

79 MILLION FEET

Lumber Shipments From Coos Bay During Past Year Reach Record Figures

It is interesting to the people who pay taxes for port business and establishments to know that foreign shipping is gaining on this part of the coast. The government financial year ended on June 30th and Customs Collector Chester Clark was able to give figures for the past 12 months.

If business for the 12 months had been as good as June the port would have sent away to foreign shores over 84,000,000 feet, but the months did not average up to that figure, which was 7,022,115 feet for June, and so the annual amount shipped to Japan, Australia, China, South America was only 66,000,000 and some odd thousand feet.

The expected business for the fiscal year did not come up to hopes, for it was believed it might amount to 100,000,000. However, the business was better than might have been expected when things were off balance as they have been for the past 18 months.

Add to the 66,000,000 sent foreign the 13,000,000 which went to the Atlantic coast and the year shows 79,000,000 feet sold to consumers other than those on the Pacific coast.

The total number of cargoes sent foreign was 41 and to the Atlantic coast 13, or 54 cargoes besides the regular coastal business which Coos Bay mills enjoy.—Coos Bay Harbor.

5-Year Old Girl Killed

Delpha May Douhit, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denison, of Eastside, was shot and almost instantly killed near Catching Inlet bridge about 3:30 Sunday while she and her six-year-old sister, Madeline, were playing with a 22-rifle.

Delpha and Madeline were left to play with an infant brother in the cleared area where the family was picnicking, while the adults went to pick berries. The rifle had been used in target shooting and was left near the children.

Denison examined the rifle before leaving for the berry patch in the hills and is certain no bullet was in the barrel. It is believed that Madeline imitated the adults and loaded the rifle by pulling back the breech block.

The little child was heart broken after the accident and could not explain the shooting. Delpha was sitting down when Madeline pulled the trigger, she said. This story is borne out by the location of the bullet.

The bullet first passed through the child's wrist into her chest and the body was found by Glen Horton, driver for Gorst & King. Madeline was holding the child in her arms, vainly attempting to recall her to life.

Coroner Phil J. Keizer was called immediately but decided that no inquest would be necessary as accidental death was evident.—News.

Still Lives After High Drop

F. E. Brandon, of Powers, one of the best known high climbers in Coos county, fell 55 feet from a pole at the Stout Lumber company's new camp on South Inlet Tuesday.

Examination revealed no broken bones but he was pretty badly bruised and shaken up. He was rushed to the hospital in North Bend, where he is being cared for and it is believed that he will survive without any ill results.

Some reported that the drop was at least 75 feet. The line on which he was being hoisted broke. At the hospital it was stated that he landed on a pile of logs. How he could escape serious fractures is little short of miraculous.

Brandon was unconscious for a considerable time and even Wednesday was in a semi-conscious stupor, but the attending physicians said recovery was regarded as practically certain.

Guilty of Dynamiting Fish

On a charge of dynamiting fish George Hall, 20 years old, of Myrtle Point, pleaded guilty when arraigned there Tuesday before E. A. Dodge in justice court. He committed the dynamiting June 24 on the north fork of the Coquille river. He was fined $50.

Discussing Hall's fine afterwards, Game Warden Arthur Fish said: "Hall got off lightly. The presiding judge took into consideration his youth, but otherwise he would have been more severely dealt with. In the eyes of the law dynamiting fish is a serious offense and if convicted one is liable to six months in jail and a fine of $500."—Times.

EAST FORK NOTES

East Fork was the attraction for many people as the place to spend the Independence Day.

Those who got away from their jobs Friday night beat it for the camping places and stayed as late as they could Sunday before taking the back track to be on hand for their jobs Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose were out to their place. They had a good time but had to take some medicine for they found their two big water barrels had been stolen as well as their copper telephone wire which led from their house to Brewster Valley line on the road, that wire being their own individual property. Their loganberries were taken by somebody who did not ask permission or say thank you.

The great big majority of mankind are on the square. But there are about five percent which sometimes cause thought that possessed King David in his haste. For he said, "I said in my haste, all men are liars."

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, Mrs. Calkins, (Gretchen), and baby Martha, of Portland, and Delia, were out to the club grounds. Also the Noelers and the Goulds. The Hazards got along after dark. Mrs. Hacker, who is younger than she was last year, was with them. The Haville boys, Dick and Pat, were out, too, for they know the club ground is a good place to celebrate the Fourth of July. Sunday morning the girls and boys stopped to see us for a little while and it did us good for when the camping season comes around we have the kind of feeling that the children are coming home. Marjorie and Helen were not with the crowd this trip, we look for them later.

Mrs. Rose told us there were 21 around the camp fire at the club grounds Saturday night. Genevieve Chase had her holiday at the club grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jamison and three children—two, a pair of twin boys 3 months old,—of Curry county, are visiting Grandmother Howe and the Everett Howe family.

C. W. Nessler, of Sacramento, an engineer for the U. S. Geological survey, with Mrs. Nessler and little daughter, Eveline, are the camp keepers. Clarence P. Smith, of Portland, who is a student at the U. of O., and J. Albert Pine, of Sacramento, a high school graduate, who is looking ahead to taking the course to fit him for a mining engineer at the School of Mines, Colorado, are assistants in the survey work which has been done the past week between the East Fork and Cherry Creek. They finished their job Tuesday, broke camp Wednesday and started for Eugene. Their next job is in the Cascades in the vicinity of the McKenzie river. Mr. Nessler saw service in France in the 27th Engineers. They have been camped at Mountain Glade and we have found them good folks to have around.

If the county court puts up a $250,000 bond proposition so the county may pay its road debt to the state, it gets my vote. Any other kind of a bond proposition I fight. This county court has been overburdened with advisors.

Brewster Valley

Wm. Bettys, of Coquille, has been visiting friends in this vicinity this week.

Mrs. Binger Laird and children, of Roseburg, have been spending the week visiting relatives here. Binger came in for them Saturday evening, returning Sunday afternoon.

Wm. Smith, of Portland, spent the Fourth of July here with his children. He is going to work at the rock crusher in Gravel Ford for a while this summer.

J. R. Benham is laid up with a bad spell of rheumatism in his leg. Tom Krewson and son, Gene, of Drain, are spending a few days in these parts.

Mr. and Mrs. Verline Moore, of Fairview, visited home folks last week. Walter and Norman Laird have returned home from North Bend, where they were working their teams.

Rollie Alford and Ernest Krewson finished their trail job on Big Creek and returned home Wednesday evening.

Rollie and Elwin Alford made a trip to Coquille Friday. They brought out ice to make ice cream for several different families for the Fourth.
