contact. The Bay Park case, a girl of six years, very unfortunately died.

Any sore throat may be diphtheria and should be attended to, especially during the winter months. It is now possible to tell in advance whether or not one is susceptible to diphtheria by means of the Shick test. A limited number of Shick tests may be had free at the Health office on Saturday morning.

There has been a sudden increase of diphtheria throughout the whole state according to last week's report.

One case of chicken pox in Coquille has been released from quarantine.

Deepest in Country

The Beaver Hill mine is the deepest (below sea level) of any coal mine in the United States, having an inclined slope 3200 feet and the vertical distance being 1414 feet below sea level.

Considerable development work has been done during the past year in opening up the south side of the Beaver Hill mine. At the present time the number of employees is seventy, Supt. J. J. Corey states.

During the fall the market demands increased considerably and during the month of December the demand has been greater than the mine can produce, owing to the limited number of miners available.

The production has been running about 140 tons per day, but will increase during the coming month to about 175 tons. This will be sufficient to meet with the market requirements, which will gradually drop off in the spring to about twenty tons per day during the summer months—Coos Bay Times.

Prosper Notes

L. B. Hiccox was visiting a few days at Bridge last week and returned to Prosper Friday evening.

The Prosper school will close Friday for a week's vacation.

Seventeen turkeys came for Prosper Sunday from the Cochran ranch; Jack Ireland five; Jake Storm five; Jack Kegg three, Vet Shields two, Everett Slagle two.

E. E. Rorapangh, of Eugene, was a business visitor Monday.

Mrs. Heuckendorff visited Mrs.
 Axel Sanstrom and Mrs. Gerda Petersen over Sunday.

Frank Leslie, of Coquille, traveling for Wellman & Peck, was a business visitor Wednesday.

William and Merrill Hicking, who have returned from O. A. C. for their holiday vacation, were visiting their aunt, Mrs. L. Hicking, Tuesday.

E. E. Foss left Thursday for San Francisco to spend the holidays at his home there.

Songer To Be Brought Back

J. A. Songer, against whom a warrant charging larceny by baillee was sworn out, has been arrested in California, according to word received by Sheriff Ellingsen.

Songer worked at Gildishelm's store in North Bend. It is alleged that he kept money paid in at the store. At one time some agreement was made regarding a settlement, but it is alleged Songer left and the warrant was sworn out and the man located at Stockton. He will be brought back for a hearing. Songer is past sixty years of age.—Times.

Land Was in Sight

Two Scotchmen were on a raft adrift on a stormy sea. Angus knelt and began to pray.

"O Lord," he said, "I ken I've broken maist o' Thy commandments.
 But, O Lord, if I'm spared this time I promise—"

Here Andrew interrupted him.
 "I widna comsit yourself over far, Angus," said he. "I think I see land."

Cougars Near School

R. Lyle, who lives on South Twelfth street, reported Monday, says a Marshfield paper, that he had seen two large cougars at the end of the South Tenth street bridge, about two blocks west of the Marshfield high school.

It was about 9:30 o'clock and he was walking down across the street.
 The animals detected him before he saw them but they did not appear to be badly frightened. They trotted off into the brush west of the high school building.

Mr. Lyle said they were as large as good-sized dogs. He said that families should be warned as cougars will attack a person and he feared that a child might be the victim of them.

Marshal Carter this afternoon was looking for a varmint dog, intending to stage a hut for them.

What $2.15 Will Do

For $2.15 you can have the weekly visits of the Coquille Sentinel and the Oregon Farmer—52 of each—for a year.
