Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Young returned Sunday evening from a two day's trip to Corvallis, where their son is attending O. A. C. All of the Coquille students there are well and enjoying college life. Those seen at the gym, where football reports were being received, were Misses Charabelle Mintonye and Lola Bass, Clare Lehmanowsky, Lyle Beyers and Odie Beckham.

Have your Sunday dinner at the new Coquille Hotel. Par plate $1.25.

Food Commissioner Report

W. B. Duncan, of the Oregon Dairy & Food Commission, was here Tuesday and gave the Hotel Coquille a very high rating as the following report indicates:

"Dining rooms are kept in excellent condition. Tables, silverware, counter and cases, neat and clean; good light and scenery."

"Kitchens, if kept in proper order, range, utensils, coolers, etc., kept clean. Will soon have a refrigerator system for coolers."

The same day Mr. Duncan examined the Cow Bell Dairy and gave them an excellent report as to cleanliness and sanitary conditions. He found no fault with any of Mr. Briner's equipment.

Bergners in Rochester, N. Y.

The Sentinel linotypist is just in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Chas. S. Bergner, who came here as a bride with the last Presbyterian pastor in Coquille, Rev. C. S. Bergner. They are now located at Rochester, New York, where he is pastor of the United Congregational church, which has a Sunday School of over 400 members, with an orchestra of its own. Mrs. Bergner is delighted with the musical attractions there, which include several series of concerts. She says their little son has reached the mischievous age and she is "losing flesh chasing him around the house." They have a Buick roadster, and are planning a trip to Coquille sometime.

Backing to Highway Dangerous

Leroy Rice pleaded not guilty in Justice Stanley's court last evening to backing on to the highway and causing a collision. He was backing out of the roadway just south of Rev. A. W. Bell's residence Wednesday when a car driven by Andrew Fletcher, coming from Marshfield, was unable to stop before striking the truck Rice was driving. The case will be heard next week.

In this connection, Justice Stanley says he failed to state, in his article which appears on page four that backing around a corner at a street intersection, is expressly forbidden by city ordinance and that all officers should see that the practice is stopped.

Shipping Coos Cattle to Calif.

The Bandon World says that J. T. Jenkins will ship 175 head of dairy cattle from Coos county Sunday, having purchased them from the various dairymen in the Coquille valley who had extra cows for sale. They will be shipped to Montague and Gazelle, California. This will make five carloads of cattle shipped by Mr. Jenkins.

COQUILLE BUSINESS WOMEN MEET AND SING

The members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Coquille were very pleasantly entertained by the Coos Bay Club last Saturday evening, as a pot-luck dinner served in Guild Hall in Marshfield.

Mrs. M. C. Maloney presided most graciously over the affair and all reports of the various committee heads. The responses revealed the fact that the Coos Bay Club surely has a fine bunch of workers.

A very interesting address was given by Miss Louise Hacker, of Portland, state president of the federation, in which she gave a brief history of the foundation of the federation, its aims and purposes.

Mrs. Chas. Stauff, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Margaret Stauff, sang a group of songs in a most pleasing manner. The Coquille members were very enthusiastic over their visit and brought a considerable amount of their enthusiasm to the meeting which was held in the City Hall last Monday evening, at which time the local club completed their organization, adopted the constitution and by-laws which had previously been prepared by a committee, and about thirty-five signed the membership roll.

It was voted to hold the charter open for charter members to sign until November 23rd, after which time an initiation fee of $1.50 will be charged. The next meeting will be held November 9th, the place of meeting will be announced in next week's Sentinel.

Following are reproduced the two songs, which the ladies have adopted as their official war cry, which it will be noticed cover both sides of the question:

1—Tune "Jingle Bells"
Bob your hair, bob your hair,
Bob your hair like me,
If you would be up to date,
It must be bobbed you see;
Covered Wagon's out of style,
It's plain as an A. B. C.
So be a sport, wear it short,
Bob your hair like me.

2—Tune "Long Long Trail"
In my long long hair I glory,
It is my joy and my pride,
I'll not sacrifice my tresses what'er may betide.

There's a long, long time a-coming,
When all your bobbed heads will ping,
And you'll wish that you were wearing,
too,
Some long, long hair like mine.

