On a Serious Charge

Russell Foster and Margaret Simms were lodged in the county jail here last Friday and are being held in lieu of $200 bonds each. They are from North Bend and were brought over to the grand jury for local exhibition.

Woodfield Schools Grading

The people of school district No. 1 at Woodfield are called on to vote next Monday, March 30, on a proposition to have $10,000 in school district bonds. Practically half that amount is to be used for the building of a new school in the district, and the balance is to be devoted to the purchase of a school site in the Woodfield region. It is also proposed to purchase several acres which is now known as South Garden for an athletic field. Expenditures on that same tract have been indicated at $24,000, which will be used in filling, draining and leveling the land. Every driving city in Oregon is experiencing such growth, and it is the purpose of the school district to provide for the future.

It's Your Old Finger

Allen L. Shady, 27 years of age, from Woodfield is in jail here, and will have a hearing in juvenile court on a charge of larceny committed on a charge of larceny committed against him, with the possibility of being sent out to the Boys' Training School at Salem.

Famous Trapshooter Coming

"Ad" Tupperwein

It is pleasing news to those who have seen "Ad" Tupperwein in action to know that the wizard of the rifle will soon give an exhibition of his prowess in this city. Tupperwein is being sent here by the Winchester Sporting Arms Company at the request of the Coquille Hardware Co. Tupperwein is now out on a trip that carries him into a half dozen states. He has been shooting for the Winchester Company for a quarter of a century and has shot in nearly every city in the United States and Canada. In one stretch of two years Tupperwein traveled 55,000 miles and gave more than 500 exhibitions.

Tupperwein, according to the San Antonio Express in its best advertisement that city has, because his shooting in city after city, day after day, has always kept San Antonio prominently before the populace. The progress is great of Tupperwein as an individual because it was while working as a cartoonist on that paper that "Dogg" got his ideas for the shooting he does now. Tupperwein today unquestionably is the best all-around exhibition shot in the world, and his exhibitions are always pleasing. On no less than 15 occasions he has broken all records with the rifle for shooting at flying targets. One time he broke 65 out of 100 2 1/2 inch targets thrown from an automobile going 30 miles an hour. He first tossed the targets and then shot at them. Another record is 6000 breaks out of 6000 1 3/4 inch targets, and an even more wonderful feat was the record of 3000 out of 30,000, 2 1/4 inch flying targets. Tupperwein was surprised when he missed the one target.

Weekly his most remarkable shooting with a rifle was at San Antonio, in July, 1907, when he shot eight hours a day for ten days and only missed nine in 72,500 2 1/4 inch wooden blocks that were tossed 25 feet in the air by an assistant. When Tupperwein began it was his intention to shoot at 5000 targets a day for ten days, and to create the world's record for this line of shooting. The crowd paid no attention as the thousands rolled by, and it was in 7000 blocks that Tupperwein made the first miss, so then the decision was made to shoot 7000 a day, unless the ammunition ran out, which is what happened. Out of the first 30,000 blocks shot at, Tupperwein missed only four. Not only did Tupperwein shoot at the blocks, but he tossed his Winchester every one of the 72,500 times.

In this remarkable test of shooting skill and endurance Tupperwein had straight runs of 34,540, 18,597, 18,292 and 14,085. It isn't likely this record will ever be beaten. It is a tremendous strain to undergo such a performance. From the standpoint of endurance and the number of targets shot at and broken this feat stands as the world's greatest shooting performance.

Tupperwein is the originator of many marvelous fancy shots. Also the drawing of heads, such as Uncle Sam, Indian Chief, and other people prominent in everyday life. He conceived the idea of drawing pictures with rifle bullets while an artist, and his artistic temperament is still with him. A large piece of tin or cardboard is used, fastened to posts in front of the audience, and then as fast as the automatic will fire Tupperwein draws the profile of Uncle Sam and others with bullets.

The Tupperwein exhibition here will take place on April 14 at 2:30 p. m. at the Coquille Gun Club grounds across the river.

Those UP-STAIRS FLOORS!

"HOW can I keep them presentable?"

A properly painted surface—a porcelain-like surface—one that resists water, soap suds, etc. and withstands moving, scraping furniture and pounding heels. That's the answer. And Rubber Cement Floor Paint gives just that surface. Easy to apply.

Also, ask for booklet, "Color Harmony in the Home"—all about painting or finishing floors, woodwork, walls, etc. It's free.

WE carry a full line of Fuller Paints and Varnishes and can supply your needs.

County Court This Week

Besides awarding a road contract to C. R. Dean last Saturday, the county court transacted some other business.

Dance hall licenses were issued to H. F. Miller on the highway at Bear Creek, and to M. C. Blohm at Charleston.

Permits to haul logs across county roads were granted Baxter & Barker and Russell Jennings.

An allowance of $10 a month from the indigent fund was ordered paid to Jos. Maiden and to Barney McGray, of Powers. The latter is 75 years of age, decrepit and unable to work.

By a resolution the county approved the contract made by the State Highway Commission with Pat Hennessey for the construction of the highway bridge at Myrtle Point and agrees to pay one-half the cost of the bridge after the $13,000 to be paid by the Southern Pacific has been deducted. The railroad company pays this amount in lieu of what it would have cost to build two overhead crossings on the present road between here and Myrtle Point, had the route of the highway not been changed to avoid all railroad crossings.

Fred Burgess Married

Fred W. Burgess, of Lampa, who left six or seven-weeks ago on a trip to southern California, Arizona and Texas, returned last Tuesday with a bride whom he married in the Lone Star state. Mr. Burgess is one of the prominent chicken raisers on the lower river.
