Brewster Valley

Most every one in the valley attended the Memorial services at the Dora chapel Saturday.

The ladies of the Myrtle Leaf club met with Mrs. Polly Nickason for an all day special meeting. The day was spent in papering, three rooms being papered. A very delicious cafeteria dinner was served to the following members: Mrs. Mildred Benham, Mrs. Jenkins, Verna, and Daisy Laird, Flossie Wilson, Myrtle Christensen, Stella Crowley, Zilpha Krewson, Miss Parks and Miss Ruby Krewson, Elmer Wilson and Win Nickason as guests. Everybody had a good time and went away telling the hostess so.

Tom Krewson and family came in from Drain Friday to visit with relatives and be here for Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Binger Laird and family came in from Roseburg Saturday for Memorial services at the Dora chapel. They came on up to the valley to visit with relatives until Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Baker and two sons, Melvin and Willis, of Bandon, and Mrs. Phoebe Harry, of Coquille, visited Saturday night and Sunday with Perley Crowley and family. They also went to Dora for Decoration Day.

Mrs. Foust, who has been working for Mrs. P. A. Alford has gone to visit her sisters for a couple of months. Ruby Krewson has taken her job while she is gone.

J. D. Laird has installed a new milking machine in his barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mast and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, of McKinley, were visitors at the Benham home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McClure and three friends of Marshfield spent the week end with the Ernest Krewson family.

Miss Parks has gone to her home in Creswell for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Moore's sister and family, of Reedsport, are visiting them this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Stanley, Cal Harry and family, of Coquille, took Sunday dinner at the J. D. Laird home Sunday.

Grandpa Crowley has gone to visit her brother near Portland, who is sick.

Rollie and Elwin Alford, Julius Benham and wife, Ernest Krewson and family took in the show "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Coquille Wednesday night.

Mr. Lon Hale, whose wife has been sick, has brought her home, but she is gaining very slowly.

Frank and Louis English called on the Alford family Sunday afternoon.

EAST FORK NOTES

Memorial services were held Saturday at the Dora Cemetery Chapel.

Many people took advantage of Saturday being a holiday to get to the East Fork and enjoy the scenery. Friday night and Saturday many cars went up the road.

Bert Gould and Sam Nosler, of Coquille, are each putting up a cabin on the Koquille Kanu Klub grounds, so whenever they come out to camp they will not have to bother with a tent. Mrs. Nosler and Mary Lou were out to assist the carpenters and George Moulton came out to increase the force.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood and daughter, Delia, Mrs. George Lorenz and daughter, Pauline, and Merle Pettit, of Eugene, were with the Sherwoods at the club grounds for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormac, of Davis, Cal., were on the East Fork a few days last week. Mrs. McCormac is a sister of Ernest Counts, who formerly lived in this vicinity and is now at Lakeside.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stout, of the Stout Lumber Co., North Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker, of the Baker, Isaacson Rope Co., Marshfield, (residence North Bend), were enjoying the beauties of the East Fork country for a couple of days. Saturday night Mrs. Stout received a happy surprise, her birthday arrived on the trip and one of the preparations Mr. Stout had made for it was a birthday cake made by Mother Lucy (her last name has slipped me) a noted cook of North Bend, and at whose place the boys like to get their eats. The cake was a choice specimen of the angel variety and when it was brought into the room lighted only by the light of the fireplace fire with its candles all aglow, it surely did give Mrs. Stout a glad surprise and gave each one of the participants of the scene another pleasing picture to hang on memory's walls. The group about the fireplace, sitting on boxes on the floor, the cake having the seat of honor on a box, the group of cheerful faces and the happy excitement of her who was to cut the cake, made an evening which increases the store of beautiful memories and proves again that the writer gets a great deal more than he is looking for; for while he has eaten many birthday cakes in that house, that night a birthday cake was not within reach of his imagination. And he had a piece of that cake and by that token is able to testify that "Mother Lucy" is a cook who mixes something more than batter with her cakes.

Last week Wednesday, we all went out to Roseburg. Left home at 7:05 and were back at 5:25. It was the first time wife and I had been over the Middle Fork road to Roseburg. We saw, good farms and beautiful scenery, the road is a delight to ride over. Camas valley is a larger country than my thought had pictured it.

Fair prospects for crops all the way and the usual brown hills of Douglas are green with grass. It is more than 16 years since I saw Roseburg. She has spread out her skirts in all directions and those new buildings show that people have built knowing that Roseburg is a good enough place to live in. We drove through the grounds of the soldiers Home. They, too, have increased in beauty. It was a day of worth while pleasure, not a grief in any part of it, and the opportuhity to shake hands with a few men whom I had known in former years added zest to the trip.

At the forks of the road I took in the site for the proposed tower of babble and could almost imagine I could see the twinkle of the electric light and hear the jangle of the bell calling Co-boss, Co-boss, Co-boss.

Inez Easton, who is teaching in the high school at Winlock, Wash., got home Tuesday.
