

Riverton Notes

Riverton School Notes

Mrs. Mary C. Harvey, teacher of the high school, was entertained at the home of Mrs. Shelton last Wednesday.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Harvey took the Botany class, accompanied by the Freshman's, on a field trip. They gathered many good specimens of plants, moss, ferns and fungi.

Harry Hundley, of the first grade, and his brother, Willford, of the sixth grade, entered school here Monday.

Fred Clinton, a high school student, was absent from school all last week on account of illness.

The high school is busy taking their usual six week tests this week.

Men are at work plastering the new high school and the chimney is also being constructed.

Dancers Overturned

A Ford car driven by Charles Thompson of Bay Park last Saturday night went off the road near Millington, turning over three times, slightly injured several of the occupants. None were seriously hurt and with the exception of bruises and minor cuts the entire party shared a lucky accident.

The party consisting of Mr. Thompson, Vera Moar, Leona Moar, Liljan Key, Howard Justice and a man called "Slim," was returning from the dance at Coquille when the accident occurred. Just how the car went off the grade could not be explained.

Thompson and the two Moar girls are the same ones who several months ago went off the waterfront highway at North Bend. Miss Vera Moar, who had her jaw broken at that time, received cut about the ear Saturday night—Times.

He Raised $1.00 Bills

Donald J. Ritter, 21-year-old wanderer, who was first heard of at Marshfield, where he is said to still owe a board bill, and where he passed checks without funds, was sentenced to three years at McNeil's island by Judge Wolverton for raising $1 bills to $10 money. His crimes could have brought a 60-year sentence and a fine of $20,000.

Attorney for defense told of the boy's home in Wisconsin and of his falling into evil influences. The lenient sentence was given because of his environment.—Coos Bay Times.

Hatchery Site Donated

A site for a fish hatchery has been donated to the state by Elbert Dyer, pioneer of Bandon. The tract of land is 18 acres in extent and is situated about two miles from Bandon. The gift is the first donation of a fish hatchery site in the state, according to game commissioners who have expressed thanks to Mr. Dyer.

Construction of a residence for the hatchery superintendent will start at once, the hatchery equipment already being in operation.

Brewster Valley

Walter Laird went to Coquille Saturday. Mrs. Faust and grand daughter, Helen, went with him. They all returned Sunday and Walter turned right around and went back to Coquille, so as to start for Drain early Monday morning.

Ernest Krewson got word late Saturday evening that his mother was quite low and for him to let his two brothers, Tom and Chester, know. They started that same evening for Drain but on reaching Myrtle Point found that a slide had come in the road at Sugarloaf, so they were not able to go on until some time Sunday morning.

Grandma Laird, Mrs. J. D. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laird and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Laird started the next day for Drain, going as far as Coquille the first day.

Miss Leah Parks stayed with Mrs. Ernest Krewson's kiddies Sunday and Sunday night and then Mrs. Julius Benham came up to take care of them until their mother's return.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson made a business trip to Coquille, going down and back the same day.

A surprise shower was given in honor of Mrs. Stella Crowley at her home Wednesday. She received many nice and useful presents. Those present were Mesdames Stella Crowley, Polly Nickason, Daisy Laird, Verma Laird, Parks, Moore, Beulah Jenkins and Flossie Wilson.

Mrs. Albert Christensen took Christina down to see the doctor. They went down with Mr. Brown Tuesday and returned with him Friday.

Pearly Crowley took Mrs. Jenkins and Alice down to Coquille Tuesday. The doctor found Alice's arm getting along fine but still necessary to be kept bandaged.

D. A. Moore and J. R. Benham made a business trip to Coquille Thursday.

Ernest Lamm came home Friday for a few days.

Karl Laird, Jessie Laird, Norman Laird and Elvin Alford all attended the dance at McKinley Saturday night.

EAST FORK NOTES

"Professor" Waters, the spectacle maker on the East Fork last week, went south last fall, was taken sick in Alabama and concluded that if he was not going to cash in his checks, he had better beat it back to the Pacific Coast. He is fully convinced that the Northwest is the most desirable place to live and the place where he wishes to be when he shuffles off the mortal coil. And yet he says there is a lure to the South that draws him for the winters.

Everett Howe went to Marshfield for a load of groceries, when he got back to the Lee road about two miles from the Norway school house he found a car stuck in the road and that he could not get through. He and the Conklins, who were with him, gave assistance and then turned around and came home via Fairview, getting home about one o'clock in the morning.

When the county officials were running for office why did they not about that they could not afford to take their office for the pay was not big enough. Did you hear any of them say they were sacrificing themselves on the altar of public service. There was no lack of candidates and never a word about a hoist of salaries. Did they have Dal King picked to work the derrick? It seemed to me that when the county court hoisted the pay of some deputies that they were squeezing the taxpayers without value received for the amount of money.

Is not that a great scheme of some of the state senators to work a scheme to block an inheritance tax or an income tax for 15 years in the state of Oregon. It looks as though those fellows were trying to vote grease for their own skirts. It may be possible that they grease their toboggan slide. R. A. Easton.

Broadbent Notes

Some of the Broadbent people attended the basket ball game between Arago and Coquille Saturday evening.

Everett Robbins was a Myrtle Point visitor over the week end.

Delos Hermann fell and broke his collarbone while playing at school. Mrs. E. L. Robbins gave a hot tamale party Friday night. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Root, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Breuer, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. True, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lackey and S. Breuer and nephew, Paul McNair.

Mr. Shriefer was a Broadbent caller Tuesday.

Elwyn Nelson, a sixth grade student, has blood poisoning in his hand and has been out of school this week.

Clyde Anderson is back to school after a week's absence with the flu. Naomi Roselle is still confined to her bed, slowly improving. The road patrolman is busy with his grader, smoothing up our grade. These few days of sunshine have brought the farmers from their winter quarters. They are seen shoeing their horses, sharpening their plow shares and clearing off the drift that the high water left.

The seventh and eighth grades are giving a program Feb. 24 and afterwards an old time spelling match.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rose and children visited at Mrs. Rose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Roselle's Sunday.

Iva Harry and family spent Sunday visiting relatives.

Mrs. Ernest Clausen was called to Norway Sunday to care for her sister-in-law, who is ill.

F. C. True and family spent Sunday at Gaylord.
