Letter from Capt. Burghdoff

The following is a copy of the letter sent to the Coquille Rod & Gun Club by Capt. A. E. Burghdoff, deposed game warden, just before he went out of office. It breathes a spirit of fairness and sincerity which will appeal to all sportsmen:

My dear Sportsmen: Upon this occasion, when my official ties with the sportsmen are severed, I desire to express my sincere appreciation for the co-operation and support extended to the Game Department and to myself personally during the more than five years in which I have been administrative head of the Game Department.

It has been a pleasure and satisfaction to work with men and organizations of such high ideals and principles. The greatest tribute that can be paid to a retiring public servant is expressed through the support he has received while in office.

For the welfare of Oregon, the western country and posterity it is my hope and desire that you as sportsmen will extend to my successor the same cordial support and co-operation you have extended to me that he may be able to do bigger and better things than I have been able to accomplish. With the affairs of the Game Department upon a sound and solid foundation and a five year construction program nearing completion, there is no reason why these desires should not be achieved. We have had to build as we went, but we turn over to our successors a well ordered department capable of delivering a wonderful service. Our one regret is seeing the Game Department made a tool of partisan politics, and it rests with the sportsmen to take such steps as are necessary to see that proven conservation principles are not permitted to be made the football of partisan politics.

Again thanking you and the members of your organization for the wonderful support and many courtesies extended to me, and assuring you of my continued interest in Oregon's conservation program, I am very gratefully yours, A. E. Burghdoff.

Marriage Licenses

July 18—Frank Edwin Meeum, of Remote, and Lillian Christian, of Bridge. They were married by Judge Mast in his office here the same day.

July 18—Dewey E. Cox, of Bandon, and Gladys Story, of Myrtle Point. Judge Mast performed the ceremony for them the same day at the court house.

July 18—Wm. Morrison, of Marshfield, and Hattie Dunham, of Coquille. They were also married by Judge Mast here the same day.

July 18—Ralph E. Lockhart, of Roadport, and Florence L. Churchill, of Marshfield.

July 20—Sterling F. Land and Hazel H. Southwick, both of Bandon. Judge Mast married them in the county court room the same day.

July 20—Selmer Swanson and Elizabeth Warniche, both of Marshfield.

July 21—Alton Sydnam, of Coquille, and Iva Young, of Bandon. They were married Tuesday by Justice W. J. Rust at his office in Marshfield.

Probate Court Items

A petition for probating the will of the late E. Lothard McClure was filed in probate court on Tuesday. His widow, Hally Belle McClure was appointed executrix. His estate consists of $1000 in personal property.

An order approving the final account of the F. R. Shores estate was issued by Judge R. H. Mast Tuesday. One heir is to receive a farm in North Dakota, one a Coquille business building and Glen R. Shores will receive a farm on the east fork of the Coquille river.

Chinook Season Is Open

The chinook salmon season is open on the Coquille river and a number of gillnetters are on the job but so far the run has been negligible. All the fish taken as yet have been sold to fresh fish buyers for express shipments. The run on Rogue river is increasing and the Bandon Cold Storage plant is receiving larger truck shipments than at any time this season.—Bandon World.

Two In on a Liquor Charge

P. Vegetator and Gladys Morgan were placed in jail here yesterday after being sentenced by Justice C. E. Mayhew for having liquor in possession. He was fined $500 and given four months in jail while the woman at whose place the liquor was found, got off with 30 days and $500.

Highway Contracts in Curry

Contracts for work on the Roosevelt highway between Pistol river and Brookings to the amount of about a million dollars are to be let soon; but it is, of course, not expected the work can be finished this fall.

More Streets Need Repair

Mayor Johnson and Councilmen Opperman, Willey, Farr and Chaney were present for a short session of the city council Monday evening.

Under the head of reports of officers, Street Commissioner Dungey stated that the planking on east Second, from the school house up the hill, was getting into such bad shape that it would require several thousand feet of lumber, and mean practically redecking the whole street, to put it into any sort of shape. The stringers also are rotting. He asked the council's wishes in the matter as to spending so much to repair it.

Councilman Chaney suggested that it might be paved, while others thought graveling might be satisfactory. In view of the city's experience with graveling on Fourth street the latter suggestion did not meet with favor.

After discussing the problem at some length it was decided to wait until an expression was heard from the property owners on Second, Third, Coulter, Beech, Hesth, Division and Maple streets, before starting an improvement program.

Mr. Willey reported that he had secured prices on boilers large enough to really heat the city hall. A sectional boiler would cost $480 and a round one $396. It was the general sentiment that the sectional boiler would be more satisfactory. The decision was, though, to wait a couple of weeks and learn from City Treasurer Sanford how much of the budget funds remained which could be used for that purpose.

Mayor Johnson stated that he had instructed City Engineer Vinton to have the flagpole, in the parking in Willard street, removed. It has been standing there about eight years and is rotting at the base.

The engineer was also instructed to secure a bid from the United Contracting Co. for cutting back the curbs eight or ten feet at the Coquille Service Station and Sentinel corners, and to pave either side of the highway where it intersects Second, full width, tapering back for fifty feet. The council, however, made no order that this be done.

Also at Bandon

Wednesday night a delegation of truck and timber men appeared before the Bandon city council on behalf of the streets in East Bandon leading to the wharf which have been nailed up. It was agreed that the timber men furnish the lumber and the city the labor to make the necessary repairs on Elmira avenue from the south side of Second street to the north side of First street and on First street from the west side of Elmira to the west side of Chicago.—World.

