Miss Skeels Complimented

Complimentary to Miss Marvel Skeels, whose marriage to Mr. Delbert Oberbauer, of Portland, is to be solemnized next Tuesday, the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church South gave a shower yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Johnson on Spurgeon Hill.

The house had been beautifully decorated in pink and little Ann Hawkins, who brought the gifts in a little pink wagon, was attired in pink. After the guests had arrived word was sent to Miss Skeels who had attended a luncheon at the C. J. Fuhrman residence, requesting her to sing a couple of numbers for the society. She gracefully complied with the request and was completely surprised when she found the event was in her honor.

Dainty refreshments were served. The list of gifts bestowed included a great variety of beautiful and useful presents. Those present were:

Mesdames—E. E. Johnson, C. T. Skeels, P. E. Drane, A. T. Morrison, S. M. Nosler, Earl Nosler, P. J. Bottom, Alex. Sandon, J. A. Lamb, E. E. Leslie, F. G. Leslie, L. A. Parr, Jennie Price, J. S. Lawrence, Dayne Hudson, J. E. Norton, Judith Collier, Warren Davis, Wm. Pearl, E. Ellis, R. H. Mast, Frank Thrift, A. B. Collier, Philip Johnson, F. G. Bunch, Geo. R. Johnson, Paul Walker, C. L. Willey, C. E. McCurdy, E. A. Wimer, I. A. Rice, M. O. Hawkins, A. A. Selander, Alfred Johnson, and Misses Marvel Skeels, Garnet Steward, Mary Esther Johnson, Mary Lou Nosler, Dorothy Bottom, Marvin and Ann Hawkins.

The luncheon at the Fuhrman home from which Miss Skeels was summoned was in her honor and also in honor of Miss Helen Murdock, of Portland, who is visiting at the Bay. Besides the guests of honor there were Misses Velma and Frances Lyons, of Marshfield, Mrs. J. Arthur Berg and Mrs. Philip Johnson, of Coquille, and Miss Esther Ramont, of Modesto, Calif.

Following a most dainty luncheon served by Mrs. Fuhrman, the afternoon was pleasantly spent with fancy work.

Another dinner was held at the C. T. Skeels residence Tuesday evening at which were present the Pi Phi members in Coos county—the sorority to which Miss Skeels belonged at U. of O. The meeting is a regular event and the members have formed a Pi Phi club, and as Miss Skeels will soon leave to make her home in Portland she invited them for a last gathering. The following enjoyed a very pleasant evening:

Mrs. Ben Fisher and Miss Emmy Lou Douglas, Lucile Douglas and Rose Maloney, of Marshfield; Miss Dorothy Byler, of North Bend; Mrs. E. E. Leslie, Mrs. L. A. Parr and the hostess, of Coquille.

L. L. S. Club Notes

Mrs. Will Myers, of Fiehrtrap, was hostess to the L. L. S. club Thursday afternoon. The ladies brought their swimming suits and enjoyed a splashing good time in the river. At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Myers, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Shull, served refreshments to the following: Mesdames A. H. Gould, Geo. Gilman, J. Hecker, C. L. Kime, E. L. Detlefsen, O. T. Nelson, W. E. Cross, W. D. Simmons, E. A. Wimer, C. Jorgensen, E. Shull, M. P. Jacobsen, the hostess, Mrs. Myers, and the guest of honor, Mrs. C. H. Shaver, of Los Angeles, who is at present visiting her sister, Mrs. O. T. Nelson.

Marshal Bluffed Him

The "Kings 1924 Revue" troupe, which showed at the Liberty Theatre a couple of times recently, was in town Saturday night. One of the men had a little too much moonshine and about the time he began to be aggressive Officer Hollenbeck collared him. The manager of the company promised to be here at three o'clock last Monday to pay the fine, but he failed to appear and about five o'clock Mr. Hollenbeck started for the Bay, where the company showed that night. Just how he persuaded them to come through the Sentinel cannot state, but when he came back he had $15 bail money, which has been forfeited to the city.

He Pleaded Not Guilty

E. A. Joslyn pleaded not guilty to a charge of using profane language on a public highway in Justice Joehnk's court. He was arrested Wednesday at Empire by Constable Walter Richardson on a warrant sworn out by W. H. Eickworth who charged that he had cursed Mrs. Eickworth. The trial was set for next Monday.

Plans are being made by the Roseburg country club for a handicap golf match between the cities of Eugene, Medford, Marshfield and Roseburg at some future date, according to the Roseburg News-Review.
