One Check and One Offer

M. J. Hartson's English Springer Spaniels are bringing good prices from dog fanciers. Yesterday morning he shipped a female, the mother of the pups he has, to a man at Eugene, receiving $190 for her. He also has an offer of $100 for the male pup he has left and he also has one female to dispose of. They are, of course, all pure bred and registered.

Coquille Laundry Incorporated

The Coquille Laundry has just been incorporated at Salem by Arthur L. Simpson, Lowell Simpson and Marjell Simpson. The capital stock of the company is $25,000.

Judge Mast Going for Week

Judge and Mrs. R. H. Mast intend leaving in their Buick tomorrow morning for a week's trip. They will visit tomorrow night with their daughter, Mrs. E. E. Leslie in Eugene, and then go on to Portland, where Mrs. Mast will visit relatives and also in Vancouver.

The judge will go on up to Spokane for the meeting of representatives of all Federal Farm Loan districts in the coast district—the eleventh. He will be one of two representatives from the Eugene, or Willamette Valley Central Association.

They expect to be home next Saturday.

Linegar Ranch Sold

The Alfred E. Linegar ranch was sold this week in probate court to Martin Claussen, of Riverton, at his bid of $7250. Frank Flam, of Bandon, the other bidder, offered $7,000.

This ranch of 90 acres, which adjoins the old Harlocker ranch down the other side of the river, is largely in brush and willow, but is very rich bottom land. Mr. Linegar paid somewhere around $3,000 for the place when he was postmaster here.

Robt. R. Watson is administrator of the Linegar estate in Coos county.

Poultry Specialist Coming

Poultry Specialist Crosby with the O. A. C. Extension service, will hold a poultry meeting at the S. P. Leeper poultry farm at Parkersburg Monday, April 13, 1926. All are invited to attend. Poultry problems of the season such as brooding and management will be discussed. There will also be a meeting at "Cackleton," Bradley & Neal Poultry Farm, at Fairview, Tuesday, April 14.

Delivers 750 Baby Chicks

S. B. Leeper, chicken rancher, of the lower river, was up here Wednesday to deliver 750 baby chicks—White Leghorns—to C. A. Holverson at Fairview.

Mr. Leeper said the mortality among his chicks this year has been very low; out of the first hatch of 1900, only 90 failing to live. Five per cent loss is a low record.

Death of 8-Year Old Boy

Harold Lloyd Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kennedy, died at his home in the northeastern part of town, Wednesday morning from flu and pneumonia. He was nearly eight and one-half years of age. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 in the Ellingson Chapel. Interment will be in the Masonic cemetery.

Thief Escapes at Salem

Ray Hill, held in the Salem jail for alleged theft of the Coos Bay Stevedoring company pay roll at North Bend, escaped from jail just before noon Thursday. He went out through the large door of the jail, walked across the lower floor of the city hall and passed out into the street. Apparently the jail door had been left unlocked.

Volley Ball Started

"Volley ball" was inaugurated by the Community Building Tuesday evening, after their business session, and about fifteen men got a lot of kick and exercise out of it. The Legion plans to keep it up but do not desire to limit playing to Legion men only. They will be pleased to have any of the town's business men who care to play, join them.

Townsend Was the Lucky Man

Ernest L. Townsend, of the Townsend & Townsend barber shop on Front street, was the holder of the lucky number, which won a $50 deposit on a Ford car last week. He among many others submitted the names of five non-owners of cars, and his was the name drawn from the list.

Barklow Selling Monuments

Thomas Barklow, of Myrtle Point, says that he is still furnishing the Blaessing granite company monuments and if any of our readers are planning for anything in that line before Decoration, he is prepared to serve them. The monuments he furnishes are first class and always give satisfaction.

Failure Affects Tax Payments

The failure of the First National Bank at Bandon is going to make lots of trouble for the people down there who have just paid their taxes for last year by checks on that bank, as the sheriff can't give receipts based on such paper.

Have your Sunday dinner at the new Coquille Hotel. Per plate $1.25.

Dressmaking

All kinds of Sewing, Altering, Suits and Dresses, a specialty. Corner First and Henry Sts. Flora E. Dunn (Quick's Apartments) 8tf

Two Gant Brothers in Charge

Orvin Gant, one of the new proprietors of the Hub Clothing & Shoe Co. here, came down from Myrtle Point Tuesday and with his brother Homer, now has charge of the store. Harry K. Clinton has returned to Myrtle Point, where he is again employed in the Hub there. Orvin Gant has been employed in the Hub at Myrtle Point for several years, while Homer has been with the Silver Falls Logging Co., at Silverton, as buyer for their commissary.

Both are fine young men and a decided addition to the list of Coquille's business men. Their father, A. R. Gant, is also interested in the business but will not be connected with the management.

Was on a Hunger Strike

Miss Lee Boothby, of San Francisco, came in by stage yesterday noon to see her sister, Mrs. E. A. Wells, who the first of this week was moved from the county jail to a hospital at the Bay. Mrs. Wells, who was serving a sentence imposed by Justice Stanley for being implicated in a booze transportation venture with her husband, went on a hunger strike last month and stood with it so long that when she did attempt to eat she found she could not. Sheriff Ellingson had her sent to the hospital Monday.

