Volley Ball a Strenuous Game

Volley ball is becoming quite the rage in Coquille and it is not confined to the has-beens either, for the Boy Scouts went to it last night for half an hour and there is even talk of the ladies taking up the sport.

After the boys were through last night four business men's teams took the floor (two at a time) and kept the ball jumping until 11:30.

The team captained by Dr. J. B. Gillis carried off the championship of the evening for they were only defeated once. Rev. M. F. Hill's team turned that trick but suffered defeat at other's hands. J. F. Cramer's team had a bunch of stars and ex-stars which ought to have won every game but they lacked the team work necessary to win games.

C. C. Archibald's sextette (a septette part of the time), stood at the foot of the list with the fewest wins.

There is a lot of exercise to be derived from the game and it takes nearly as much agility as basket ball or tennis.

The way a crowd turned out last night is a commendation of the spirit which prompted the erection of the Community Building, which makes such athletic games possible.

"Spike" Leslie Resigns

The following press dispatch from Eugene last Tuesday will interest his many friends in this section:

"Spike" Leslie, ex-University of Oregon football star, has announced that he will not continue his work as athletic director at the Eugene high school after this year on account of a large reduction in his salary. He received $2100 a year for two years, but the board has cut it to $1650. Leslie coached the football, basketball, baseball and track teams and is considered one of the best high school coaches in the state. The students of the school have circulated petitions asking that action reducing his salary be rescinded that he may stay.

As "Spike" did not intend to return to Eugene High next year, anyway, the cut in coaching salary will make little difference to him.

Bankers Quarterly Meeting

All of Coquille's bankers, except J. E. Norton and A. J. Sherwood, were in attendance at the quarterly meeting of the Coos County Bankers' Association in Marshfield Tuesday evening. The principal speaker at the meeting was County Agent C. R. Richards, who urged a closer co-operation between the banks and the farmers in developing dairying and agriculture along more scientific lines. Those going over from here were L. H. Hazard, J. E. Ross, O. C. Sanford, Robert A. Ross, E. D. Webb, Walter Sickels, C. J. Fahrman and C. T. Skeels.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Bandon in July.

Peculiar Seashell Exhibit

Randall Kay is exhibiting a piece of peculiar seashell deposit, cut into a slab and highly polished. It is a sample from a ledge some 18 inches in thickness and estimated to contain between 10 and 15 thousand tons, which he has control of in Siskiyou county, California. The material has practically the same chemical properties as marble and takes a similar polish but because of its peculiar makeup is much more beautiful. He is endeavoring to interest capital in a manufacturing enterprise. The deposit is located 200 miles from the coast and at an elevation of some 2800 feet.—Bandon World.

Burke Case Up Tomorrow

A jury was empaneled by Justice Stanley yesterday for the trial of the case against W. Burke for possession of liquor, and then was postponed until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning because some of the defendant's witnesses were not present.

The case originated in Lakeside, where Burke, according to the victim, had secured some one else to carry his suit case of booze to the depot. When arrested the other man laid the blame of ownership on Burke, who denies it.

Two Take French Leave

Two trustees at the county jail, Louis Haas and A. W. Moss, ran away from a perfectly good home the first of this week and have not since been located. They left on different days while engaged in work around the court house yard. Both were in on liquor charges and had several months yet to serve. Haas had been serving out a $500 fine at $2 per since last December, while Moss began on a six months' sentence and $1,000 fine.

Franklin Arthur Child

Franklin Arthur Child was born on March twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and fifty-eight in Alpine, Michigan. The first part of his life was spent in Michigan. In the fall of nineteen hundred and five he came to North Bend, Oregon. Here he lived for three years, coming to Coquille in nineteen hundred and eight. Outside of a protracted stay in Washington, he has lived in Coquille since that time, being engaged in contracting and mill-wright work. His death came rather suddenly, as he was taken sick Thursday morning, April sixteenth. On Saturday he became much worse and died Saturday evening at ten minutes after eight. The funeral was held at two in the afternoon, Wednesday, April twenty-second, at the Ellingson chapel, Rev. Milton F. Hill of the Methodist Episcopal Church South officiating.