Investigating Bus Lines

The Oregon Public Service Commission has announced that it will conduct an investigation as to the rates, rules, practices, charges and regulations of the Coast Auto Lines. The investigation has been instituted on the Commission's own motion, there having been no complaint filed with them as to the company's rates. However, charges have been filed in other sections of the state and the commission decided to investigate all bus lines whose returns showed them to be making a fair return on their investment.

Geo Bryant, manager of the Coast Auto Lines, says that their rates are lower in most instances than rail rates, and that if he had "disclosed" the reports submitted the company would probably have escaped any investigation.

Along the Highway

Mrs. George Mass, of Norway, visited over the week end with her daughter, Mrs. Alex Petersen and family.

Mrs. M. D. Sherrard and niece, Miss Coy, spent Thursday in Marshfield shopping and visiting with friends.

Mrs. J. C. Noel and her friend, Mrs. Hall, visited a few hours Tuesday with the former's son, M. T. Clinton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith and son arrived home Sunday from Portland, where they attended the Elks' convention. They report a splendid time, although the weather was very warm.

Mrs. Fred Von Fegert went to Myrtle Point Thursday to visit her son, Lawton, and family.

Accident at the Bridge

A skidding coupe at the southwest approach to the bridge here Monday evening caused R. O'Connor, of Bandon, to be thrown through the windshield, cutting him severely about the right arm and narrowly missing covering the jugular vein. L. M. Machine, the Jap chef of the Westland Hotel was driving and when the car struck loose gravel on the turn it skidded into the railing and back again with such force as to throw the occupants out. O'Connor was treated by Dr. Gillis and Wednesday afternoon was able to walk over to the doctor's office and have the bandages and cast removed.

Small Blaze Last Saturday

The fire department was called out to extinguish a blaze on the roof of Joe Stanger's home about five o'clock last Saturday evening. Sparks from the chimney must have started the fire and one side of the roof was so badly burned as to require re-shingling.

At Battle Rock Today

Part Oxford is the objective for masses of visitors from all parts of the state today, this being the opening day of a three-days' encampment of the Spanish War Veterans of Oregon. It is a big undertaking for the southern Curry town but they have worked it with a determination to make their visitors comfortable and to entertain them in the best of style. Curry county hospitality is lavish on all occasions, but this is to be a special event and according to Northern Curry leaders who are in Bandon, nothing will be left undone to put that section on the map.

The community has prepared to house the visitors largely by the use of national guard tents and cots. All that can be accommodated will be given rooms in the hotels and private homes but it is expected that most of the visitors will come prepared to camp as will be taken care of in the big auto camp park at the lake. Some of the visitors plan to spend their nights at the hotels in Bandon, since it is only a little more than an hour's ride between Bandon and Port Oxford.

The program is to begin at noon today with a business session. Tonight at dusk the battle of Battle Rock, an historic event, is to be staged. Descendants of the survivors of the original battle of Battle Rock are to take part of the white men and members of Bandon Beachmen will play the role of Indians. The local boys will gather at Cappe garage at 6 p. m. prepared to take care for Port Oxford.—Bandon World

Pretty Low Down

A car was left in a garage overnight with gasoline in it and an extra quart of grease that was used when needed. The garage was left unlocked. Some unscrupulous person appropriated the gasoline and the grease. The owner of the car has had the same thing happen before and expressed himself as pleased that the wrench was left this time. Of course, the moral immediately forms itself in the mind to lock the cars up, but are we not displaying a sorry part of humanity if nothing is safe unless under lock and key.—Myrtle Point American.

A Wonderful Escape

While driving east on Second street Sunday a large car owned by J. L. Schaffer of Portland met with a peculiar accident. One of the planks laid lengthwise on the street to form a roadway, had been broken and a piece was sticking up. The car ran over it and it rammed through the floor, demolishing the muffler and puncturing the upholstery at the back of the rear seat. Two ladies were riding in the rear seat but were not injured.—Bandon World.

Trucks Replace Boats

The Myrtle Point Transportation company, which for the past 15 years has been giving water transportation on the Coquille river between Bandon and Myrtle Point, but which, due to the motor truck competition since the completion of the highway has been forced to practically quit the river, has now shifted its operations to the highway on a general plan, covering more territory than before.

Early this summer, a large truck was placed on the run between Bandon and Coquille taking the place of the steamer Telegraph and service has been satisfactory. This has prompted the company to expand so that on Monday morning service was established between Bandon, Marshfield, Coquille and Gold Beach. Three large trucks instead of one have been put in commission on the following schedule: Between Bandon and Marshfield one round trip daily, between Bandon and Coquille two round trips daily, between Bandon and Gold Beach two trips per week (Tuesdays and Fridays). Bandon World.

Will Finish Next Week

Within another week the graveling of the highway between Bandon and Coquille will be completed. When the Johnson Contract company ceased operations last winter there remained the third layer to be placed on part of the road and considerable additional gravel to be placed where the road became bad during the winter. The contract for this work was turned over to Schaffer Bros. & Chas. of Portland who have had four trucks on the job for several weeks. The remaining work is on the Coquille end and the gravel is shipped from Gaylord on the upper river to Coquille by train and there loaded onto trucks.—Bandon World.
