J. J. Stanley and family returned Tuesday evening from their week's trip to Newport. On the way home they made a trip up the Mackenzie river highway as far as the road was good. They found very pleasant weather at Newport.

Mrs. A. T. Eldon returned last week from her month's visit in Washington and British Columbia. She was mightily pleased to get home where it is cool and easy from the speed and confusion which characterized all the main highways.

T. Brooks Hogan came down here from Gresham, Ore., last Friday and with James Thift went down to Langlois to look over the Thrift ranch for the heirs. The courts have just dispossessed Geo. Laird of any right or title to the ranch. Mr. Hogan left for home again Tuesday.

It will be easier and more pleasant to take your Sunday dinner at the new Coquille Hotel.

Marshal B. L. Hollenbeck and family returned last Monday afternoon from their trip into northern California. They found it so hot they were glad to return before the end of Bert's two weeks' vacation. E. A. Wimer and family left them at Klammath Falls, not expecting to be home for a week or so yet.

Deputy Sheriff S. A. Malehorn started on his two weeks' vacation last Saturday evening. This week he has been working around his place on the Marshfield highway, but expects next week to take a trip down the coast and he may get over to Diamond lake for a few days' fishing.

We note that Mrs. Ada May Ekblad, who was a teacher for several years here in Coquille, while Miss Newell, before her marriage, and who has been teaching at Marshfield since her widowhood, has resigned as teacher of mathematics there to accept a position in Long Beach, California.

A. W. Treshler, foreman of the pressroom of the Daily Record, of Los Angeles, California, who used to live in Coquille forty years ago, dropped in to see us yesterday. He was on an auto trip north with his wife and came by way of Coquille to see if he could find any of his old acquaintances of 1885 still living here.

A. K. Bowen, of San Francisco, a machinist representing the Mergenthaler Linotype company, called on the Sentinel Wednesday and came back the next day to place on our machine a new part that has been waiting for two years for such a visit. Meantime he had been visiting the offices at the bay to attend to such troubles as they have there.

Mrs. Ed Moeller and son, of Toledo, Oregon, and Virgil Benham, of Portland, have been here for the past week visiting Mrs. Sarah Wickham and other relatives. From Friday evening until Sunday evening, with Mrs. Wickham, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Omundson and Miss Marian Young, they spent with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barton and family at their cabin on Bandon beach.

Surprise Party for Her Mother.

A few friends of Mrs. F. Schram called Tuesday to surprise her mother, Mrs. B. A. Davis, who is visiting here from Salem. The afternoon was spent in sewing and chat. Light refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. The ladies present were Mrs. Cecil Elwood and daughter Eulamay, Mrs. Ralph Lucas and daughter Josephine, Mrs. Bert Sanders and daughters Beatrice and Lorain, Mrs. Geo. Gilman and daughter, Elda, Mrs. W. A. Gilbert and son Bobbie, Mrs. Melvin Kern and daughters, Mary, Betty and Lucile, Mrs. John Belloni and daughter Phyllis, Mrs. W. W. Sander and the honored guest and Frank Schram Jr.

His Appendix Had Bursted

Arthur W. Graham was operated on last Monday night for appendicitis by Dr. Jas. Richmond. Arthur had gone up to McKinley, where his family was camping on Sunday and next morning was taken sick. Before he could be brought to the hospital here his appendix had bursted. A strange thing is that he had had no previous indication of the trouble. He is slightly improved and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Two Wedding Anniversaries

County Judge and Mrs. R. H. Mast celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary with a family gathering at their home here Wednesday evening. All their children, except Dr. R. H. Mast, of Myrtle Point, and their families were present. Also J. W. Mast, of Bandon, and Miss Mast, of Lee.

The same day was the twenty-ninth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hazard.

Three Escape From Pen

National guardsmen, police, sheriffs, officers, penitentiary guards and volunteers are combing the country around Salem today for three convicts who escaped from the prison Wednesday night in a break in which two guards and one escaping convict were killed, says a Salem press dispatch of yesterday. Twenty state troopers under command of Major Tom Rhyne, reported as a dispatch by Governor Pierce's orders. A detachment of police and deputy sheriffs from Portland are aiding in the hunt.

J. M. Holman, 55, guard; John Sweetney, 59, guard; and Bert "Oregon" Jones, escaping convict, are dead.

Late Savage, another guard, was shot through the body just below the heart.

Ellsworth Kelly, Jim Murray and James Wilcox are at large, all heavily armed and pursued by posse.

Oregon Jones was shot dead by John Davison, 46, frontiersman and veteran prison guard, just as Jones was going over the prison wall. Warden Dalrymple wounded Murray with a shot gun.

Jones, Kelly, Murray and Wilcox cut their way through the roof at the dinner hour, reached the ground and entered the turnkey's office where they over-powered the guards. They then seized four rifles, a shot gun and a quantity of ammunition in the arsenal. They shot the guards in lower No. 1 and went over the wall.

They ran to the insane hospital where they commandeered a taxi, which took them to Pratum, nine miles east of Salem, where they bound and gagged driver Zina Zinn and C. V. Iltis, hospital attendant who had summoned the taxi to remove his belongings from the hospital. The convicts took the clothing from the men and $400 from Iltis. Zinn said Murray was wounded in the right arm and side by a shot gun.

The region near Pratum, where the convicts disappeared, bristled with guns today, as Oregon indulged in an old-time man hunt. More than 125 possemen are out, with orders "shoot to kill."

A possible clue was found Thursday in the robbery of a gasoline station at Siverton, where the lock was shot off.

