The Frank and King comedians put on their vaudeville entertainment at the Hilland theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barker came in from Dora Thursday. The camp has closed down and they will stay in town.

C. M. Brewer Advanced

C. M. Brewer, vice president and general manager of the Mountain States Power Company with headquarters at Albany, Oregon, was elected a member of the board of directors of Standard Gas and Electric company, parent company of Mountain States Power company, in Chicago, Wednesday, March 25th, according to announcement just received from H. M. Byliesby and company. Mr. Brewer's election comes as recognition of his long and successful service as an executive of the Mountain States Power company. Standard Gas and Electric company and its operated companies comprise one of the largest public utility groups in the country with ownership distributed among more than eighty-five thousand shareholders. Mr. Brewer's election is in line with the policy of the company of broadening responsibilities among executives of its operated companies.

Mr. Brewer joined the Byliesby organization in August, 1908, at Muskogee, Oklahoma, and the following year was transferred to Mankato, Minn. About this time the Byliesby people purchased their first holdings in the Northwest and Mr. Brewer was again transferred; this time to Everett, Washington. After a few months at Everett, he took over the management of the Sandpoint, Idaho, division of Mountain States Power company and remained there until appointed manager of the Byliesby company's Richmond, California, holdings. This was in 1912 and he remained in Richmond until January, 1919, when he was appointed vice president and general manager of Mountain States Power company with headquarters at Albany, Oregon, where he has since resided.

Brewster Valley

Mrs. D. D. Laird and Grandma Laird were able to come back home Tuesday. They were glad to be home and every one was glad to have them home again. They were certainly missed while gone so long.

Grandma Shepherd is not feeling so well again.

A road meeting was called for last Saturday evening and a man chosen for road patrolman. J. B. Benham was the one chosen.

Mrs. Pearly Crowley, Eloise, and her small son, Harry, visited with Grandma Laird Saturday.

Lyle Nosler was up in the valley again Monday.

Shiners Are Salmon

Deputy Game Warden A. M. Fish, acting under orders from the state Fish and Game Commission, has started an active campaign to discourage the catching of "shiners."

For 10, these many years, shiners have been considered as lawful prey for all the men, women and children along the Coquille river, who have caught them without limit. But the commission has decided that shiners are young salmon from the spawning grounds up the river and forks, which are making their first trip out to sea, and that it is unlawful to catch them under ten inches in length prior to April 15.

This week the following paid fines for fishing without licenses in three different courts:

Justice L. J. Rodley's court in Bandon—Columbus Hags, $60; Jeff Smith, $25, and Frank Gay, $25.

Justice J. J. Stanley's court in Coquille—C. M. Hartwell, $25, and Alvin Hayter, $25.

Judge R. H. Mast's court in Coquille—two juveniles, Lloyd Norris and Fred Watson, $5 each.

Fast Train to Puget Sound

The new fast train to Puget Sound cities from Portland, for which Portland has waited for years, showed off on its first trip Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, due to reach Seattle five hours and 15 minutes later. Previously the running time was almost seven hours, says the Oregonian.

The new service is by virtue of a pooling agreement between the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Great Northern, whereby earnings of all trains run over the joint trackage will be divided between the three companies, together with the overhead costs.
