

EAST FORK NOTES

Mr. Slack, of Peoria, Ill., or vicinity, was a guest at the club grounds for a couple of days. He enjoyed the scenery of the East Fork and stores it in his memory as among the choice bits he has seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McIntyre, of Granger, Wash., are visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Howe, and other relatives.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young, of Arago, Fred's aunt, Mrs. Ella Young, and daughter, Miss Adie, of Seattle, and Mr. Lux, of Bandon, were on the East Fork taking in the beauties of the scenery.

We had known Fred when he was a small boy but had not seen him for a number of years, so he had us guessing. Their stopping under the maples increased the good cheer of the day.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strong, of near Myrtle Point, their children, Audrey, Ardye and DeLoe, Tillie and Olga Lang and Elbert Schroeder, of Myrtle Point, at the wheel of the car in which were Mrs. Strong and the children. Mr. Strong and Audrey were in a little truck. They with friends were taking the day's lay off at a camping spot beyond the head of Brewster Valley.

When they came back in another little truck, were their son, Clarence, who has taken up a homestead on Camus Creek, Elton Schroeder, of Myrtle Point and Gordon Wilson, of Oregon City. They all stopped for a few minutes under the maples. The Strong place was one of my stopping places when I was hauling stuff to town. There were only two children then and they were not sizable; Clarence, the larger, and the little girl, now their married daughter, living at Bandon. I knew the good stopping places on the road. It was a long haul those days between home, Myrtle Point, Coquille, Bandon, Marshfield. If the stuff was worth anything, the time and team were not worth anything, and if the time and team were worth anything, the stuff was not worth anything. So it was just as broad as it was long, either way you measured. I was never skunked with a load entirely and I had lots of fun and the fun still pays dividends in the continued smiles and good cheer of the friends and acquaintances of those days.

T. M. Stover, of the Whitehouse ranch, and Ed. M. Hoffman, of the Hoffman bridge ranch, were on the East Fork Sunday. They got some wheat of Neal Gearhart and then came up to Mountain Glade. For years I have heard of the Hoffmans and this was the first time of meeting him. In October, 1854, his father and mother settled on the place. That causes me to think they have been there some time for my birthday was Sept. 30, 1854, and it is only when I remember that year can I understand why the bucket of milk should feel heavier than it used to.

The Hoffmans surely did come to Coos when Coos was young and have been with it in its growing up. He told me about his mother who for 21 years, as far as moving her body was concerned, was helpless. And that she kept herself alive in spirit by writing. Her personal correspondents were numerous and living in several states. It was no uncommon thing for her to receive 8 or 10 letters in a mail.

Any bond proposition at this time outside of the $280,000 gets hard hit by these men.

The annual dinner of the KoKeel Kanu Klub was held at their club grounds Sunday. The membership represented as follows: Jos. Harville and family, Pat and Dick Harville, C. T. Skeels and family, Mack Geo. Hastley and two children, Leo J. Cary and family, L. H. Hazard and family, Mrs. Burrell, Mrs. Hacker, A. J. Sherwood and family, Liljeqvist family, A. N. Gould and family.

As the Cary family went past Sunday night, I was feeding the calves and they stopped long enough to add a bit of good cheer.

Monday the campers rolled their blankets and returned to their daily duties. The day's work is easier for me because they have been here. The annual sing last Friday night is a strength builder for my soul.

The bond proposition will be cast out, judging from the way I have heard people talk, except the $280,000 and every body won't vote for that.

I am of the opinion that this bond election will show the ax-grinding advisers of the county court that they are a cultus outfit as advisers for the voters.

Brewster Valley
Mr. Julius Benham motored to Drain Tuesday, returning Thursday. Mrs. E. A. Krewson came home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogan, of Montana, arrived here Wednesday evening for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hale.

A number of Brewster Valley people have been spending the latter part of the week at the beach enjoying the sea.

A. Nickason and C. M. Wilson went down Friday. Elwin Alford, Albert Christensen, Lon Hale and Mr. Hogan going Sunday.

Miss Edna Alford spent several days last week visiting at the E. P. S. Abernathy home.

Miss Irene Moore returned Sunday from Sumner, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Laird went to Coquille Saturday, returning Sunday. Kenneth Laird came home from Rock Creek Tuesday. He has been working in a Cedar camp there.

Mrs. Mary Laird accompanied Kenneth Laird to town Thursday.

Lewis and Frank English and their mother made a business trip to Coquille Saturday.

J. R. Benham visited at the home of George Benham in Fairview Saturday and Sunday.

Grandma Laird visited at the J. D. Laird home Thursday and Friday of last week.

Swimming and car riding seems to be a popular sport among the Brewster Valley young people this summer.

Eliminate Vacation Worries

While you are away this summer on vacation or week end trips, your mind will not be free from worry if your valuable papers are left at the office or around the home—thereby being subject to loss by fire or theft.

This worry can be eliminated by placing such valuables in a Safety Deposit Box here at the First National where steel walls plus concrete give them the best possible protection for a trifle over a cent a day.
