Gun Club to Give Dance

The Coquille Rod & Gun Club are planning on giving a big dance here in Graham's Hall, Saturday, Aug. 15. The purpose of the dance is to raise funds for defraying the expenses of Coquille's representatives to the national shoot at Dayton, Ohio, this month. The awards given the winners at the shoot are trophies only. Should their expenses be paid it would make professionals of them and the shoot is an amateur affair.

Further details concerning the dance will be announced later.

Murder at North Bend

George J. Holmes, aged 24, was shot and killed about 10 o'clock Wednesday night by a gun in the hands of J. R. Haless, of North Bend, following what is declared to have been a drinking party in the Harless garage on the Waterfront highway near North Bend. Five shots entered the body of the victim and the sixth burned his back, entering the flesh and coming out a few inches apart. Haless held for the murder, confessed to the shooting. Nathan Dess, the third member of the party witnessed the shooting.

According to Haless' own story the three men had been drinking and Derr had lain down on a couch. Holmes, Haless said, kept taking small articles out of Derr's pockets, and Haless interfered.

Following a quarrel between the two, which Derr said he only partly understood, Haless drew the gun, which he had strapped around his waist a few minutes prior to the shooting, and began to shoot. The first shot creased Holmes across the back, as he was going toward the door and as he turned toward Haless, the next three shots struck him in the abdomen. Holmes then fell backward on the floor and Haless fired another shot through his heart, another shot was fired through the left sholder.

Derr stated he was held spellbound by surprise, the shooting occurring too rapidly for him to interfere. When asked how fast he shot, Haless said he shot as fast as he could.

Following the killing of Holmes Haless aroused Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Erlandson, proprietors of the O. W. C. grocery next door, and said, "there's a man been shot. Will you call the police?" Haless then awaited the officers, standing outside the door until they appeared. Mrs. Erlandson called Night Officer Hurd, who notified Chief Jackson and together they went to the scene of the killing. Mr. Haless freely told his story and answered questions put to him.

Holmes is survived by his wife, his parents in Port Orford, and two brothers, one of Reedsport and one living in Port Orford.

Mrs. Holmes was formerly Henrietta Boosinger of Portland, and met Mr. Holmes there. The ceremoney uniting the two in marriage was performed in North Bend just four weeks ago, by Dr. J. E. Snyder. The wedding occurred at the Standard rooms where the widow is making her home temporarily.

At the time of the tragedy, Mrs. Holmes was helping Mrs. L. Woolman of Charleston, clean house. Mrs. Woolman was notified of the death, and imparted the sad news to the young wife.

Derr told the officers that when he left the garage a small gun was lying about two feet from Holmes' left hand. When the officers arrived it was found in Holmes' armpit. According to Haless' story, Holmes drew this gun before he, (Haless) started shooting, but a later examination revealed no shells, either empty or charged, in the cylinder.

Haless was taken before Justice of the Peace Maybee yesterday, where he waived examination and was brought over here to jail last evening.

Dogs Saved His Life

Bob Kyle, formerly with the telephone company at Marshfield, was nearly killed by a mad bull on the Marsh ranch in Curry county Wednesday. He was saved only through the work of his two dogs, who tore the ring out of the animals nose, chewed off one of his ears and half his tail.

Kyle, who is working the Marsh ranch, had gone to get the bull which had escaped, and was standing beside his horse, talking to two ladies across the fence when the bull charged and hit him in the side. As he fell he called to the dogs and remembers nothing that happened afterwards.

When the dogs finally had driven the beast off, the ladies got Kyle into the house, but so infuriated was the animal that it kept butting against the house all night, whenever it heard voices, and in the morning tried to break in.

Nothing was left to do but kill it and four rifle shots were fired into it before it dropped, two of them in the head and two in the neck.

Kyle was badly bruised from the clawing and butting of the beast, but he will recover.

CARE OF CONVALESCENT IN SUMMER

For those who are just recovering from a serious illness the problem of food is a serious one. The patient, though well on the road to recovery, is usually weakened by the rigors of disease and the excessive heat is wont to sap his energy. Hence, the foods that are consumed during this period should be considered carefully as to digestibility, food value, ease of assimilation, purity and sterility. These are important in any food but especially so when the consumer is not strong and healthy.

