The Coos and Curry County Sunday School convention will be held in the M. E. Church South at Coquille, on Saturday, afternoon 2 o'clock and evening 7:30 o'clock, of Oct. 10th, and Sunday afternoon and evening, Oct. 11th. A fine program has been prepared in which local and state officials will participate. Special music is being prepared for each service.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson, of Portland, wants to meet the high school girls for a conference on Sunday afternoons.

Among the state workers coming will be Dr. J. McKee, Dr. W. Milliken, Rev. W. L. Van Nuys and Mrs. J. M. Johnson.

Every Sunday School is asked to send delegates and a cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend the convention.

Convention slogan: "A Citizenship that Counts."

Three New Royal Arch Masons

A delegation of Coquille Masons were in Marshfield Tuesday evening to attend the meeting of the Royal Arch when the Most Excellent Master and Past Master degrees were conferred on Henry E. Hess, Jos. A. Harville and Geo. E. Oarding. The others making the trip were John and Perry Lawrence, Lowell Simpson, R. H. Mast, F. G. Leslie, O. C. Sanford, E. G. Opperman, E. H. Harnden, J. W. Laird, L. H. Hazard, and H. A. Young. The other two degrees will be conferred Tuesday evening of next week.

Using Paint Gun at Powers

J. D. Bell returned last week from Powers, where he had been for a few weeks painting all the buildings at the Eden Ridge camp of the Coos Bay Logging Co. He used his spray pump and so well were the company officials satisfied that they requested him to come back next week and paint all the boxcars and cabooses of their rolling stock.

That paint gun of Mr. Bell's is proving very satisfactory wherever he has used it.

Mrs. Brady Entertains

Mrs. Jas. Brady was a charming hostess Thursday at a one o'clock bridge luncheon. A color scheme of yellow was used about the rooms and in the luncheon. The following guests were seated about the tables: Mesdames T. B. Currie, J. L. Aasen, H. C. Getz, Clarence Tuttle, Roy Neal, A. B. Collier, F. C. McNelly, A. O. Walker and the hostess Mrs. J. L. Aasen held high bridge score.

Entertained for Mrs. Parr

Mrs. Paul Van Scoy entertained at a one o'clock luncheon last Friday for Mrs. Lynn Parr, covers being placed for Mesdames H. A. Young, F. L. Greenough, Frank Leslie, Keith Leslie, Grant Bunch, J. Arthur Berg, R. H. Mast, the honor guest and hostess. Fancy work and chat were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Coquille Dance Saturday Night

Earl Graham will open the Saturday night dancing season at Graham's Hall tomorrow, Saturday, with a six piece orchestra and a number of special features. Next Saturday night will occur a big dance for the benefit of the Corn Show.

M. E. Church

There will be services Sunday evening at the M. E. Church at 7:30 p. m. conducted by Rev. W. E. Rambo, who has spent 20 years in India and three years in the Near East. Seldom do you have an opportunity of hearing such a man. Everybody invited.

M. E. Church, South

The morning services at the M. E. Church, South, will be conducted by A. B. Jones, a business man bringing a message especially to business men. Subject: "Jesus in Business."

Hunters Fined

Three Coos Bay men were fined a total of about $425 Saturday evening for violations of the deer law, pleading guilty to charges filed by Game Warden Art Fish and Chas. McClell. They were: Harry Thompson, fined $100 and $5 costs for unlawful possession of a slain doe.

D. E. Major and R. E. Blake, each fined $100 for killing two spotted fawn or deer less than a year old; also $50 each for mutilating carcasses of deer and each $5 costs on each charge.

No more cranking your car when you have your battery repaired at Coquille Service Station. All work guaranteed.

DAIRYMEN—Ship your cream to the Coquille Ice Cream Co. for best results.

Lots of Them Do It

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Boyd, their daughters and two grand children returned Sunday evening from a trip to the Josephine county caves. They left at five Saturday morning and reached home at 8:30 p. m. Sunday.

They had a narrow escape from a serious accident up in the canyon on the way home. Coming around one of the elbow turns up there they were right on top of a car, parked on the wrong side of the road, before they could see it. To make matters worse they met another car at the same spot.

Just why any driver is fool enough to park on or near a turn on that highway is inexplicable.

Batteys Here for Week's Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Battey, who are making a fine success of the West Side Auto Camp at Portland, came in last Saturday for a week's visit with old friends here. They were accompanied from Cottage Grove by James Groom, who came in to visit his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Bosserman. We expect to have a view in next week's Sentinel of Mr. Battey's auto camp.

Mrs. Bertha Larson Married

Mrs. Bertha Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Endicott, of Myrtle Point, was married Monday of this week to H. E. Stemmler, Portland attorney. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lyons and Mrs. and Mrs. C. McC. Johnson, both those ladies being sisters of the bride, attended the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Stemmler started at once for Florida, where they plan to spend the winter.

