Logging Company Sued

The C. C. Carter Logging Co., of Myrtle Point, is having lots of grief. Various and sundry liens have been filed against the property of the defendant and yesterday A. E. Seaman filed a complaint in Circuit court for the following named creditors of the company:

- Baker-Isaacson Rope Co., Marshfield, supplies, $90.55.
- F. W. Stevens, North Bend, printing, $31.25.
- Standard Oil Co., gas and oil, $304.82.
- Z. T. Young, Myrtle Point, labor, $40.75.
- W. I. Cribbins, Myrtle Point, labor, $83.44.
- G. T. Smith, Myrtle Point, labor, $191.60.

Yesterday's Accidents

Alvin Waterman, aged 22, who has been working in a logging camp at Myrtle creek, was seriously injured in an unusual accident yesterday afternoon. While driving a truck and passing another truck a log chain in some manner was swung around striking him in the head and fracturing his skull. It is expected that he will recover.

Irvan Rowland was brought in from the Coos Bay Lumber Company's yards Thursday with a contusion of the left knee. Rowland fell off a 12-foot trestle.

T. M. Gentry, an employee of the Western White Cedar company, received a contusion of the left foot when some lumber fell from a pile and hit his foot.

Both men are being taken care of by Dr. Dix.—Coos Bay Times.

Barbecue at Port Orford

There were about 250 in attendance at the venison barbecue given by the Masons of Port Orford last Sunday for Masons, members of the Eastern Star and their families. The picnic was held at the foot of Battle Rock and those who went say they never attended a more enjoyable affair of that kind. The venison was done to the queen's taste, and the spread furnished by the hosts left nothing to be desired. Those going from Coquille were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Evland, Bert Folsom and family and Capt. and Mrs. Thos. D. White.

Briner-Looney

Elmer C. Briner, of the O. K. barber shop was last Monday united in marriage to Miss Anita Looney, of Bandon, at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. J. S. Penix performing the ceremony. Miss Looney is the daughter of B. W. Looney, and formerly resided at Glendale, Ore.

The symptoms of approaching matrimony, which were mentioned in the Sentinel two or three weeks ago in connection with a "Lost" item, were correctly diagnosed after all:

Tries to Kill Himself

Jack Adams, a young man who has been working in a meat market at Myrtle Point attempted suicide Thursday afternoon by stabbing himself in the lung. The alleged cause of his attempt at self destruction is domestic trouble. He was married about three months ago to Miss Louise Robinson, who was cook in the Mast hospital there. It is expected he will recover, says a press dispatch.

Miss Fayma Arant

Miss Fayma Arant, popular 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Arant of Myrtle Point, died suddenly of heart failure at Sandy Creek Sunday evening on the eve of her departure for Monmouth Normal school. The girl's death was entirely unexpected as she appeared in good health. She suddenly dropped over in the house and when Dr. R. H. Mast arrived he found her dead.—News.

Bandon Man Wins $100

G. E. Slagle, of Bandon, is the author of the best letter written to the Marshfield Coos and Curry Motor company of "Why that company sold more cars than others," according to the judges. Mr. Slagle, in his letter, touched upon the make of car, the extensive advertising done by Mr. Smith and the courteous manner of his selling staff. He will be awarded $100 cash payment on any model Star car.—World.

More Improvements at Bandon

At a meeting of the Bandon Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening Dr. S. C. Endicott, chairman of the street committee, reported that the necessary funds for the improvement of First street, north, had been raised amounting to $500 and the work was nearly completed. The amount was raised as follows: school board, $300; subscription, $160; city, $40.

Large Registration at U. of O.

The number of new students who have applied for admission to the University of Oregon increased in the past week from 1096 to 1292, and the total will exceed 1300 by a comfortable margin before freshman pre-registration week begins Monday, according to Carlton E. Spencer, registrar.

Of the 1292 new candidates for admission, 113 have been denied admission by the University either because of failure to meet scholastic requirements or because, as non-residents, they could not qualify for admission to the state universities of their own states.

An analysis of the credentials of applicants shows that 1024 of the new students who have applied are freshmen, of whom 818 are Oregon residents. Two hundred and six non-resident freshmen have applied, but only 139 have been accepted for admission. Students who do not reside in the state must pay a non-resident fee.

Two hundred and thirty-five new students with better than advanced standing have applied for admission. Every indication points to the largest freshman class and the biggest total enrollment in the history of the University during the college year 1925-26, says Registrar Spencer.

Sent to Reform School

Elton Culbertson, the 13-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Culbertson, of Bandon, who was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Malehorn last week for breaking into a number of cabins and houses at Bandon, and stealing a lot of stuff, was declared to be incorrigible in Juvenile court yesterday and ordered committed to the State Training School by Judge Mast. The youngster has been in the custody of Probation Officer Morrison this week and will be taken to Salem at once.

For Defrauding Inn Keeper

Andrew Cotton, who had just returned to Coquille after being gone since June 1, was arrested Tuesday, charged with beating a board bill at the Donaldson restaurant. He pleaded not guilty in Justice Stanley's court and is held in lieu of $50 until his trial can be held.

Guard Against Cholera Among Hogs This Season

Hog cholera, as is well known, is a disease that runs in cycles. It is less virulent in some years than in others and those who are well posted on these cycles claim that we are now entering upon a period of a virulent form of cholera. Breeders of hogs should bear this in mind and not become careless about vaccinating their pigs this year. It is especially important to protect the pig crop against disease because hogs are bringing a good price on the market and will continue to do so for some time to come. While feed is still high in price, lower values will undoubtedly prevail before the pig crop is ready for the market. In other words, it looks as though hogs will afford the best market for the coming corn crop, hence the importance of guarding them against disease.

Vaccination of the pigs a few days after weaning should be the rule this year. It provides cheap insurance that no hog breeder can afford to disregard at any time, but we believe that this is a year when it should be given special thought and attention, says the Iowa Homestead. Many hog men hold licenses to vaccinate their own hogs and whenever that is the case the expense will be small, for good serum is selling at very reasonable figures.

Corn Good for Sows

When the sow begins to show a loss of weight from suckling her litter she can be fed all her appetite demands. Shelled corn is the most suitable grain if it is properly supplemented by a good stop. Corn is rich and high in energy and a fine feed if used with proper judgment. Eyan needs to be supplied in small amounts only and is not necessary if the shorts are of a bulky nature. The stop should be reasonably thick and composed partly of skim milk if available.

Blossoms Every Month

The Calendula plant gets its name from the fact that it was supposed to blossom on the first day of the calendar, according to the old Roman reckoning, of each month in the year.

Baffin Island's Obscurity

Baffin Island is the third largest island in the world yet little more is known of it today than when it was discovered by Frobisher 349 years ago.—Science Service.

Loss by Wood Decaying

Decay of wood in the United States causes an annual loss equivalent to 3,696,157,000 cubic feet of standing timber or 14.5 of the total quantity removed from the forests each year.
