E. E. Nader—Wellman camera goods and a half dozen pictures of 22 and 28 years ago. They showed the early school house; the tramway and with several familiar names under pictures you would hardly connect with the present-day appearance of the same town; the first T-bridge; Old Soldiers reunion in 1891, and a view of the smoking range the morning after the fire of May 24, 1902.

A Stalder's radiator of the Duplex type stood on its head throughout the two days, evidently to demonstrate that it would not melt in case of an accident.

Halves Case to Jury Today

Last yesterday afternoon Judge Kendall rendered a decision in the trial of J. E. Halves for the murder of Gen. Holmes at North Bend a few months ago, which concluded the possibility of a conviction for first degree murder.

The evidence was all in last evening and the attorneys began their arguments this morning with the probability that the case would go to the jury sometime this afternoon.

All day Monday was occupied in securing the following jury to try the case: B. D. Clark, B. H. Nader, J. A. Yates, Albert Macky, K. F. Johnston, H. A. Hill, H. W. Walker, Geo. Schuster, H. E. Hess, Chas. Jensen, J. R. Hutchinson and A. F. Asst.

Halves went to the jail in the morning when the morning occurred, and a very strange case of what really happened, according to the testimony he gave. "I had to do it, but I don't know how I could remember as to what Halves said.

The defense has endeavored to prove self defense, and that Halves was a bad character.

The Red Mill at Marshfield

Amateur actresses who have taken part in a number of musical productions on Coos Bay during recent years will take part in The Red Mill, November 7 and 10 at Marshfield, with all of the power and finish of professional acting to give you the best of the show.

The Red Mill, a musical comedy of a high class type, will be presented by Coos Bay American Legion post No. 13 of Marshfield, and the proceeds will be added to the post's fund for the 1926 state convention to be held on Coos Bay with all Legion posts of the county assisting in the entertainment.

Fifty persons will take part in the production, which is being directed by Mrs. Nader Rogers, Mrs. Sophie Messinger and Lauri Picard. The leading parts are taken by veterans of a number of highly successful productions of other years.

At Liberty Next Tuesday

"Turning the Trick," will again be produced at the Liberty Theatre Tuesday night, Nov. 10, and featuring Gen. G. Leach as Patrick Casey, a retired contractor of New York City. It is a comedy drama in three acts with many laughs and one of the most enjoyable plays ever presented in this city, so many have stayed who saw it during the corn show last Friday evening. The doors will open at 7:30 with the curtain at 8:15. And remember it is next Tuesday night.

Hotel Plant in Operation

The new ice plant in the Hotel Coquille was turned over for the first time Monday and Manager Lyle Colquhoun was immensely delighted with the results. The plant will make more ice than the hotel will need for years to come and the refrigeration system is connected up with all the food cabinets in the kitchen and restaurant. It will materially add to the excellence of the hotel service.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENTS FOR CORN SHOW

The American Legion stunt, prefaced with a few remarks by G. Russell Morgan, consisted of what would have been a successful illusion had the two young ladies taking part worn the same colored hose.

The Corn husking contests did not lack for entrants. In the preliminary event, Ben Knife, C. V. Smith and Roy Canale, all of Coquille, won first, second and third prizes, respectively.

In the ladies competition, Mrs. J. L. Crosby, who knew how it should be done, was first to husk her 20 ears. Mrs. W. E. Bosserman and Mrs. W. V. Glaeser were the second and third contestants to rise.

In the champion event, free for all, Joe Mast, of Myrtle Point, was easily first, with Mrs. Crosby second and Ben Knife third.

All these events carried prizes of $4, $2 and $1.

It was during these contests that Willard Bosserman gave the only public exhibition of drinking from a bottle. It had a swiggle on it and looked to contain locust porridge. His costume indicated extreme youth.

The husking bee, with plenty of red ears, transported the Corn Show and King Corn's ruler from the state of hilarity to the state of ecstacy, the latter on the stage and the hilarity among the spectators. The bee broke up when Walter Laird passed his first red ear around for each man to claim as his own.

It did not take long to clear the floor and for nearly three hours the old time dance, with two, three and four sets, dancing, furnished a lot of enjoyment and pleasure to scores who have no part in the modern jazz.

Teachers Endorse Howard

At a regular business meeting of the Coquille Teachers' Association Tuesday the following endorsement of Chas. A. Howard for State Superintendent of Instruction was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, We desire a State Superintendent of Public Instruction who is a most efficient organizer, a competent supervisor, and an excellent public speaker and a man of recognized ability in educational circles through the country,

"Be it Resolved, That the Coquille Teachers' Association heartily endorse Chas. A. Howard as being the man who meets all requirements of this important office.

"Be it Further Resolved: That the secretary be instructed to write to Gov. Pierce requesting the appointment of Supt. Howard to fill the unexpired term of the present term at such time as Supt. Churchill may resign."

Fog Caused Two Wrecks

THREE WRECKED CARS WERE OVER-TURNED IN THIS TOWN LAST NIGHT AND THE NEW SECTION OF THE HIGHWAY AT THE S. J. THOMPSON PLACE WEDNESDAY EVENING. AS A RESULT, HE REMAINS UNDER THE CAR AND WAS TAKEN DOWN BY TWO MEN. THE RIGID ROOF OVER HIS HEAD AND LAY ON HIS BACK, TRANSFORMING HIM INTO A BRUISED ANIMAL. CARL BUNNEY WAS ENGAGED TO STAY IN A CAR AND ABOUT THREE O'CLOCK YESTERDAY MORNING STARTED A WOULD-BE MOTORIST. THE FOG WAS UP THE HILLSIDE LIKE A GHOST.

