Dairy Cow Testing and Feeding Demonstration

REGIS PIETERTJE PROSPECT—221946

World's Record Cow for Milk Production—37,561.4 Pounds in One Year. Born April 10, 1913. Died March 10, 1925. Owned and Developed by Carnation Milk Farms, Seattle, Washington

One of the features of the Dairy Section at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, Portland, October 31st to Nov. 7th, will be a demonstration of testing for butterfat and cost accounting of feed of two groups of dairy cattle, using five average Oregon cows in one group. These cows will give about 4000 pounds of milk per year, which is about Oregon's standard and the standard of the United States, too.

In another group will be five purebred cows, featuring each of the five well-known breeds whose production will be from 5,000 to 13,000 pounds of milk per year. Purebred cattle have productions of more than this amount but it is thought to impress the public of the desirability of owning a string of well bred cows which shall give at least twice as much as the average Oregon cow—the cost of these cows being not greatly in excess of good grade cows and with a possibility, during times when calves are in demand, of making for their owners, on top of their milk and cream check, some added money from their off-springs.

Prof. P. M. Brandt of Oregon Agriculture College has been requested to take charge of this exhibit which will also feature daily tests for butterfat by accredited testers of the state so that lay people may get a close-up of what testing really means. A chart for each animal will show exactly the amount of milk they produce at each milking and the exact amount of butterfat in their milk for that day. The amount of feed given to each of these animals in the various groups will also be tabulated, which will clearly show that, although an animal giving a good flow of milk takes more feed than a scrub animal, that the differences in this amount of feed do not correspond to the difference in production.

This exhibit will be housed prominently in the dairy barn and is expected to attract a great deal of attention.

Patterson's Announcement

In announcing my candidacy for the nomination for Governor on the Republican ticket at the primary election in May, 1926, I desire to call attention to my business experience, including my activity as a practical farmer for many years.

In early life, I was engaged in mercantile business, but am now, and for many years have been, conducting one of the most diversified farms in the Willamette Valley. I understand and appreciate the many farm problems confronting the farmers of this state.

I have had legislative experience as a member of the state senate through four regular and two special sessions of the legislature, and believe I have a knowledge and grasp of State affairs that would enable me to be of service to the people of Oregon.

I am going to make a vigorous, clean and constructive campaign for the Republican nomination on issues, saying nothing and doing nothing against any other candidate that could be used against him in event of his nomination; a campaign that will tend, as far as possible, to unite the Republican party so that the nominee may have the entire party support, thus insuring his election.

Tax Reduction

If elected to the office of Governor it is my intention to bring about a reduction in taxes.

I desire that this statement be understood to mean precisely what it says. I make no gesture to give it enlarged or uncertain influence. I do not refer to one kind of taxes to the exclusion of other kinds of taxes. I shall never point to mere redistribution of the present tax burdens as fulfillment of this pledge, although I believe that the tax burden should be re-adjusted, nor shall I ever offer as the fulfillment an expensive temporary expedient, such as postponement of immediate obligation or creation of a deficit to make a superficial show of tax reduction.

By reduction of taxes, I mean exactly that which the people commonly understand reduction of taxes to be. I mean by it a reduction of the total sum derived by taxation from all sources. I mean, in short, a reduction in the cost of Government.

Budget

As an earnest of my purpose to bring about reduction in taxes, I invite a larger responsibility on the part of the Governor for the cost of State Government. I shall recommend an amendment to the State Budget law, and by its terms the Governor shall prepare the general budget of State expenditures for submission to the legislature. Preparation of the budget is now in the hands of the State Board of Control. The State Board of Control is also one of our most important agencies for expenditure of public funds.

I believe the budget making power of the State or any subdivision of the State should be as far removed as possible from the spending power or body. I believe it is a right principle, no matter how sincere, honest and intelligent the board or man clothed with dual authority may be.

In our National Government, the President is the budget making officer. Likewise in many states of the Union, the Governor is the budget making official.

I favor in this State making the Governor the budget making officer. Under our law, the Governor has the power to veto any appropriation made by the legislature, or any single item in an appropriation bill.

If given the power to make the budget, the Governor would be solely responsible for State expenses and could not evade the responsibility. The only way he could be relieved of any part of it would be by the legislature over-riding his veto which requires a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Penitentiary

The State Penitentiary has for years been used as a political football for furthering the interests of politicians and political parties at the expense of the taxpayers. Any department of the State, the employees of which hold positions by reason of political activity and contributions to campaign funds, and lose them by failure to qualify in this respect, is necessarily extravagant and inefficient. The net result is that the taxpayer is actually paying the campaign expenses of the candidate and party organizations.