Surviving the deceased are three daughters, Miss Goldie Child and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, of Coquille, and Mrs. C. H. Emerson, who lives in California; a son, James L. Child, of Coquille; his wife, living in Tacoma, and two sisters who live in Michigan, and by four grandchildren. His father was a Methodist minister, and while he himself was not a member of the church, he had always expressed his faith in God and his reverence for the faith of his father.

Card of Thanks

For the kindness and sympathy of our friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement and for the floral offerings, we wish to express our sincere thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Child, Miss Goldie Child, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Emerson and family, Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett.

Wouldn't Mention Them

Roses have been in bloom in Myrtle Point for over a month but at the present time the bushes are loaded with blossoms and buds. For the past two years, says Editor Bledsoe of the American, we have sent a great box of these beauties to Portland to the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce, which was held in Portland in January, but as they did not seem to enjoy them and were fearful of Myrtle Point taking away their laurels and advertising as the City of Roses no reference to this fact was made in their papers. This year no roses were sent. In any part of our city one can see and smell the fragrance of these beautiful roses, as well as many other varieties of flora, which makes it worth while to live in such a delightful climate.

To Report on Bank's Condition

The meeting of the depositors of the First National bank of Bandon, held at the city hall Monday evening, resulted in the election of a committee of seven to investigate the assets and liabilities and to report back to the depositors at another meeting to be held at the Legion hall Monday evening, April 27.

The committee of seven is composed of the following: M. Breuer, D. R. Norton, J. E. Walstrom, W. H. Pearce, L. D. Felsheim, all of Bandon; H. H. Hansen of Langlois, and J. F. Gillings of Port Orford. They were also authorized to employ an accountant to examine the records of the bank if necessary.—Western World.

Receiver Resigns

T. C. Smith, Jr., who arrived from Salem last week to take over the receivership of the First National bank of Bandon, has decided not to remain in that position and has been asked to be relieved, says the World. It is not yet known who will take his place and it is possible that an examiner will again be placed in charge until a second appointment is made. Mr. Smith has not been in good health and thought by coming to a lower altitude he would be benefited, but he has found that the change has proved contrary to expectations and has therefore decided not to remain.

Mrs. Hazard Entertains Club

Mrs. L. H. Hazard entertained the Coquille Bridge Club Thursday evening. The meeting was an especially enjoyable one as Mrs. L. P. Branstetter, a former member of the club, was present. Those enjoying the evening were the Mesdames J. A. Lamb, E. W. Lorenz, Geo. Lorenz, H. A. Young, H. W. Pierce, J. L. Smith, Nels Osmundson, W. S. Sickels, C. C. Eiland and F. L. Greenough. Mrs. J. A. Lamb held high score for the evening's play.

POULTRY

COMFORTABLE HOUSE ENCOURAGES FOWLS

The poultry house is both the home of the hen and the factory where winter eggs are produced, and unless it provides suitable living and working conditions the hen cannot be expected to lay well. To be comfortable the house must be dry, well ventilated, well lighted and have sufficient floor space to provide exercise by scratching. Dryness is insured by having a good roof, keeping the floor of the house higher than the surrounding ground, and by providing good ventilation. Ventilation must supply plenty of fresh air without drafts. This is secured by having the south side relatively open and the other three sides absolutely tight. The importance of light in the poultry house has not been properly emphasized in the past. Recent experiments with artificial lights show that by furnishing more light so that the working period for the birds is lengthened the egg production can be materially increased. In many farm poultry houses no windows are provided and the house is in constant twilight on cloudy days even when the door is left open. Needless to say, this condition does not favor activity on the part of the hen. To insure good natural light in a poultry house the openings in the walls should equal about one-fourth of the floor space of the house. At least half of these openings should be for open-front ventilation, and the windows should be so arranged that the maximum amount of sunlight will be available to the birds. Wherever possible windows should be placed in the east and west ends of the building so that the early morning and late afternoon light will be secured. To insure room for scratching not only must sufficient floor space be provided but the droppings must be kept off the floor and a deep litter of straw or similar material be supplied so that the birds can be made to scratch for their feed. To keep the droppings off the floor every poultry house should be provided with a droppings platform arranged underneath the roosts to catch the manure.
