Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Aker Here

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Aker arrived here Wednesday afternoon from Medford for a few days' visit. George is superintendent of the Medford Pear Co. orchard, the largest pear orchard in the Rogue valley. Bartlett pears is their crop and they sold as much as 25,000 boxes of the fruit to the cannery this year.

It was a wonderful fruit year around Medford this year and the orchardists all made good money.

The Sentinel is under obligation to George for a box of splendid specimens of apples and pears, there being a half dozen varieties of each in the lot.

Miss Pauline Lorenz Honored

Complimenting Miss Pauline Lorenz, Mrs. A. J. Sherwood entertained at a seven o'clock dinner Thursday evening. A color scheme of yellow was carried out on the beautifully appointed dinner table, at which were seated the following: Mrs. Caroline Lorenz, Mrs. Geo. Lorenz, Mrs. E. W. Lorenz, Mrs. H. N. Lorenz, Mrs. J. A. Lamb, Mrs. Carl Reitmeyer, Mrs. M. J. Hartson, Mrs. Thos. White, Mrs. L. H. Hazard, Mrs. Nelson, of Bandon, the Misses Avis Hartson, Margaret White, Marjorie Hamard, the honor guest and hostess. The evening was spent with fancy work.

Snake Dance Pleased

An unusually large crowd was in attendance at the feature dance at Graham's Hall last Saturday evening when Mrs. Blanche Outlip Griffin presented the Egyptian snake dance. Without knowing much about a snake dance, this writer can say that Mrs. Griffin made a very graceful appearance and that her movements, as she swayed to the writhings and twistings of imaginary reptiles, was the poetry of motion. She was warmly applauded by the throng which crowded ten deep around the chains at the dancing floor edge.

$15 Apiece for Speeding

Claude Cook, of Myrtle Creek, was caught by Traffic Officer Williams travelling at a 45-mile an hour gait south of Bandon, yesterday. Justice Stanley fined him $15 and costs, which he paid and went on his way rejoicing.

S. J. Arnold, of Dunham's store at Myrtle Point, was also caught speeding on the highway this week but so many cars intervened Mr. Williams could not tell just how fast he was going. He also was assessed $15 and costs.

Philip Johnson Building Home

Philip Johnson has started the construction of a five-room cottage at the corner of Coulter and Second street, across from the former T. J. Thrift residence. It will be 38x42 feet, have a solarium, and all modern conveniences and, according to Philip, will be a cross between a bungalow and an old English style. E. W. Gregg has the contract for the building.

Another Suit Against Houston

A. J. Sherwood yesterday filed a complaint against H. L. Houston, president of the defunct First National Bank at Bandon, to collect $3600, the par value of his stock and on which he is liable for the total amount. Attachment of any property he owns to secure the claim is also requested.

Rancher Makes Contribution

Frank Zello, of Norway, is one of the Coos ranchers who boosts the Corn Show. Jas. Laird this week received a check from Mr. Zello, who said he desired to assist in making this year's show a good one. There are others, too, who have expressed their intention to help.

Woman's Club Next Tuesday

The Coquille Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. L. H. Hazard Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 27, with Mrs. J. A. Lamb, Mrs. Geo. Leach, Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman and Mrs. Lafe Compton as the hostess committee. Everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

Norris-Smith

Francis A. Norris, aged 19, and Bernice A. Smith, aged 14, of Myrtle Creek, were married Monday by Justice W. J. Rust at his office. Lavina Smith, mother of the bride, and Willie Norris, and other members of the two families witnessed the ceremony at Marshfield.

Bandon's Interest in Corn Show

J. E. Norton and H. A. Young, members of the Coquille Chamber of Commerce and representing the Booster club day committee for the corn show, attended the regular meeting of the Bandon Beachmen last Tuesday night. They extended a formal invitation to the Beachmen, the chamber of commerce and the citizens of Bandon generally to attend the annual corn show at Coquille October 30 and 31.

The Beachmen voted to accept the invitation and thanked the committee for their effort to make this phase of the show a success. Mr. Norton responded and said that he was gratified with the attitude of the organization toward the work being done along these lines. He hoped that a feeling of co-operation and a closer relationship would be developed among the communities of Coos county. The corn show has become an established feature in the county and has gained rapidly in popularity each year. The show for this year is expected to be the best of all and a large attendance is promised. The Coos Bay Pirates and the Umpqua Chiefs have been invited as well as some of the clubs of the valley cities.

C. M. Bell was appointed a committee of one to wait upon Mayor Croft and urge that general holiday be proclaimed for Friday afternoon.

Mr. Bell was also instructed to take the matter up with the chamber of commerce and request their co-operation on this occasion. All places of business and the schools will be closed Friday and it is hoped that the people will take advantage of this holiday and attend the corn show in force. Final arrangements to take the Bandon Concert band with the Beachmen were made. Mr. Atwood said that he expected at least 25 of the band would be able to go.—Bandon World.

To Save "Old Ironsides"

This is "Constitution" or "Ironside" week and the Elks are sponsoring a movement to arouse such sentiment that $475,000 will be raised in the country to rehabilitate the old vessel, which won so signal a victory in the War of 1912. She had been condemned to destruction, but when a storm of protest arose, Congress instructed the navy department to preserve her. She now lies in Boston harbor. From one cent to a dime are asked as contributions from school children.

Speakers from the Bay will address the Coquille school today, J. J. Stanley will talk at Riverton and G. Russell Morgan at Fishtrap on the subject.

Dredge Through for the Year

The port dredge Hanly at Bandon, which has been doing effective work on the bar during the summer and fall has completed its work and is being put up for the winter. The suction-dredge owned by the Port of Bandon has begun dredging at the Moore mill where deeper water is required for docking vessels while loading.—Western World.