Richards and Smith at Salem

J. L. Smith is assisting C. R. Richards, county agent, in making the Coos county display at the state fair this week. The display consists of dairy products, lumber, myrtle wood products, coal and fish. The county appropriated $500 for this exhibit, which will include the winning entries at the Coos-Curry fair last week.

Licenses This Morning

Marriage licenses issued this morning at the county clerk's office were to: R. E. Hulbert and Ruby Hulbert, both of Marshfield.

Raymond E. Duncan, of Coquille, and Zelma Lawson Barklow, of Myrtle Point.

Berry Paid $100 Fine

Ray Berry, aged 20, was arrested Friday evening at the fair in Myrtle Point by Deputy Sheriff Bohrer and Osmund. He was charged with having liquor in his possession and also with selling it. He was fined $100 by Judge E. A. Dodge after pleading guilty to the charges, and paid his fine.

Card of Thanks

For the loving remembrances at the time of the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Lloyd Spire, and for the beautiful floral gifts, we take this means of extending our heartfelt thanks.

Lloyd Spire and family.

Their Summer Camp at Sunset

The Daily Emerald, the University paper at Eugene, has this item about last summer's biological camp at Sunset Bay:

Up at four to beat the tide; tramping about the beach all day in pursuit of queer-looking creatures; assembling at night to discuss the fruits of the chase—this was the daily program of thirteen weeks at Sunset Bay near Marshfield, under the supervision of Dr. H. B. Yocum, acting head of the biology department, last summer.

About 225 different specimens of every kind of sea animals were collected and identified.

The party carried on part of its work at South Slough, about three miles from camp. Most of the edible varieties of crabs were obtained there.

While this summer's camp was a new experiment for the biologists, it proved so successful and so enjoyable that it will probably be an annual affair. The specimens obtained will be on display later in the year.

Want Bond Salesman

One of Portland's successful and highest rated bond houses desires a high type representative for this territory. For appointment, address M. L. Kaufman, 610-615 Northwestern Bank Building, Portland, Oregon. An executive of this company will be in Coquille in the near future for a conference.

DAIRYMEN—Ship your Cream to the Coquille Ice Cream Co. for best results.

Many Deer Bagged

Coos Bay Times
Deer hunters were quite successful this week and around Coos county and Curry county. Even the boatmen on the Mecca as they were on the run to Marshfield from North Coos River Monday morning sighted a deer swimming ahead of their boat near the Clinkenbeard place. The deer hearing the boat, swam ashore and stood on the bank.

Roy Humbert, who runs the launch Ajax spent Sunday at the Stout camp at Allegany and came down Sunday evening with a forked horn deer.

Percy Phillips went deer hunting Sunday at the head of North Coos River but what he got wasn't a deer. He came upon three bears, two cubs and the mother and shot one of the cubs. Immediately a chase between Phillips and mother bear started and Percy declares that he beat that bear over the ridge. He didn't go back for the cub either.

Oscar Lundberg, fire warden in the Allegany country, was called to North Slough not to go on a deer hunt, but to go on a bear hunt. Residents of that territory had been complaining that a bear had been getting all of their sheep that pastured in the hills around their homes. Mr. Lundberg spent a day hunting the bear but to no avail. He returned to North Coos River the next morning with his three hounds.

Norman Bruck of the Hub and A. W. Jones of the Palace meat market spent Sunday at the North Fork of the Coquille river deer hunting. They sighted several deer and a bear but were unable to get any.

J. W. Nipper of the Thomas Music store returned Sunday evening after hunting at the County landing. Ed Anderson, who lives near the county landing, spent the day hunting with him and they returned with one of the finest bucks of the season. Mr. Nipper shooting him. They also caught some fish.

Dr. C. W. Endicott, J. B. Hillstrom, and A. N. Gould, of Coquille, returned Friday evening after spending several days in Curry county, south of Agness. They all came back with two deer apiece.

Dairymen—Ship your Cream to the Coquille Ice Cream Co. for best results.

Send the Sentinel to eastern friends.

Up and Down Main Street

Being a poor professor's wife has its disadvantages

PARTICULARLY when you have young daughters. How could she expect her girls to grow up into fastidious young womanhood in such a shabby place? "One's immediate surroundings do have such an influence," she sighed. "One's surroundings"—the solution dawned on Mrs. Robey. From the store she bought large cans of ivory and gray Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, and smaller cans of dull rose and delicate blue and pale green. Then, while the girls were away on a visit, she painted all the woodwork and furniture in their rooms—one in ivory, the other in soft for decorations. For the windows she chose snowy white curtains, crisp and ruffled, and for the floors, delightful hooked rugs. You can't imagine what an effect it has had. Two such charmingly neat, well-groomed girls you have never seen!
