Former Resident Buried Here

Mrs. Lydia Steele-Rumble was born in Empire May 15th, 1857, the daughter of Amos Rogers, a pioneer merchant of Coos county. When about 18 years of age she was married to Dr. D. L. Steele, the first permanent dentist to locate in Coquille. During their residence in Coquille two children, George and Carl, were born and both died in the diphtheria scourge of 1880, and are buried in the Masonic cemetery.

Leaving Coquille, Dr. Steele practiced dentistry in Marshfield several years, then moving to San Francisco where he practiced very successfully for many years. His health failing he came back to Coos county and located in Bandon where he practiced up to the time of his death in 1908.
He was a member of both the Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges from his early manhood.

After his death, Mrs. Steele married G. W. Rumble, a mining engineer of San Francisco and they lived in Berkeley up to the time of her death.
Mrs. Rumble was a woman of fine appearance, pleasing address and made many friends wherever she lived. She took a great interest in the Order of the Eastern Star and was a past Matron of Ivy Chapter, one of the prominent chapters of San Francisco, which conducted her funeral services at Berkeley.

Her father, who died at the age of 92, was a brother of the late Anson Rogers, of Coos River, and of Stephen Rogers now residing there. It was her last request that her body be cremated and that she be buried with her children in the cemetery at Coquille, and yesterday her wish was complied with when officers of Beulah Chapter deposited the urn containing her ashes beside the graves of her children in the family lot at the Masonic cemetery.

Body Found After 7 Years

Mrs. J. H. Radsbaugh, of Eugene, Oregon, writes the Sentinel that she is in receipt of a letter from Mrs.
Robert S. Tyrrell, of Modesto, Calif., stating that they had received a letter from the War Department, informing them that the grave of their son, Harold H. Tyrrell, Co. E. 4th Infantry, had been found in France. The body was recovered from an isolated grave, Commune of Bazoches, Department of Aisne, France.

Harold was reported nearly seven years ago as killed, being missing in action August 3rd, 1918, but only a careful search disclosed his grave.
The identification was positive, as the body bore his identification tag, with name, rank and serial number.
His watch was also found on the remains. The watch has just been received by his parents.

Harold is remembered by many, as a boy, having lived with his parents near Arago for a number of years, and was a nephew of Mrs. Edith Woodward, of Arago, Ore., and the knowledge of the finding of his grave, after all the years of uncertainty as to his fate, comes as a measure of relief to those bereaved.

Drowning at Myrtle Point

A. J. McBride, aged 28, was drowned about three-quarters of a mile below the bridge at Myrtle Point, late Sunday afternoon. He had gone in bathing, was unable to swim and stepped into a deep hole.

Clifford Applegate, his companion, who was bathing near him almost lost his life in an endeavor to save McBride. Applegate was unable to swim and rushed to McBride's aid.

Applegate went under but succeeded in reaching a root projecting into the edge of the hole and pulled himself out.

The drowning occurred about 3:30 and McBride's body was recovered about 6:45. Dr. Mast worked for quite a while to resuscitate him but all efforts were in vain.