Tocco Bassetto In Again

Tocco Bassetto was bound over to the grand jury yesterday for owning and operating a still. He has served time once before for the same offense. He had set the still up in the house where he lived on what was formerly the Bestuf ranch, and it was some time before the lessee of the ranch learned what was going on.

Mrs. Honore Mackey Passes

Mrs. Honore Mackey, a former resident of Coquille, died in Sacramento, October 13, according to word received by Mrs. Leo J. Cary. Mrs. Mackey was the mother of Mrs. L. P. Branstetter. Death was caused by a heart attack. She was 84 years of age.

Special Notice

On account of a ruling by the post-office department we can only furnish the Oregon Farmer at the low rate we have been charging for it when $1.00 is paid in connection with a Sentinel subscription—but this really doesn't increase the price at all, as we furnish it for five years for the dollar.

If you want to subscribe for the daily and Sunday Oregonian, you can still save half the cost of the Sentinel subscription by taking the two papers together.

POULTRY

CAPONS COMPARED WITH MALE BIRDS

That caponizing pays but that capons do not gain anywhere near what is claimed by some, is indicated by the results of an experiment conducted by the poultry department at South Dakota State college.

According to these claims, the capon should gain twice as much as a rooster of the same age and breed, but a 10 per cent gain is about the best to expect. The lighter breeds like Leghorns do not really gain at all. Since chickens usually hatch late on the farm and since there is usually plenty of feed, caponizing will probably pay the farmer. The birds should be caponized when developing wattles and combs or better when they weigh about two pounds in the American or medium-weight breeds. The capons can be shipped in barrels holding 150 to 200 pounds, during January and February, and bring a good price.

Two weeks before marketing, the capons should be put in close quarters and fed on fattening rations, such as milk, corn meal, bran, tankage, etc. Any combination like corn and milk is very good. During the time previous to these two weeks, the capons can be fed on corn and can be allowed to run with the pullets.

In dressing capons for market, only the soft feathers need be removed. The coarse feathers on the wings, tail, etc., may be left on. The capons must be dry-picked, if a good price is expected.

As capon feathers, especially white ones, are in demand and will bring from 85 to 90 cents per pound, the farmer can afford to keep them clean and dry and the colors unaltered.

To have capons mother little chicks does not pay. This means that capons have to be kept over winter. Three or four dollars are thus invested in them, whereas an old hen would do better.

Must Feed Hens Mash to Fill Summer Egg Basket

"Hens will not lay eggs in the summer unless they are supplied with all the mash they can eat," says Duncan H. Reid of the poultry department, University of Wisconsin. During the spring months, the wet ground and grass are full of insects which provide plenty of animal feed for the hens, but when summer comes the insects disappear and this lack of animal food must be supplied through the mash.

A good ration recommended by Mr. Reid consists of 100 pounds of ground corn, 100 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of wheat bran, 100 pounds of wheat middlings, 100 pounds of meat scrap, and 5 pounds of salt. When milk is fed with the mash, the meat scrap should be cut in half.

"A hen should receive two ounces of grain a day and all the mash she can eat," says Mr. Reid. "The grain ration should consist of corn supplemented with 25 per cent wheat and oats. This is contrary to the general belief that corn furnishes too much heat. Tests have shown that the best results are obtained when this ration is used. The grain should be fed a little in the morning and heavy at night. The mash should be changed at least once a week. A lack of oxygen shell during the summer months will cut egg production in half. Green feed, such as clover, when mixed with the mash, has a decided advantage even if the green feed is growing in the yard."

Poultry Notes

For some reason, not fully understood, thick, sour skimmed milk seems to have a greater value for hens than sweet milk.

The old idea of ducking and starving to prevent broodiness is not to be recommended where further egg production is desired.

Green feed at all seasons is a necessity for health and egg production. Large quantities of mangels and cabbages can be produced on a very small area.

Chickens, to be fed profitably, should first be kept growing during the growing season. To best accomplish this they should be given a varied diet of meat and vegetable protein.

Lime is the principal constituent of egg shells and hens should be provided with lime if they cannot gather it naturally. It can be given in the form of crushed lime stone, crushed egg shells, etc.

Many farmers begrudge a hen every bite that goes down her neck, and numerous early risers on the farm get up to feed the hens before daylight to keep the hens from eating with them.

Poultrymen are finding out that hens will lay as freely without the company of males as with them. This fact permits the lessening of expenses by doing away with the roosters. It is also a fact that eggs that are infertile will keep much the longest.

Country Woman Said to Have Longest Life

The country woman, in spite of her long hours of hard work, has the best chance of attaining a ripe old age. She lives longer, on the average, than the city woman, the city man, or her country husband.

Mortality statistics show this to be the truth, notwithstanding the fact that better health protection is afforded in most cities than is found in country districts. The most favorable death rates are still found in the country, although it must be remembered that the reporting of deaths is probably far more complete in the cities than in the country.

Many cities have lower death rates than the country, however. The better health protection afforded by the health departments of most cities is weighed against urban congestion and certain rural conditions that may be especially conducive to health.

Famous Cavalry Charge

The order for the charge of the Light brigade at Balacava read as follows: "Lord Raglan wishes the cavalry to advance rapidly to the front and try to prevent the enemy carrying away the guns. French cavalry is on your left." The Light brigade advanced straight to its front and soon came under the fire from the guns of both flanks. Five minutes later the guns in front got in their fire. Only two turned back to the Light brigade found their way back. The brigade lost 247 men and 497 horses out of a total strength of 673 engaged in the charge which, from first to last, occupied 20 minutes.
