Would Buy the Myrtle Grove

Frank Cockburn, of Milton, Oregon, and a friend of Dr. J. B. Gillis, has been in and around Coquille for the past three or four months looking for an opportunity to invest. He also has other matters in mind, but this week he approached Mayor Johnson to see if the city would consider the sale of the myrtle grove city park.

He stated that if he purchased it he would fit it up as a modern auto park, with a number of 12x18 cabins, and other conveniences found in the best tourist camps. Mr. Cockburn is himself a man of means and he has backing and would like to make Coquille his home.

The matter has been more or less discussed on the street the past two weeks, with expressions heard both for and against the proposition. The mayor and council take the position that they would like to know whether a sale would be satisfactory to the citizens.

It is altogether probable that if the city retains it, the use of the park as an auto camp will be discontinued the first of next year and the grove reserved as a recreation and picnic ground, and for public gatherings.

Auto camps should be privately owned and conducted, as most of the towns in Oregon have learned, but whether the city would be wise in allowing that myrtle grove to pass into private hands is doubtful.

True, we would all appreciate the establishment of an up-to-date auto camp here. Lefe Compton expressed the opinion Wednesday evening that with completion of the Roosevelt Highway through Curry, Coquille would be the most natural location in this section for a high class camp.

But the myrtle grove is hardly large enough, unless adjoining property could be secured, and in any event sufficient ground would have to be retained around the Community building to provide ingress to it.

But more than all else, for the benefit of future generations that myrtle grove should be preserved, and it could not be assured with private ownership.

Luncheon was served by Mesdames Heeke, C. E. McCurdy, and Warren Davis to the following members and guests: Mesdames Judith Collier, M. Way, J. McGiffin, Heeke, Porter, Alf. Johnson, C. T. Boutin Buys More Timber

One of the largest timber deals of the year was closed recently with the sale by Menasha Woodware company of a large tract of Port Orford cedar standing at the head of Elk creek to Frank Boutin, Portland timber operator. The purchase was made by George Gothro for Mr. Boutin.

Although no consideration was announced, the purchase price was said to be in excess of $100,000. Boutin expects to log the cedar on the open market and dams are now being built to bring the logs down Elk creek. Logging operations probably will not be started until next spring.

The Menasha Woodware company which has extensive holdings in southwestern Oregon, has disposed of considerable of its timber recently, but the Elk creek tract is the largest sale it has made since coming into this section.—Marshfield News.

Health Good in Bay Schools

Health in the public schools of Marshfield was never better than it is today and last year Marshfield was rated as the healthiest city in the United States, Dr. E. E. Straw, city health officer, reported to the city council at a recent meeting. Dr. Straw said that last year Marshfield had fewer deaths in proportion to population and births than any other city in the United States. Seattle was second to Marshfield, he said. Dr. Straw reported to the council that there were nine cases of mumps, two of scarlet fever and two of diphtheria in the schools. None were serious and no epidemic of any of the diseases was feared, Dr. Straw said.

ACCOMMODATION AND WHAT IT MEANS

"ACCOMMODATION" is an empty phrase until put into actual practice. A bank's many facilities are as naught until actually made use of.

THAT IS WHY we offer to the growing business man a banking service that will help him grow still bigger. It may be in our checking department, or in all departments. But, no matter where, the hearty, complete accommodation of this bank is yours always.

WE BELIEVE in a bank OFFERING accommodation, rather than waiting to be asked for it. That is why so many young business men, and older concerns too, rightly regard this as THEIR bank.

Ask us to explain why this is YOUR logical bank.

Webb Mast Named

A petition asking for the appointment of Webb Mast as administrator of the estate of J. W. Mast, of Bandon, deceased, was filed here Tuesday. The estate is valued at $15,000, real property consisting of lots and farm land set at $14,000, and personal property at $1,000.

