EAST FORK NOTES

Franklyn Leatherman returned Wednesday from a trip to the Willamette valley.

An ex-soldier by the name of Perry has filed on a piece of government land on the opposite side of the East Fork from the G. G. Swan place; said land once upon a time was called Southern Oregon land.

One of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jenkins, of Brewster Valley, has been ill but is now able to be up and around.

The fig tree on the Howe place had a bountiful crop of figs this year.

Cecil Dogger and Dick Sumerlin were moving a donkey up Steel Creek last week, getting ready to log 160 acres.

The women preachers who have been holding forth in Brewster Valley went down on the mail stage Saturday.

Last week Wednesday a man from a garage in Coquille brought one of the Bayler boys out as far as Everett Howe's place; he had no license for hauling passengers, the price was not set before leaving Coquille. At the end of the trip the charge was $10.

Bayler would not pay it. He did pay five. It is reported the man from the garage was very violent and profane in the highway, in front of Howe's and told Bayler that if he saw him lying in the road with a broken leg that he would not stop to pick him up. If he saw him in the road all cut to pieces he would not stop to pick up the pieces. That fellow must be a regular walking advertisement for a garage.

When a man pays $5- or $10- to ride 20 miles, it must be he has more money than time. As I have always been blessed with more time than money, it would be a walk for me. And count the money not paid out as wages received.

The Goldgroves of the southern part of Curry county passed Saturday with 630 head of goats bought in Douglas county near Sutherlin. It was the fifth day with goats and would take them 10 or 12 days more to get home. They run 3,000 head of sheep and have about 4,000 acres of land for the goats to browse on.

The men had their wives with them. Those who led the herd in a Buick had to have camp ready when the man and woman, who shooed the goats along caught up. It seemed to be a sort of pleasure trip mixed with business.

Governor Pierce has made a bauble of the state's prison. He stood in with State Treasurer Hoff and made a bauble of the state training school for boys. If Pierce tries to debauch the State Hospital for the Insane by firing Dr. Steiner, he surely must have less sense than his mother gave him credit for. Several years ago there was a man who tried to make political capital out of the Insane asylum but Bowerman did not get far with it.

If Pierce knows anything he knows that there is not a man in the state of Oregon who is the equal of Dr. Steiner for the job as the head of the Insane Asylum; he knows more than that, he knows in his fight against Dr. Steiner he is fighting against the best interests of the state. In other words he is not a governor, but a hollow, double-jointed, "hump-backed peanut politician trying to make it appear that his shell is full of meat. His blab about taxes and the reduction of taxes before and after election was and is a stunt in wind bubble blowing, and when he wants a change in the wind bubbles, he chases the temperature of the suds. One time he says it can be done, then he says it can't be done. You have paid our money, take your choice in the governor's bubbles for they are all the same toys whether they are blue, yellow or green.

Governor Pierce is entitled to be congratulated in his actions towards the condemned murderer, he has let them hang. It may be that he felt sure that was the only way he keep any of the state's prisoners within bounds.

If any one has doubts concerning whether the Volstead act has teeth in it, he should read Attorney General Daugherty's report to President Coolidge. The United States has taken in the Volstead net highbrows in the way of officials, lawyers, money bags and society darlings as well as those who have only the inheritance of ignorance to guide them.

Since the law went into effect January 16, 1920, more than 90,000 cases have been terminated of which there were 72,489 convictions; that fines totaling more than $12,367,660 have been assessed in criminal cases alone; that the jail sentences for the past 23 months of national prohibition total more than 3,000 years. In 80 per cent of the cases the violators were convicted. The reading of that report

Looking on the Bright Side

American Legion Weekly There had been a blowout, and the father of the family was perspiring and profanely changing tires.

"I don't see why you have to talk that way," said his wife reproachfully. "You act as if it were a total loss. You never see the good in things."

"Well, what good is there in this?" "Well, it tickled the baby so. He laughed right out loud when it went bang!"
