Coos Potato in Iowa

Bollie Miller had been reading in his old home paper back in Iowa about the vegetable display the editor was making, so after the Coos Show, Bollie sent him one of the spuds displayed here, with the statement that it was one of the Coos county "culms".

The publisher prints Bollie's letter, which boasts this county's resources and production, everything from dairying, vegetable raising, timber, chittin and cheese to football, and had the following to say about the Oregon potato:

"There is no display in the Advance window a potato that tips the beam at 3 1/2 pounds. It was sent to me by Bollie Miller, of Coquille, Ore., to show what Oregon can raise. It certainly is a mammoth spud, the largest one we ever saw."

"Bollie had been reading about the Advance's vegetable display, including the spuds sent us by Ollie Smith of Hurley, Idaho, and he wanted to get him one better. The Oregon spud weighs 3-4 of a pound more than the largest one sent from Idaho. Bollie says it is one that the digger overlooked, but we would never think it might be one that the digger had stumbled over."

Chicken Dinner

Coquille Leaves Final Game

Marshfield again demonstrated her championship ability yesterday afternoon at the Bay when it defeated the fighting Coquille eleven, 14 to 6.

The game was played on a muddy field which slowed the game by somewhat but at that it was another of those hard fought affairs which have made this year's football an spectacular and interesting.

Marshfield, with two backfield strings, one of which was as good as the other, and substitutes for every position in the line, had an advantage over "Brick" Leslie's team which at the most could only put in five substitutes.

It has been a mighty good thing for Coquille this year that its men were all in A1 condition and could play through a whole game, for if the boys had been knocked out as were their opponents, it would have been difficult to put eleven men in the game.

Within three minutes of the start of the game yesterday Coquille had scored its points, a blocked kick giving them an opportunity to buck the full across.

Marshfield tied the score in the last of the second quarter on the same kind of a play—blocked punt.

Through the first half Coquille outplayed the Bay team, making first down several times to Marshfield's one.

The Bay men had evidently been well drilled on intercepting punners for they pulled the stunt four or five times to Coquille's distinct loss.

In the third quarter Marshfield scored two points on a touchback. Les Wilson dropped the slick ball, as he was attempting to punt from back of his own goal line and was downed before he could run out with it.

After three times getting the ball down inside of the ten-yard line Marshfield finally developed the punter to get it over for her second touchdown.

One of their spectacular plays was blocked. With a yard to go, Maguire called the play for himself and outstayed for a nine-yard loss by "Giant" Finley for four down. He has been playing a star game most of this season and is entitled to a position on the mythical all-Coos county eleven.

In fact the whole squad has played the finest brand of football this fall and each and every one is worthy of strong commendation.

The fans have been greatly pleased with the showing the team made, although it has won but two games out of seven.

Following was the standing of the conference teams when the match ended yesterday:

	W	L	T	PC
Marshfield	4	0	1	1000
Myrtle Point	4	2	0	600
North Bend	4	2	1	600
Coquille	2	5	0	200
Reedsport	0	5	0	100

It Will Please Radio Fans

A United States naval engineer will arrive at the Bay early in December to arrange for the moving of the radio compass station in North Bend to Cape Blanco and for the abandonment of the Englewood naval radio station at Liberty road.

Recommendation that the naval station be abandoned has been made several times within the past few years as the navy department regards the station as worthless for naval purposes. However, it has been used as the landing station of the compass station and for the reason its operation has been continued.

The station has been a nuisance to Marshfield radio fans as it operates on a spark out, and for that reason its passing will be approved by many persons.

Under the new governmental plan the compass station will have its own sending station on Cape Blanco which will be used exclusively for broadcasting soundings.

M. E. Bazaar and Food Sale

On Dec. 6th at Gould's store at 11 a.m. the annual Bazaar and cooked food sale of the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church will be held. A good supply of useful articles and fancy work for gifts and home use will be on display. This Aid has pledged to furnish a room in the Wesley Hospital at Marshfield and have already paid half of the pledge and hope the proceeds of this bazaar will put them over the top. So come and help a good work. The M. E. Conference asked for a white cross offering from the M. E. churches of the state to the hospital. This Aid made a good offering of canned fruit and vegetables. They believe in practicing the "golden rule." The Master says: "Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least, ye have done it unto me."

Don't worry about your battery when you can take it to an expert at the Coquille Service Station and have it inspected.

Gov. Pierce Convinced

Governor Walter M. Pierce is company with General Geo. A. White of Salem, and Ben S. Fisher and George Jennings, of Marshfield, J. L. Smith, of Coquille, and J. D. Clinton, of Myrtle Point, returned over Coos county Monday afternoon, looking over county securities for state soldier bonus loans. After the inspection the two Salem visitors reported that the county stands ahead of all counties of Oregon for good securities.

