Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walker, Mrs. Jenkins' father and mother, came up Saturday night, staying until Monday noon with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laird made a trip to Roseburg one day this week, returning the next. They went out with their spring crop of wool.

EAST FORK NOTES

The entertainment and basket social at McKinley Hall to raise money to pay the indebtedness on the Dora cemetery chapel was a success.

Neal Gearhart was master of ceremonies and the doings opened with the singing of America by the audience led by Mr. Leatherman. Songs, instrumental music, recitations and pantomime were then in order and each participant on the program acquitted herself or himself so well

Not Picnic Weather

Dodging raindrops and hugging large quantities of food done up in rain-proof packages, approximately 30 members of the freshman class of Marshfield high school started Saturday morning on a trip to the cold sands of Sunset Bay.

Cloak beneath bright, wet umbrellas they had congregated before the Chandler early that morning, waiting on the pleasure of the elements, when it was noted that the chaperones were numbered among the missing. Others were frantically enlisted, and according to schedule, at 9:30 the old red bus careened around the corner and disappeared into Oregon mists.—Coos Bay Times.
