Courtesy the Best Investment

Courtesy is the world's best investment, says the S. P. Bulletin. Every venture pays big, sure returns. Time and thought spent in cultivating a gracious, helpful manner will be repaid in more and better friendships, in increased good-will of employer, in more considerate treatment from fellow employees, and, more important than all, in the accumulation of an ever-growing stock of self-respect.

A Lord in Danger

A recent report from London tells of a very dangerous and unpleasant experience of Lord Archibald Craven, the fiance of Lady Constance Martendale. He was set upon by ruffians in a Gypsy camp in the woods and only escaped serious injury by his hold and manly demeanor. He will appear in person at the Liberty Theatre, March 20, in the "Gypsy Rover."

The Sentinel and the Oregon Farmer can be obtained for $2.25 for one year.

Presbyterian Church

As long as good looks, money, clothes, gift of gab, business, ability to put it over on somebody, remain the greatest values, neighbors will be disagreeable. A Christian is one who has different values. Can you imagine Lazarus, whom Jesus raised from the dead, wearing a diamond stickpin, driving a Marmon car, and selling something people did not need?

Sunday morning at eleven: "Christian Change in Values."
Charles S. Bergner, Minister.

M. E. Church

All services at the usual hours Sunday. Prayer meeting Wednesday. You are welcome.

Morning sermon: "Scriptural and Unscriptural Zeal." Romans 19: 1-21. The Bible speaks of "zeal not according to knowledge." Multitudes of men and women devote themselves and their money to what they call religion, but have no saving knowledge of Christ, no spiritual knowledge of the Bible, no comfort of the Holy Spirit dwelling in their hearts. You cannot walk as a child of God if you have not been born of the Spirit.

Evening sermon: "That I May Open My Mouth Boldly." The early heralds of the cross prayed for boldness to preach the Word of God. Without the aid of the Holy Ghost no preacher can declare the whole truth to dancing, card-playing, theatre-loving, tobacco-using, money-grabbing, pleasure-seeking, self-willed, headstrong, high-minded, God-hating, despisers of the cross and the Christ. The Word of God is the Sword of the Spirit. It will slay sinners here, or hereafter.

J. S. Penix, pastor.
