EAST FORK NOTES

Cecil Carter was on the East Fork last week prospecting for timber. Time of the war he sold him several head of cattle and found him to be one of the agreeable kind of men to do business with. Did not take long to do it. The price asked for the ranch was $100. He looked them over, one was an ornery thing, and said, "I will give you $90." "I'll split the difference with you," and we split the difference. The deal was closed. And each knew that neither had tried to take advantage of the other. That kind of dealing leaves a good taste in the mouth. I was glad to see him and told him that I did not know that he was able to wear clothes for I read that the Cecil Carter Logging company went bankrupt. He said it was the company that went bankrupt not Cecil Carter, for he had sold out the Cecil Carter Logging Co. and had nothing to do with it for more than a year before it went broke. That was good news.

Lawrence Rackliff was at Ed Abernethy's Monday to look at timber across the river on the Abernethy place.

We got a jolt last week of Wednesday forenoon when Everett Howe and Sherman Bayler came over to our house and Mr. Bayler said he had taken up some of our cattle and I would have to pay to get them. The price wanted was only $25—some how we couldn't see it. So in order to get down to tackle Theodore took me to Coquille, then to Bandon, back to Coquille, where I stayed overnight. In the morning I saw Mr. A. J. Snow-wood. He gave me letters to Howe and Bayler and I struck out to walk home. Perry Lawrence's partner, Mr. Herron on his way to the county hospital to try to sell a truck, caught up to me and picked me up. Perry had given him my description. Then about a mile walk and Mr. Clyde, an insurance agent, picked me up and gave me a ride to the Old Coos Bay road at Fairview. The walk over North Fork mountain was enjoyed every step of the way. The earth under my feet and the look-up to the sky through the tall timber gave a spring to my step and a song in my heart which makes life a glad, glad song. When I got to Lee Mast's, I felt that a piece of bread would not be bad to have before I hit Cherry Creek mountain, so I told Mrs. Mast a piece of bread and a drink of water. I got bread and butter, berries and a big glass of milk. It sure did hit the right spot. Before I got to King's place Will Mast picked me up and gave me a ride to Marcy's. At the logging camp Cecil Dugger told me to go in and try to talk the cook out of a piece of pie. I told him what Mrs. Mast had done for me. At the foot of Clay hill, Roy Luttrell came along with horses and wagon and I got a ride within a half a mile of home. Started out to walk 20 miles and did not walk half of it and was home before three o'clock.

The people across the river on the Gold Brick road have a suspension foot bridge across the river. It is a good one; between the trees to which it is anchored is not far from 130 feet.

The Steel Creek Logging Co. blocked Ezra Watson's ford and are building him a bridge.

Deputy Sheriff Boyer was on the East Fork Saturday.

M. E. Church

Hours of prayer: Tuesday 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Brother Cox and his good wife will be here to help us in our revival December 27. We expect to see souls get through to real heart experiences and victory. Pray much. Christmas S. S. program Wednesday 7:30 p. m. All services as usual Sunday. You are welcome.

Morning sermon: "The Baptisms of Jesus." If the Holy Ghost has spoken the deep, abiding realities of divine grace into your experience, then "Deep calleth unto deep." If I should deal with this subject, as you think I will, it would be a strange discourse for Sunday before Christmas. But I do not have in mind a mere formal act of religion.

Evening sermon: "Mine Eyes Have Seen Thy Salvation." Come to this Christmas service with a glad testimony and take part in this praise and testimony, for "His Name shall be called Wonderful." Remember that "No man can say that Jesus is Lord but by the power of the Holy Ghost." Be careful as to the origin of your confessions of faith.

Church of Christ

Next Sunday will be a big day in all of our services and it will be the closing day of our meeting. We hope that every member of the church and Bible School will, if possible, be present and many others who may be interested. We have already had a very successful meeting. But we are hoping and praying for many more. Brother Lewis Filewood is delivering great messages. Be sure and hear these closing messages.

North Bend Starts Building

Work on the new community building in North Bend was started Monday morning with A. R. Helm and John Granstrom engaged to take charge of the construction. It is believed that the building will be ready for use in three or four weeks at a large number of volunteer workers are expected to aid.

Fred Hollister, chairman of the finance committee, stated that the committee expected to raise the entire quota of $7000 before the next morning. Business men and residents of the city have donated willingly and little difficulty has been encountered in obtaining donations.

The plan is to construct a permanent foundation but only a temporary building. A permanent structure will be erected later.

The hardwood basketball floor will provide adequate playing conditions and may be used for dancing.—News

Christmas Present to Alaska

Included among tens of Christmas presents which left Seattle Wednesday for homes in southeastern Alaska on the Pacific Steamship company's Admiral Rogers was Buddy, aged 17 months, on his way to a childless family in a $10,000 home in the north land.

Mrs. J. E. Briggs of the Seattle police department, who found a home for the baby at the request of his destitute parents, said: "We have promised not to tell just where Buddy is going in Alaska. He is a Christmas present to a family who can give him every comfort."