County Clerk Down with Flu

County Clerk E. R. Watson, who has been down the past week with the flu, is very anxious to get back to the office as the work of getting ready for the special election next month needs attention. The possibility of his returning to duty soon was given a setback this week when Tyler Walker, who lives at his home, came down with diphtheria. The latter's case is light and the doctor hopes that it will not be necessary to quarantine "Pete."

The American's Feature Edition

The Feature Edition of the Myrtle Point Coos County American was issued there yesterday. It is a 16-page number, full of pictorial glimpses of the many improvements recently made in and around Myrtle Point, and contains besides many interesting articles relative to the growth and progress of that community. This large issue reflects credit on the publisher, Joe M. Hedden, and the two wire merchants of Myrtle Point.

Starting on Auto Park

H. J. Reinhardt, of Portland, who has been instrumental in organizing the Bandon-by-the-Sea Auto Camp, a $10,000 corporation, arrived this week and has begun construction of cottages and other buildings on the property which located near the beach opposite Queen Anne, says the World.

DAIRY FACTS

GIVE DAIRY HEIFER BEST OF ATTENTION

Well-bred dairy heifers that have been well fed while carrying their first calf should produce a good calf, but some may have calbed earlier. The whole matter may be called, or one quarter or one side. Still others may have a round, hard place on the hip bone or in the rear. Where large swellings are desired it is sometimes the practice to make an attempt to remove this swelling, treating it with milk down and increase the per cent of fat. Where high points feed is started too soon after calving with this kind of an effort, these hard places never disappear.

If one side is large or the swelling is low down in the rear, a tilted udder is the result.

If it is bulging on the bottom, a broken-down udder is bound to follow, giving a little lower with each succeeding calving.

In some cases it may go so low that it is not possible to milk the cow from one side. The result is no one wants such an animal to milk or for a heifer.

After studying the conditions that cause udders to lose their natural shape and get more deformed with each calving, we are interested to know how to check these conditions before the udder is ruined.

When a heifer's udder is badly swollen before calving, feed only light, laxative feeds for a few days before and after calving, such as bran ground oats, alfalfa, beet pulp, or fresh beets with good lignin hay and alfalfa.

Having provided the right feeds, reduce the swelling in the udder as soon after calving as possible.

Next in importance is to get all the milk at all times. Good udders of large capacity each quarter with udder and milk with the other to bring down the last drop of milk. This is a quicker and more thorough way than thumb and finger stripping. Get the milk out at once after calving, and always get all the milk if you want good udders that will stand calving for any kind of records.

If you expect a heifer to do her best as a full-age cow, feed her liberally during this first lactation and as soon as her udder seems normal, if possible, milk her three times a day for at least a part of her lactation. F. H. Young, Cornell College of Agriculture.

Common Scrub Cows Can Be Graded Up Quickly

No experiment station has demonstrated more conclusively than the Iowa experiment station that common scrub cows can be graded up in a comparatively short time and that from ordinary scrubs, bred to registered sires, high producing herds can be established in a comparatively short time. Some years ago, the Iowa experiment station purchased some scrub cows from Arkansas. They were about as poor a lot of cows as one could find anywhere, although under good management as to feed and care they improved very rapidly in milk production. The production of milk and fat was probably fully 40 per cent higher after good feeding than it had been in their original herds, but even at that their average yield was only 100 pounds of fat and 4,000 pounds milk during the first year.

Flouting "Islands"

There are thousands of flouting islands in Klamath lake, Oregon, upon which the water grows 12 feet high, but which will seldom bear the weight of a man.

Has Another Meaning

We need to feel sympathetic when we heard of a young girl who had to "wait for her milk" but now it might refer to her handling the levers of a hand-milk machine.

Normal Milk Source Is Principally From Feed
 Milk production in cows takes place normally and principally from the feed, and not by the transformation of body tissues, according to expert tests conducted by Pennsylvania State college in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture, college dairy department announced.

The results of the studies, which aimed to determine the relation between the amount of feed that goes into milk production and the amount that goes into tissue, have just been published by the federal department in the form of a bulletin entitled "Relative Utilization of Energy in Milk Production and Body Increase of Dairy Cows." It may be had free on long as the supply lasts by writing to the Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Pure Bred Is Best
 The pure bred sire is the foundation of any herd, and every farmer should use one. The improvement in your stock and the increase in your income are the only arguments in his favor. It isn't always advisable to bother about paper and pedigree, but they add interest and selling value to your herd.

Using Home-Grown Feed
 Cows fed on simple skim-milk ration (not over 15 pounds per head daily) with clover hay and a mixture of corn, oats, wheat bran and flaxseed meal, in addition, made excellent milk, averaging 172 pounds per head daily. Other rations given access to the same hay and grain, but fed more than ten pounds of skim milk each daily, yielded 152 pounds per head daily, which compares very well with the gains made by those which had all the milk they wanted.