RICHARDSON COMMITS SUICIDE YESTERDAY

R. E. Richardson, and having heard the testimony of witnesses under oath subpoenaed to appear before us, hereby find the following verdict:

The name of the person killed was R. E. Richardson.

The date of his death was October 29th, 1925.

The place where he was killed was at the crossing of the Southern Pacific railroad tract, at the mill yard of E. E. Johnson in Coquille, Coos county, Oregon.

That he came to his death by reason of having been run over by a train of cars on said railroad.

That the said R. E. Richardson came to his death by placing his body across one of the rails of said railroad tract with suicidal intent.

Dated this 29th day of October, 1925.

JAS. W. MAST DIED AT BANDON WEDNESDAY

James W. Mast, one of Bandon's most prominent citizens and a well known figure in Coos county, passed away at his home in Bandon Wednesday morning at eight o'clock.

Heart trouble, from which he had suffered for several years, was the cause of his death. He had arisen as usual, attended to his home duties, and was feeding his chickens when the fatal attack struck him.

Neighbors helped him into the house and summoned a doctor, but life departed as the physician arrived.

The funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m., at the old Mast home at Lee and will be conducted by Bandon Lodge, No. 130, A. F. & A. M. Interment will be in the family cemetery there.

A song service will be held at the Ellingson Chapel in Bandon at 10 a. m. Sunday, by the Masons of Bandon, for those who cannot make the trip to Lee.

James Wiley Mast was born in Watanga county, North Carolina, October 26, 1866, and when six years of age came to Oregon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Mast, and four brothers, R. H., Wm., Webb and Hardy. They settled on the North Fork where Hardy Mast now lives, which has since been the Mast family home.

The father passed away 35 years ago, and the mother about six years ago. The last few years of her life she made her home with the deceased, who never married.

After finishing school work in Coos county, Mr. Mast taught school and attended the state normal at Monmouth, graduating in 1894, with a B. S. degree.

For some years he was bookkeeper for Mast & Dyer at Bandon, and for the Prosper Mill Co. Later he was with the Rosa Co. in the grocery business and still later in that business for himself.

In 1916 he was elected mayor of Bandon, serving four years, and in 1914 was chosen a councilman. In 1916 he was elected as city recorder, a position he held at the time of his death.

Being connected with the city government of Bandon for the past fifteen years, he probably had a better understanding of city affairs than any other man there, and his passing will be keenly felt in the city's official life and business.

J. W. Mast was the third of the Mast family in the Coos county area, older and Webb and Hardy younger.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Bandon, and of all the affiliated degrees of the York rite. He was also a member of the Eastern Star, the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters.

"Jim" Mast was a kindly man and one ever willing to help a friend or neighbor in distress. Tributes to his thoughtfulness of others and helpful assistance are being frequently told by his neighbors.

Although he never married, Mr. Mast was a great home-lover and this writer can testify that his home in Bandon was as well kept as though a housekeeper had put in all her time in making it so.

Coquille Man Millionaire?

Al Bump, former Coquille carpenter but for the past year located a Reedsport, left Thursday morning for New York City to claim an inheritance of $3,065,000 from the estate of an uncle, according to Chas. Baldwin who arrived last evening from Reedsport.

Bump has been sought for four years by representatives of the estate and an agent reached Reedsport a couple of days ago and after satisfying himself that Bump was the man in question, told him of the fortune that was his.

The only other heir is a brother of Bump but where he is or whether he is still alive has not been ascertained. Bump has not heard from his brother for years.

Bump is about 60 years old and has but little. He has worked as a contractor and building at Coquille and Reedsport and is only in medium circumstances.

According to the agent, the estate consisted of $65,000 in liberty bonds and the Trinity building with an assessed valuation of $3,000,000—Coos Bay Times.

The three members of the county court, Judge Mast and Commissioners Klockers and Jenkins, accompanied by F. J. Hartig, C. R. Wade, O. L. Zentner, John Dickey and G. E. McNair of the Bandon chamber of commerce, made a trip over the route of the Bandon beach road south from Queen Anne Tuesday. The recent bond issue carried an amount of $5,000 for this road which is to be spent soon.—Western World.