In most cases, the one who is convalescing consumes milk in large quantities. This food contains all of the elements that are essential to the body. If milk is pure and germless, it is easily digested and assimilated.

Where the milk supply is uncertain or the quality not of the best, evaporated milk should be employed. It is sterile; it is just pure milk with about sixty per cent of the water removed. Its double richness may be modified, if desired, by the addition of water or it may be used just as it is, where rich, creamy dishes are desired.

Many people make the mistake of confusing evaporated milk with condensed milk. They are not at all similar in appearance, composition or taste. They cannot be used for the same purposes; condensed milk is a combination of sugar and milk; evaporated milk has no added sugar, being pure milk of double-rich quality and food value.

Following are recipes of easily prepared dishes and foods that are well suited for the invalid and the convalescent.

Loganberry Cream.

¾ cup evaporated milk
¼ cup water
½ cup loganberry juice
2 tbsp. lemon juice
Pinch salt

Put all ingredients in a Mason fruit jar and shake thoroughly. Chill and serve in glasses filled ¼ full of ice chips. Raspberry, blackberry, and cherry juice may be used instead of the loganberry.

Iced Cocoa.

2 tsp. cocoa
2 tsp. sugar
¼ cup water
Pinch salt
½ cup evaporated milk diluted with ½ cup water
¼ tsp. vanilla

Mix cocoa and sugar thoroughly and add the ¼ cup water and boil over a low flame for 15 minutes. Scald the diluted milk and add cocoa syrup and salt. Continue cooking for 15 minutes in double boiler. Add vanilla. Chill and serve with chipped ice. Top with whipped cream.

FOOD FOR CHILDREN WHO TRAVEL

Many times, and especially during the summer months, mothers are forced to take their children on trips with them. During these trips, the parent is forced to contend with that ever-present and serious problem of food for the child.

As in almost every other case, the chief source of worry, during these periods, is the milk supply, its source its purity and its food value. It is not always convenient to get market milk of dependable quality for, in many sections of the country, adequate facilities for its care are not provided. To meet the needs of mothers in these trying situations, science has provided a form of milk, conveniently carried and easily prepared. The cans are in two sizes, the one containing six ounces an., the other sixteen.

Evaporated milk is just pure cows' milk with more than half of the water removed. None of its food value is lessened; in fact its digestibility is improved. It is easily mixed with water and is, undoubtedly, the most practical form of milk for use as a food for children. Some of the country's leading pediatricians recommend its use, employing the following formula:

From Sixth Week to Third Month.

Milk, evaporated ..... 4 ounces
Lime water ..... 2 ounces
Milk sugar ..... 2 ounces
Boiled water ..... 26 ounces

Seven feedings in twenty-four hours; 4 to 5 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and four-hour intervals at night.

From Third Month to Fifth Month.

Milk, evaporated ..... 7½ ounces
Lime water ..... 3 ounces
Milk sugar ..... 2 ounces
Boiled water ..... 29½ ounces

Six feedings in twenty-four hours; 6 to 8 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and a feeding at 10 p. m.

From Fifth to Seventh Month.

Milk evaporated ..... 10 ounces
Lime water ..... 3 ounces
Milk sugar ..... 2 ounces
Boiled water ..... 29 ounces

Five feedings in twenty-four hours; 6 to 7 ounces at four-hour intervals, the last feeding to be given at 10 p. m.

From Seventh to Ninth Month.

Milk, evaporated ..... 11 ounces
Lime water ..... 3 ounces
Milk sugar ..... 2 ounces
Boiled water ..... 25 ounces

7 to 9 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day. Last feeding at ten at night.

From Ninth to Twelfth Month.

Milk, evaporated ..... 12 ounces
Lime water ..... 3 ounces
Milk sugar ..... 2 ounces
Barley water ..... 34 ounces

8 to 9 ounces at four-hour intervals during day. Last feeding at ten at night.

The Farmers' Picnic which is to be held in the Norway Grove on the 22nd of August, is an event worth marking on the calendar. It will have both interest and pleasure for all, whatever their occupations.

An excellent program is being prepared, which includes speeches by Governor Pierce, State Market Agent C. E. Spence, and others, and some excellent orchestral music. The afternoon will be devoted to baseball and other sports. Dinner will be of the good old "bring your own basket" variety, with coffee served free of charge.

Don't worry about your battery when you can take it to an expert at the Coquille Service Station and have it inspected.