Heirs are listed as follows: R. H. Mast, 67, of Coquille; W. L. Mast, 61, of Bandon; Webb Mast, 57, of Lee; and H. W. Mast, 52, of Lee.

The petition requests the appointment of Christ Rasmussen, Canadian Baker and Archie Ross, as appraisers of the estate.

An order is on file petitioning the county court to transfer the above petition to the circuit court as the deceased in the case was a brother of County Judge R. H. Mast, who is an heir to the estate and is for that reason forbidden by law to order the appointment.

Favor Boy Scout Merger

Douglas county is in favor of the proposed merger of Coos and Douglas in a Boy Scout program, E. A. Britton, scout executive of Roseburg, said on a recent visit here.

Britton accompanied W. L. Harward of Spokane, regional scout executive to Marshfield Sunday afternoon and discussed the proposed merger with a number of local scout officials.

No details of the merger were outlined but the general plan is to have one scout executive in charge of scout work in both counties and to have a part time executive in Marshfield. Both counties will contribute to the expenses of the work. Another conference on the merger will be held within a short time.—News.

Thrift Ranch Incorporated

John D. Goss, of Marshfield, W. D. Pomeroy and A. G. Thrift have filed articles of incorporation for the "Thrift Ranch" with a capital stock of $40,000. The ranch contains 840 acres in Curry county, and the corporation will engage in farming and stock raising. The headquarters of the "Thrift Ranch" will be at Bandon, stakes and coming to Oregon.

Coquille Man Dies at Hospital

William R. Taylor died suddenly of apoplexy Tuesday night at 10 o'clock at the Kaiser hospital at North Bend. He underwent an operation at the hospital two weeks ago and had almost recovered, being up for the past few days when he was stricken suddenly Tuesday.

Mr. Taylor was 66 years of age and had lived on the bay during the past six years coming there from Wyoming. He is survived by six sons and one daughter who live in Wyoming. He had been making his home in Coquille with his son-in-law, L. Royer, Mrs. Royer having died several years ago.

Until the last year or two he had been employed in the Peoples Meat Market in North Bend.—News.

Coquille Boys on the Squad

Warren G. Brandon and Layton Nosler of this city, who played on the high school team under Keith Leslie, are members of the University of Oregon freshman team, says a Eugene letter. Brandon played guard for one year here while Nosler was on the team three years playing end and tackle. Brandon tips the scales at 173 while Nosler weighs 160.

Spike Leslie, Oregon coach, has a fairly fast team, but it's lighter than the eleven of the last few years. About 70 are trying to make the team.

J. W. Currie to Return

Another new settler from North Dakota is reported as coming to Coquille. J. W. Currie writes that he came last winter from Dickinson, and that he was so pleased with Oregon that he sold his Dakota farm this summer and is planning on making his permanent home in Coos county. According to his letter other farmers are ready to follow his example. The low price of wheat during the past year and bad weather conditions in the Dakotas is believed to be the cause why many farmers in that section of the country are pulling up the stakes and coming to Oregon.

Jacobsen Presented Bouquets

Jas. N. Jacobsen presented a Canary grass bouquet to the Cornfed Canaries Friday evening, labelled, "From a Country Gentleman." There was an ear of corn of that variety in the center of the bouquet.

He also presented the Meadowlarks with a bouquet of roses during the Saturday evening performance.

Stolen Plate on Ditched Ford

The Oregon license plate of a Chevrolet touring car stolen at Roseburg a few days ago was found Sunday by Traffic Officer Williams on a wrecked Ford in the ditch near Norway. The wrecked Ford's owner is not known but Mr. Williams has wired Salem to ascertain its registry title through the Ford engine number.

Mr. Williams heard of the theft of the Roseburg car while at Cottage Grove but the Roseburg officers thought that the thief had gone north with it. However the discovery of the license plate "No. 19735" was made by Mr. Williams yesterday so the Chevrolet must have been brought here and the thieves probably switched license plates with the Ford that was wrecked.—Times.