Warden Dalrymple reported he saw an ex-convict in a large automobile near the prison shortly before the break. He believes the man intended abiding the prisoners.

Kelley and Murray are known in the coast section and may make an attempt to reach friends north of here. It was Murray who led the raid on the Florence bank, a year or more ago, and Kelley was the man who aided him and kept him hidden before his capture. They are hard-boiled men who will not easily be taken, and with the high powered guns they stole, will be a menace to society whenever they may seek an asylum.

W. O. W. Entertainment

Capt. T. Jones, famous magician, gave a very interesting exhibition of prestidigitation at the W. O. W. hall Wednesday evening, to the delight of a large crowd which had been invited to be present. His mystifying stunts were very clever.

During the intermission in the program, Frank Tichenor, of Port Orford, spoke at length on the aims and accomplishments of the Woodmen of the World, and several of those present made application to join the order when the large class is initiated over at the Bay the latter part of this month.

How Marshfield Figures

Coquille property must be advancing much more rapidly in value than those of us here know. The Coos Bay Times says there was a $10,000 fire here Wednesday. But the loss on contents was not over $700 and the whole dock cost but $225, thirteen years ago. The dock will require some repair to make it as good as ever. The shed on it cost less than $500, but it couldn't be rebuilt for that now. $2,000 would cover the entire loss.

Special Notice

On account of a ruling by the post-office department we can only furnish the Oregon Farmer at the low rate we have been charging for it when $1.00 is paid in connection with a Sentinel subscription—but this really doesn't increase the price at all, as we furnish it for five years for the dollar.

No more cranking your car when you have your battery recharged at Coquille Service Station. All work guaranteed.

Warranty and Bargain & Sale Deals for sale at the Sentinel office.

Headlight Law, Sept. 1st

The new state law regarding head lights on automobiles goes into effect Sept. 1, and every auto owner or driver must have his lights adjusted according to the new system by that date. The idea covered by the law is that it will not be necessary to dim headlights hereafter, except on black top paving when it is wet. The following is a portion of the revised statute covering headlights:

Every motor vehicle, except motorcycles, operated or driven upon the public highways of this state shall exhibit during the period from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise, and at all times when fog or other atmospheric conditions render the operation of said motor vehicle dangerous to traffic or the use of highways, two head lamps, of approximately equal candlepower, not in excess of twenty-one candlepower. Such head lamps shall be mounted on the motor vehicle at the front thereof adjacent to and at each side of the radiator and so that the centers thereof, when measured from the surface upon which the vehicle stands, will not be less than twenty-four inches or more than fifty inches above such surface, and so that the entire head lamp or any part thereof can not be moved when the vehicle is in motion to raise the beam of light in a perpendicular position above the level of the center of the head lamp; such head lamps shall show white or clear lights visible at least 500 feet or more in advance of said vehicle, and every motorcycle shall have mounted on the front thereof at least one head lamp.

L. L. Hooker's was the first garage and service station in Coquille to be authorized by the secretary of state to adjust head and spot lights. He received his commission Monday.

POULTRY FACTS

RHODE ISLAND REDS NEW POPULAR BREED

The Rhode Island Reds are the newest of the popular breeds of general purpose fowls. The breed originated in Rhode Island. It was developed by farmers engaged in poultry raising. The Malay, Buff Orpington, Buff Leghorn and Wyandotte are said to have been used in its development. In type the Rhode Island Red has a rather long, rectangular body, and is somewhat rarer in appearance than the Plymouth Rock or Wyandotte. The hens are good layers and the breed makes a good table fowl. There are two varieties, the rose and single-combed. The Rhode Island Whites are a more recent breed developed with similar type.

The Wyandotte is a non-combed breed and is characterized as a breed of curves. The body is somewhat round and is set lower on the legs than the Plymouth Rock. The feathers are less compact than the Rhode Island Red and its general shape and feathering gives it the appearance of being slight backed and short bodied. The Wyandotte was developed in the United States and the blood of the Dark Brahma, the Silver-Spangled Hamburg and the Buff Orpington played a part in its origin. The varieties are white, buff, silver, golden, partridge, silver partridge, Columbian and Black.

The Plymouth Rock has for many years been the most popular breed of general purpose fowls. It is a breed which originated in the United States and it is probable that the blood of the Dominique, Buff Orpington, Malay Java, Dorking and Old Game was used in its development. The breed is good sized, rather long bodied, with fairly prominent breast and good depth, showing a well rounded carcase when viewed. The varieties of the Plymouth Rock are crowd, white, buff, blue partridge, partridge and Columbian.

Landing Field at Bandon

Bandon is interested in securing an airplane landing site. Joe Barrows, accompanied by Mrs. Barrows and his younger brother, arrived here from Crescent City by plane last Friday. Mr. Barrows conferred with A. E. Backus, of the city council, Herbert Brown, president of the chamber of commerce, and others in view of determining whether a suitable site could be obtained. He is endeavoring to secure an aerial mail contract between the northern California cities and Portland and wants to make a stop at Bandon en route.

The Coos tract of ten acres in West Bandon, near the city park, was considered the most feasible but was not been determined. The tract is already cleared and would require little work to make it level and suitable for landing.

Lloyd Eggett has offered a ten acre tract along the highway south of town free, but it is not cleared.

Those interested would like to secure a tract sufficiently large to accommodate a golf course and trap-shooting grounds, in view of establishing a country club that it is thought would be another desirable feature to attract tourists. Nearly all of the tourists coming from larger centers, particularly business and professional men, carry golf sticks now and will remain several days at a place where they can play golf. It is argued that if Bandon touch is to get its share of the better class of tourists a golf course must be provided.—Western World.
