Near Accident in Loose Gravel

When Mr. and Mrs. John Dalen and children and Paul Dalen were returning from Bandon they came very near a serious accident. Striking the loose gravel their car tipped and went into a ditch. No one was hurt. The windshield was broken and a back fender bent. Within a half hour they had the car back in the road and were on their way again.—Myrtle Point American.

Bobbed Hair All the Go

Women with long hair will be out of luck, if the word of San Francisco milliners can be taken as a gauge, says a press dispatch.

"Present day hats are made for the bobbed-hair women," one leading milliner said. "Women who still cling to long hair will find it difficult to purchase hats large enough for them, as most chic hats are now made for women who have cut their locks. Only a few hats for women are now made in large sizes, comparatively speaking, and the best selections are to be found in the smaller-crowned bonnets. The chic woman is the bobbed-haired woman, and the world of hats revolves around her."
