EAST FORK NOTES

The school entertainment and basketball social for Washington's birthday, which was to have been held in the Dora school house the evening of Feb. 21 was held at the McKinley Hall that it might be followed by a dance.

It is reported there was a good turnout, that the children knew their parts and how to handle them. The sale of the baskets at auction, with Tom Sumner, crier of the goods, was at so much per pound on weight of the owners.

The bidding on Edith Weekly, the Dora school teacher, was fast and earnest, Rob Ray and Harry Lowell bidding on after the baskets fall out of the other fellows' pockets.

Harry's bid was a party of a purse won the prize at two bits a point, and you may figure out the price of 150 pounds. Total receipts were $111.

Wilda Barker and Vernita Laird were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Barker, Wilda's parents. They returned to the school work Monday.

Mrs. R. J. Montgomery, of Bridge, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Weekly. She came out to the social and did her part by bringing a very pretty basket.

Monday being a holiday the Dora school was dismissed at ten thirty after a few recitations, stories and songs by the school.

Mr. Marcy was a visitor and gave a very interesting talk on George Washington and patriotism. In his talk he remembered to remind the children of their important work. Also of the motto: "Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well."

Albert Besoky was up this way Sunday to see the Conklins.

It is expected that the rock crusher at Gravel Ford is to be started soon, on 12,000 yards of crushed rock, to be put on the road in Dist. No. 14.

Monday was a stormy day, and the birds were jubilant in song.

That is a great stunt the Curtis Publishing Co. is trying to pull off; trying to work the schools to increase the circulation of the "County Gentleman." Their scheme should be bored out.

A surprise party was given Fred Watson, a high school student, last Friday evening, that date being his birthday. A photographer was here Thursday and took pictures of the seventh and eighth grades, also the high school.

The new furnace has been installed and is a great improvement over the old one in warming the building.

The high school students have received their report cards for the past six weeks of this semester. Why this mixture of smiles and frowns?

The Broccoli Business

A. O. Kjelland, well known Kentucky Inlet rancher, is greatly interested in the proposal of Adelsperger and Conrad and other to develop the broccoli industry in this section.

Mr. Kjelland was a pioneer in Oregon with it and raised fine crops for three years. One or two of the years, there were some heavy snows at his ranch and the plants were covered with snow and later with water for several weeks. The great bulk of them stood the test well. Mr. Kjelland says that the home grown broccoli is far superior to that shipped in from California. He gave it up because of the scarcity of help and his inability to attend to it and look after his dairy ranch.

Lawan Forfeits Bail

Harry Lawan, who was charged with driving a car while intoxicated last Saturday night forfeited $50 bail, which he had placed with Chief F. R. Jackson, for failing to appear before Judge C. E. Maybee at 10 a. m. Tuesday.—Times.

Eastside Mill Adds Machinery

The Eastside mill of the Coos Bay Lumber Co. will add another head rig crew next Monday probably. This will add fifteen or twenty men to the payroll there. The Eastside mill is cutting exclusively on cedar. At present about fifty men are employed, cutting about 50,000 feet per day. With the addition of about twenty men for the other head rig, the cut can be increased to about 100,000 feet.—Times.

This community is particularly fortunate in being ideally situated for dairying—an industry that provides the farmers here with many instead of a few pay days during the year.

We are therefore desirous of lending every assistance in making dairying grow even beyond its present status. Drop in when you are in town, Mr. Dairyman, and let us know what you are planning this year.
