Ranch Home Burned

The residence of George Brownson, Big Creek rancher, above Bridge, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. All household goods were lost and two automobiles parked near the house were burned.

The origin of the fire was not known, according to reports. Brownson, and his three sons were away when the blaze began and when they returned the fire had gained so much headway that it was impossible to quench it with fire-fighting apparatus available.

The automobile of Fire Warden J. A. Walsh, parked near the residence, was considerably damaged. The windshield and paint were cracked and the front tires scorched.

Walsh was out in the hills looking for forest fires at the time of the blaze.—News.

Old Log Worth $3,000

George Walker recently dug up the giant redwood tree which has lain embedded in the sands near Elk Creek at Cannon Beach, Oregon, for years. He worked for two days with a team and scraper before he was able to move the tree. Mr. Walker estimates that he has taken nearly $3000 worth of lumber out of the log and has cut 30 circular dining room table tops, worth approximately $75 each, says a special dispatch in yesterday's Oregonian. This tree was 8 feet through and 50 feet long. Louis Durke reported that he saw the tree lying in the same place in 1897, and according to the number of rings it was 527 years old. For years people have been building bonfires against it and picnicking in its shelter without realizing its value.

A new illuminating gas, which is said to be non-asphyxiating and to have double the heat value and candle power of ordinary manufactured gas, is said to have been invented by Dr. O. U. Bean, the inventor of the Bunsen furnace.

Asking City to Purchase It

Petitions are being prepared for circulation asking the council to budget this fall an amount sufficient to purchase Athletic Park. The city council is inclined to give the matter serious consideration if the people desire it and the petitions are for the purpose of showing public sentiment.

Unless some action is taken before next May, the ten business men who signed the notes for purchasing the tract from W. H. Lyons, will pay off the notes and sell the property. It is not up to a few men to carry this load for something everyone is interested in, and there can be no argument on Coquille's need for such a field. Close to $2600 is what the five-acre tract can be secured for now but after next May it could not be bought for anywhere near that amount, nor would Coquille have any field suitable for baseball or football games.

This city needs that tract and the right endorsement now can secure it.

J. F. Lee Passes Away

J. F. Lee, for 30 years a prominent resident of the Coquille valley, who has made Riverton his home during that period, passed away last Friday morning.

The funeral services were held at the Ellingson Chapel here at two o'clock Monday afternoon, and were conducted by the Bandon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of which he was a member. A short service was held at the chapel and the impressive services of the fraternity were given in full at the cemetery.

A large concourse of his friends and neighbors from the Riverton district followed the body to its last resting place.

Better Have Waited

What was believed to be the first damage suit growing out of the Santa Barbara earthquake was filed in superior court Wednesday by Miss Beryl Watters and H. V. Tishhauser against the operators of Welber's airport and J. C. Francis, an aviator, says a Los Angeles press dispatch. The plaintiffs allege they paid $50 for an airplane trip to Santa Barbara Monday to determine whether friends had been killed in the quake. The friends were safe, but on the return trip the plane transporting Miss Watters and Tishhauser crashed near Santa Monica and they suffered injuries for which they ask $10,000 damages.

Second Largest in the World

The H. M. Byllesby company is now the second largest public utility business in the world, stated W. H. Hodge, advertising and publicity manager of the company at the Albany meeting of northwest managers, according to A. L. Martin, manager of the Mountain States Power company of Marshfield, one of the Byllesby companies, who attended the convention.

This announcement is the result of the purchase just completed of the United Railway and Investment company of Pennsylvania, a company somewhat larger than the Byllesby. The two now have annual gross earnings of $110,000,000.

The Byllesby people have been serving the huge concern with power in their San Francisco holdings. The only western property included in the purchase is the street railway system in San Francisco.—The Times.

Buffalo Skins Are Higher

Buffalo heads for trophies are offered by the Biological Survey at $35 to $60 each. Robes suitable for rugs or coats cost from $40 to $80, depending on the quality.

When the old man of the Sentinel was a boy he always used a buffalo robe for a lap robe for a winter ride, night or day, and as he remembers it those robes sold for about $5.00 seventy years ago.
