Sued for $5000 Damages

Joe Nilsen was found guilty by Justice J. J. Stanley last Saturday and fined $20 for assault and battery on John Gentry. No one else was present when the affair took place and Nilsen claims that Gentry struck him with a hoe before he laid hands on the latter. Gentry lives on a ranch near Riverton, which he has under lease from Nilsen.

Nilsen gave notice of appeal from the $20 fine assessed and will carry the case to the Circuit court.

In the meantime Gentry has filed a suit for $5,000 damages in the Circuit court.

Mr. Nilsen is represented by Jas. Watson and Mr. Gentry by Grant Corby.

Judge J. L. Coke on Bay

Judge Jas. L. Coke, of Honolulu, who has been visiting his brother, Thomas Coke, at the Bay, states that Frank Harlocker, former Coquille boy, who was with the First National bank of Coos Bay for a year or so, now has a fine position at Hilo with one of the biggest corporations on the islands. Mr. and Mrs. Harlocker plan to leave Honolulu next Wednesday to visit here.

Warren Letrd, former deputy sheriff of Coos county and brother-in-law of Alf Johnson of Coquille, is now managing a hotel for the island railroad system.

Mr. Coke confirmed the report that strong pressure was being brought to bear on John S. Coke to become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. However, Jas. Coke advised him not to run as he has a fine law practice there with Franklin T. Griffith, and would be making a big financial sacrifice to take public office now.—Coos Bay Times.

They Don't Save It

Roger Babson, noted economist, says: "It is a fact that ninety out of every hundred men make enough money between the ages of thirty and fifty to keep themselves and family in comparative luxury. The rest of their lives, but government statistics show that at the age of 60, only eight out of a hundred have saved enough to retire."
