Death of Chas. G. Hall

The following obituary notice from a Whittier, California, paper, has just been received by the Sentinel. Chas. G. Hall was formerly a member of the local W. O. W. camp:

Charles G. Hall was born in Unity, Maine, Dec. 7, 1853.

He came to Whittier in 1905, working in the oil fields of California and Texas. He was honest, industrious and unselfish, his aim in life being to give his family a pleasant home and life.

He left September last to make his home with a brother in Dyer Brook, Maine, but the climate proved too severe and he contracted a cold in December which confined him to his bed for 10 weeks. He was then taken to the hospital at Houlton where he had two operations for abscess of the lungs, since which time he has been in a critical condition. All hope of his recovery was given up several weeks ago, as dropsy had set in. He was released from his suffering June 7 and was laid to rest in his native state.

His passing was the first break in a family of six children, all long past three-score.

Besides his eastern relations and immediate family he leaves a sister, Mrs. M. Rideout, and a brother, J. W. Hall, and several nieces and nephews, residing in Whittier.

His brother, J. W. Hall, and family, who have many friends on the Coquille river, write that they are well and wish to be remembered to old friends.

In Circuit Court This Week

Circuit court has been in session here all week with the following cases heard and disposed of:

T. A. Johnson, of Myrtle Point, for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, verdict of guilty. Sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Don Adams, on the same charge, sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Ed. Sutton, for pointing a gun at another, six months at hard labor in the county jail.

Oscar Starrett, larceny by bailer, released from custody on a directed verdict of acquittal.

The case of Wm. Wright vs. A. B. Gidley et al, for damages to property when street work was in progress in Ferndale, was decided for the plaintiff who was awarded $1.00 in damages.

The highway right of way cases were all settled on the same terms as offered by the county court, viz: Mrs. Catherine McAdams, $1,000; J. T. Sullivan and wife, $690; Chas. and Rebecca Adams, $450. The first of the three was tried but the latter two, which are from Myrtle Point, were settled out of court.

Not to Improve First Street

Mayor Johnson and five councilmen were present for the regular mid-monthly meeting of the city fathers Tuesday evening, the meeting Monday night having been adjourned on account of the school election.

A large delegation of First street residents were in attendance, word having been given that the improvement of that street would be considered.

Asked by the mayor who was their spokesman, W. H. Mansell indicated that Leo J. Cary was. The latter made extended remarks concerning the sewer laid on First street last year, and the impossibility of a satisfactory job of paving until the sewer ditch had had more time to settle. He did not think this was a good year to build streets considering the dearth of activity in all building lines.

W. H. Mansell said he had paid for improvements on First street three times and he was ready to pay the fourth if assured that it would be the last.

John E. Ross spoke in favor of the paving contemplated, his only consideration being the sewer which might not have yet settled sufficiently to sustain pavement.

In answer to an inquiry of his, Engineer Vinton stated that he had provided for reinforcing steel in his estimates and that he thought the paving would stand, without question. He roughly estimated the cost per lot at from $400 to $600, depending on whether it was a corner lot, whether a sidewalk was necessary and whether concrete curbs were put in.

A standing vote of those present was called for. Seven arose who were opposed to paving this year and none who favored it would rise to his feet.

"It seems to be unanimous," remarked Mayor Johnson, and the council immediately passed a motion deferring improvement there till next year.

This action did not please some of the property owners and there is now talk of a petition, one owner claiming he can secure the names of three-fourths of the property owners asking that the work be done.

The new parking ordinance, which the council had ordered prepared, was referred back to the ordinance committee for changes, the council not being entirely satisfied with all its provisions.

A letter from the Coos Bay National Bank asking for payment on three special warrants drawn to pay for constructing the First street sewer last year, brought a request from the council to the recorder and city attorney that they notify the property owners on First street, who are delinquent, that their property would be sold in accordance to law unless the payments are made at once.

Geo. Chaney recommended for the street committee that the north end of the T bridge be torn down and a roadway be graded and gravelled just to the east of the bridge where nearly level ground is found. The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the improvement of a block in accordance with the recommendation. This was done in reply to a verbal petition of the property owners for an improvement. It is the block immediately north of the Spurgeon Hill bridge.

The bids of the United Contracting Co. were the only ones submitted for the improvement of Front and Willard streets. On Willard the bid adopted was for concrete pavement to the city dock, while on Front street a redressing with asphaltic concrete is the improvement ordered. The bid of the company was for $6682 for both streets.

The matter of spending $100 for material to repair the roof of the city hall was referred to the chairman of the finance committee with power to act. Mr. Fuhrman was not present, so he was the recipient of the buck.

Movie Man Drowned

The body of E. D. Jones, member of the motion picture crew, who was drowned last Friday morning, was recovered Saturday afternoon, a considerable distance below the point where his canoe turned over.

He was shooting the rapids just above the Sugarloaf school house, when his canoe hit a rock and turned over. The swift current there prevented his striking out for shore and he was carried nearly a quarter of a mile down stream before he went under. Others of the crew raced down the Sugarloaf grade in a car, in the attempt to get ahead and save him, but the current carried him to the opposite side where he disappeared from sight.

Mr. Jones was a young man of about 25, who was doubling in this stunt for one of the actors who is expected to arrive here later. The body was shipped to Hollywood for interment.

The Ladies Aid Society of the South Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. J. W. McGuffin last Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Esta Ellis presided at the meeting. During the afternoon Mrs. Glen Minard gave an Italian reading in a very pleasing manner, which was much enjoyed by all. Twenty-two ladies partook of the dainty refreshments served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Alex Petersen and Mrs. J. A. Frazier.
James Woods, a brother of Dick Woods, has been quite ill with asthma for several days but is much improved at this time.
Miss Teresa Clinton went over to North Bend Monday to remain a few days where she will visit friends.
Loganberries are ripening early this year. M. D. Sherrard has begun shipping them to the cannery.