We have the example of the appointment of six wardens at the penitentiary in a period of six years. No private business could prosper with annual changes of management, no matter how able the managers.

No one can hope for any permanent efficient, economical administration of the penitentiary under this system.

For comparison, take the State Hospitals at Salem and Pendleton operated by the State Board of Control. There inmates are mentally deficient and yet the per capita cost

District Behind Students

At a student body meeting held Monday, Oct. 19, the secretary read the following letter from the high school board to the students: Secretary of Student Body, Riverton, Oregon.

Dear Madam: The High School board feel that you and the student body are endeavoring to make your school an entire success, that you are now laying the very foundations which in years to come will be looked upon as really great achievements. They feel that you are competent to "put over big" any worthwhile proposition you might undertake.

So with this in view, it was unanimously voted by the board today to make the first payment of $25.00 on your new piano.

With sincerest and best wishes, Mrs. I. G. Hartwell.

With such backing the students should and do feel competent to live up to the expectations of the board and the district. They will, no doubt, try to the best of their ability to make their school an entire success.

GENERAL NEWS

Miss Mabel Hull, a sophomore, returned to school Wednesday after being out for six weeks with the mumps.

Tuesday morning the school boat broke down and the students had to come in private cars. Mr. Herrmann hopes to have the new boat completed and on the run in two weeks time, so this method of transportation is not very likely to become common.

A student body meeting was held Monday at which the first draft of

County Bankers Banquet

The Coos County Bankers Association met at the Hotel Coquille Tuesday evening for their regular quarterly session. In the absence of President J. H. Greves, Vice President O. C. Sanford presided.

Following one of Manager Compson's excellent addresses, the evening was spent in listening to addresses by R. S. Howard, of the U. S. National Bank at Portland; C. C. Close, of the Lumberman's Trust Co.; Andrew Miller, of Portland, secretary of the State Bankers Association; and R. M. Alton, of the U. S. National Bank at Portland. The latter made the main talk of the evening and his remarks on "Trusts" were given earnest and interested attention.

Those present, besides the speakers, were: North Bend—C. P. Kibler, Irwin Hartley, George Martin and E. M. Bowman.

Marshfield—Dorsey Kreitzer, John W. Butler, John Ferguson, Jas. E. Montgomery, Mair Dano, Earl Wiper, Ralph and Joe Williams, G. E. Tabor and R. C. Underwood.

Coquille—A. J. Sherwood, L. H. Hazard, O. C. Sanford, E. D. Webb, John E. Ross and W. S. Sickels.

Myrtle Point—R. C. Harry, Wallace Dement, N. G. W. Perkins, A. J. Radabaugh, J. D. Clinton, and Ralph Kring.

Bandon—A. H. Ross.

at these institutions, from October 1, 1922, to September 30, 1924, was about $16.32 less per month than at the Penitentiary where most of the inmates are able bodied.

The per capita cost of caring for prisoners at the penitentiary, as shown by reports of the warden for 1923 and 1924, was $33.15 per month, or more than the per capita cost of living of the average family in Oregon.

I favor placing the penitentiary under the Board of Control, as it is the only state institution not now under the Board, to the end that the tenure of office at the penitentiary may depend solely on merit, as it does at other state institutions. That is the only way to remove it from politics. We can then reduce the cost and hope, in time, to make it self-supporting.

Also, I favor abolishing the Parole Board and placing the paroling of prisoners under the Board of Control, thus reducing, by one, the already too numerous State Boards.

Further, I favor the Board of Control's acting in an advisory capacity to the Governor in the matter of pardons.

Law Enforcement

I believe in the impartial enforcement of all laws, and, if elected, will work to that end, and will appoint no man to enforce a law who is not known to observe that law.

There are many other matters of vital importance to the people of Oregon that I will discuss in a platform to be issued at a later date.

I. N. Patterson.

the new constitution was read by the committee. The students decided to adopt the constitution article by article in order that a complete understanding of the constitution might be obtained by all.

Miss Gladys White is still seriously ill at the hospital in Bandon.

A reception is to be given to the teachers of Riverton High and Grade schools by the patrons of the combined communities at the High School building Saturday evening at eight o'clock.
