Hoffman Bridge is Opened
The Hoffman bridge on the main road from Myrtle Point to Powers, which has been closed for a couple of weeks, was opened to travel again Monday. The work of repairing the bridge was slow and tedious on account of the piling which held the south approach giving away. Through travel to Broadbent and Powers has been resumed. The closing of this bridge was quite a hindrance to the business of those thriving communi- ties.

Letters Used on Party Line
The letter W outranks all the other letters of the alphabet as to the ease with which it can be understood, telephone engineers declare.
In order to determine which letters carry best over the wires and which are the least likely to be confused with the digits of the numbers or with other letters, the entire alphabet was subjected to elaborate series of tests over telephone lines by trained engineers. The result was that the letters W, J, R, M passed the best tests in the order given and they were subsequently selected for use as suffixes for party line telephone numbers. That is why these letters are the standard designation for party service in preference to other letters of the alphabet.

Poisoning Suspected
A Bandon press dispatch of yesterday says:
The body of Mrs. R. L. Gimlin, who died suddenly March 25 at Coquille, has been disinterred and the vital organs are being analyzed for poison. Action was taken following suspicion that death was not due to natural causes.
Mrs. Gimlin, 53 years old, was in apparent good health until the morning of her death. Then after eating breakfast she became violently ill and expired within 20 minutes of the seizure. According to the death certificate, she died of acute indigestion. She was buried in the K. P. cemetery in Bandon.
Officials are silent as to who instituted the present action or what grounds for suspicion exist. Results of the analysis will not be announced for a month.
Mrs. Gimlin was a resident of Oregon for 25 years the greater part of which was spent in Coos county. She had a wide acquaintanceship and was a prominent member of the Eastern Star and Neighbors of Woodcraft circle. Her husband and two daughters survive.

Capt. Burghdoff on "Shiners"

Myrtle Point, Ore. Mar. 26, 1926.
State Game Commission, Portland, Oregon.
Dear Sir: During the months of February and March each year the Coquille river is full of fish from five to nine inches long. At one time some of them were sent to your office and they were called Pacific Grey-lings. They are known as Shiners here and it appears to me that about a year ago your office issued instruction that they cannot be caught because they are young salmon. I was out on the river a few days ago and in the first time the line went into the water one about 6 1-2 inches took the hook. The hook went through the center of head killing the fish. I cut it up for bait. In doing so I found it full of spawn. This aroused my curiosity and I am anxious to get information from your office as to what they may be. It would be impossible for this winter's salmon to have spawn in them as they would be too young. This must be a species of fish other than salmon. In other words they must be similar to the smelt in Sandy, a fish that only comes in once each year. We note that they are not caught in the head waters of the Coquille river. They are first caught below Coquille and then further up the Coquille river. They only go a few miles above Myrtle Point and then return to the ocean.
Information on this subject will be greatly appreciated at an early date. Also advise if it is lawful to catch them with hook and line. Sincerely,
E. J. Schmieder, Sec. Myrtle Point Rod & Gun Club, Myrtle Point, Ore.

Portland, Ore., Mar. 25, 1926.
Dear Sir: This is to advise you that Dear Sir: his is to advise you that we have received your letter in reference to the so-called "Shiners" described in your letter as found in the Coquille River.
Replying to same, will say that years ago these fish were taken and the Commission and sample submitted to the United States Fisheries Department at Washington, D. C., but we fail to locate the data at this time so cannot give you the scientific definition of the fish in question.
What we would like you to do is to gather several of these fish and ice them and ship them to us at once. We want fish that are full of feed. Please do this if possible.
It is lawful to take these fish with hook and line under an angler's license at any time. Yours very truly,
A. E. Burghdoff, State Game Warden.
By F. M. Brown, Chief Deputy Game Warden.

$2,000 For Highway Arch
The Chambers of Commerce representatives, who appeared before the county court last Friday afternoon to secure an appropriation for the proposed arch at the intersection of the Coos Bay and Pacific Highways, met with a very kind reception at the hands of the court and were successful in securing an order for $2000 from this year's budget.
Collectively and individually, the members of the court promised to use their best efforts with the committee which will pass on the budget for 1926, next November, to secure the inclusion of a sum in that budget to finish paying for construction of the arch. The cost is not to exceed $3600.
The only word expressed which might have been termed as in opposition to the appropriation, was by the Myrtle Point delegates. They are all favorable to the arch construction, but did not want an appropriation for it to jeopardize what the Coos & Curry Fair might receive.
Tuesday noon the executive committee of the Good Roads Association met here and decided to ask the various commercial organizations in the county to finance the $1600 balance, in order that the arch might be erected at once, with a promise of its return when the county has made its 1926 budget and has the money available.
Coquille's share of this $1600 was placed at $240. Action by the Coquille Chamber was deferred Wednesday evening until the monthly meeting two weeks hence.
Curry county has also been asked to co-operate in financing the construction.

Has Cut 5,000,000 Feet
Ben McMullen, who has been operating a logging camp on Middle Fork the past winter, has finished his contract. Mr. McMullen placed 5,000,000 feet of logs in the river with a tractor using gas for power. This is supposed to be the largest single contract ever handled with a gas-tractor, and speaks well for the tractor in the rough hills where this logging was done—Myrtle Point American.