There are over 200 loans out to ex-servicemen in Coos county, it is said, and about 50 applications pending. Of the 200, but two foreclosures have been necessary, and no money has been lost to the state through local loans.

Governor Pierce, it was said, was incredulous of appraising land for around $1000 per acre until he was shown some of the country between Coquille and Myrtle Point. He said upon seeing it, "that's not farm land. It's garden land."

The party had lunch Monday noon at the Coquille hotel and visited various properties concerned in the state loans in the afternoon.

MILLION LIVES SAVED IN NEAR EAST

Believe Task Will be Completed in the Next Few Years.

That America will complete its work in the Near East by the next three or four years is the confident assertion of J. J. Handwerker, Northwest Region's Director of Near East Relief.

"For ten years we have been busy bandaging the wounds left by the World War and the wars which followed the World War. A million lives have been saved and 200,000 children rescued and many of them given training for lives of future usefulness. Today there are some 35,000 children in America's care in the Near East. Their average age is about ten years, 2000 are under the age of four years. The Near East Relief keeps them only until they are sixteen. So carefully are they trained in various handicrafts that they are able to support themselves at that age, and although we try to follow them after they have left the orphanages to care for them if they are ill or to find them new jobs in case they are maimed, still our service practically ends when they are sixteen."

"Nearly all the money that American gives Near East Relief today is spent for children. Help given to adults takes the form of clothing and this is never furnished free if the refugees are able to work or can pay even a few cents for their garments. Money is spent on the children and as soon as they are in a position to care for themselves our work will cease."

"It cannot be repeated too often that the children are out of Turkey and are safe from the slaughter to which their parents were exposed. They are under friendly but impoverished governments in Armenia, Syria, Palestine and Greece, and the children's only hope, not only of life, but of training necessary for success in life, is in America. Suffering is intense in the refugee camps in Aleppo and Greece, although more than one million people have come back to self support after being robbed and exiled from their ancestral homes in Turkey. There are no fewer than 10,000 orphans, including mothers with little children, who are asking temporary aid this winter, and at a cost of only two cents per day per child could be given milk, but Near East Relief funds are exhausted in the care of the 35,000 children."

"It is the hope of the Near East Relief that Golden Rule Sunday, December 6th, will be bringing home to the conscience of America the needs of these children that funds may be available, not only for the wants in the orphanages but that relief may be given to some, at least, of the others."

"Near East Relief offices are at 613 Stock Exchange, Portland; 239 Burke Bldg., Seattle; and for the Golden Rule Campaign temporary offices have been opened at 201 Walker Bank Bldg., Salt Lake City; 627 Peyton Bldg., Spokane; Bristol Hotel, Boise, and T. M. C. A. Tacoma."

Representative Johnson Intergoes Plan Representative Albert Johnson, of Washington, in a letter to the Near East Relief, states that "the plan of training children under the care of the Association for their own peculiar conditions and fitting them for usefulness in their own land is, in my opinion, the correct plan."

In every Near East Relief orphanage the children are trained for self support at the age of sixteen. The girls to work on farms, to be nurses, teachers, rag makers, seamstresses, lace makers; the boys to be farmers, mechanics, carpenters, shoemakers and shoemakers.

G. A. Load Will Being Probated

The will of George Alvin Load, ex-congressman of Michigan who was killed here several days ago, is now being probated in his old home in Bay City, Mich., according to word received by Cland H. Giles, Marshfield attorney for the estate.

Giles has been authorized to act as trustee for the heirs of property here until the regular appointment is made. He is now making an inventory of the Load estate in this county.

Included in the estate are $75,000 worth of logs that were cut when Load died, at least 50 million feet of fir and cedar timber, and $35,000 of life insurance, a third of which is left to Mrs. Load and two thirds to the estate.

The story published in Portland that Load's logs had been attached was incorrect, Mr. Giles says. The Myrtle Point bank has a $25,000 mortgage and this assignment was recorded after his death but no attachment has been made as Load's credit was and always has been excellent.—Marshfield News.

Stills Found Near Kroll

J. W. Slonaker and son, Roy, were released on instructions of the deputy district attorney after being taken to Reedsport on charges in connection with the discovery of two stills near their home on Five Mile Creek, near Kroll. They were taken into custody by State Prohibition Officers Young and Dunn and Deputy Sheriff Grubb, of Douglas county.

The two stills were found in a cave not far distant from the Slonaker home, the only path to the cave being from the Slonaker place. Slonaker is quite aged, wearing a long white beard. He and his son disclaimed ownership, saying another man whose name they did not give owned the stills.

Prohibition Officer Young was in Marshfield not long ago, just before going to Reedsport. He picked up Chas. Hazen of Portland at Eugene with thirty-five gallons of liquor in the back seat of his auto. Hazen attempted to run away from Young but the latter and a deputy sheriff had too speedy a car for Hazen.—Times.