The fog caused another wreck yesterday morning. Bert Polson was driving on to the highway from his brother's, E. A.'s place, and was struck by Wm. A. Neal, of Myrtle Point, who couldn't see the Dodge until close to it. His head hit the ground so tight that he couldn't turn out and avoid the collision. Bert's car suffered a bent axle and a broken steering wheel.

They were everywhere the ball was and carried the fight to their larger and heavier opponents in a way that proved they had arrived. The Marshfield game was not a flash in the pan, but a real demonstration of their football knowledge and prowess and last Saturday's game proved it.

Coquille suffered a loss when Harle Call had his shoulder so wrenched that he will be out of the game tomorrow. Dr. Low hopes to have him back in shape for the game with North Bend on the 21st. One casualty for Coquille. North Bend had a full half dozen knocked out.

Coquille Defeated North Bend

The North Bend team knew it had been in a football game last Saturday afternoon and that it was up against a team composed of whirlwind tacklers. Never was there any prettier nor more effective tackling in a game than was that which Hadley Curtis staged. There was no mincing matters. He hit them hard and the man usually went down for the count.

Harper, who was playing his first game at half, after Call was injured was another who surprised the fans by his tackling and carrying the ball. In fact, the whole team should be named in the list of those who took the heart out of the North Bend team by the ferocity of their defensive work.

Coquille won the game, 3 to 0, in the last quarter when Les Wilson drop kicked a beauty high over the bar and between the posts. The ball had been back and forth throughout the game, mostly in North Bend's territory, and soon after the opening of the fourth quarter Wilson kicked across the goal line. The ball was brought to the 20-yard line and on the first play Coquille recovered a North Bend fumble on the 18-yard line. North Bend was penalized five yards for calling time for the fifth time in the last half.

With the ball on the ten yard line Lester made three yards by jumping over the line but was held on the next play to no gain and North Bend took the ball on fourth down. They then kicked 20 yards but were penalized 15 yards and lost the ball when one of them tackled Richmond, receiving the kick, before he touched the ball. It required but two more short end runs then to get the ball into a position where Lester punted it over.

The way Coquille was mixing its plays Saturday, with line buck, end run and forward pass, their opponents could get very little idea of what to expect. Wilson and Richmond made some beautiful passes, and altogether they completed six out of eight or nine attempts. Early in the game Wilson passed 30 yards to Call, and another 25-yard pass was made by Richmond to Call and completed by the lucky interference of a North Bend player who just ticked it enough to make the oval reach Call's hands.

As usual Wilson was outpacing the North Bend kicker all the way from five to fifteen yards. That alone is a big advantage in any game. North Bend completed one ten yard pass.

Coquille was penalized three times for a total of fifteen yards for being offside. North Bend, in addition to the 15-yard penalty mentioned, had received a similar penalty before that for roughing the kicker.

The Coquille eleven showed more football fight and used their heads even better in the game Saturday than they did in the Marshfield game which so surprised the home supporters.

They were everywhere the ball was and carried the fight to their larger and heavier opponents in a way that proved they had arrived. The Marshfield game was not a flash in the pan, but a real demonstration of their football knowledge and prowess and last Saturday's game proved it.

Coquille suffered a loss when Harle Call had his shoulder so wrenched that he will be out of the game tomorrow. Dr. Low hopes to have him back in shape for the game with North Bend on the 21st. One casualty for Coquille. North Bend had a full half dozen knocked out.

Many Handsome Windows

There were a number of handsomely dressed show windows in Coquille for the Corn Show. That of the Busy Corner probably required much more work than was put on their booth a year ago. Cranberries in one window, corn in another and autumn leaves in the third formed a floor covering above which was shown the raison d'etre—Corn—pumpkins, apples, etc.

Others which deserved special notice were the Hub, the Variety Shop, Gould & Gould, Title Guarantee Abstract Co., Mountain States Power Co., First National Bank, Geo. Robinson and Henry Lorenz.

Lyman Carrier Returns

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Carrier returned last Friday from their east trip where they went a month ago to lay away the body of their small son.

Mr. Carrier expects to remain here now for the winter, but the destruction of bent grass by army worms last summer has very materially affected the crop so that he will not have anywhere near enough seed this winter to take care of next spring's orders. He will, however, have some of the Cocos Creeping Bent to thresh in his warehouse here this winter.

Calling cards 100 for $1.50.

Frank Schroeder Wins Case

On petition of the applicant's attorneys the case of W. M. Hamilton vs. Frank Schroeder for a gateway road through the latter's ranch at Nonway was non-suited. Jas. Watson, for Mr. Schroeder, showed that the board of viewers, prescribed by statute as necessary in such cases were not appointed, that they did not qualify and did not meet.

The application of Mr. Hamilton has since been dismissed in the county court.

Pett; Thievery Saturday Night

Another unfortunate incident at the Corn Show last week was the petty thievery that took place in the exhibit hall. When the light went out Saturday night the soft drink display of the Coos Bay Bottling Works was practically ruined and other articles have been reported missing. The management had watchmen on the job but with the large crowds in attendance they couldn't watch all the hoodlums who were hanging around.
