

More SERVICE to Our Advertisers

Our New Modern Equipment Gives You Up-to-the-Minute Service

The Sentinel has just installed the Bonnet-Brown Advertising Mat Service, Stereotyping Machine and Power Saw.

You will now receive the same ad service that the large metropolitan newspapers render their advertisers.

ILLUSTRATIONS FOR ANY ADVERTISEMENTS

Under this splendid New Service Plan, we receive fresh each month, ads and illustrations for every kind of advertising.

We receive these illustrations in matrix form—a paper mold of the cut-to-be. This new stereotyping machine enables us to pour hot metal into this form and make a plate for printing the illustration in the Sentinel or on a circular.

Advertisers who receive matrices of their merchandise from their manufacturers or wholesalers can bring them to us and we will make cuts for use in their advertising.

ADVERTISING SERVICE FOR EVERY BUSINESS

And, in addition to being able to supply you with suitable cuts for illustrating your ads, we are prepared to furnish advertisements covering practically every line of business.

These ads have been written by advertising experts—and hence are so planned and executed that they exert the maximum amount of pulling power possible in the space used.

So, when you want to run an ad, instead of spending time to write it yourself, come in and let us help you. We'll give you one that will exactly fit your needs—illustration and all.

Save time and increase results by using this New Service

Coquille Valley Sentinel

An Appreciation

At this glad season we cannot help but take the opportunity of expressing our deep appreciation of the loyal friendship and good-will that has been shown us by the good people of Coquille and Coos county during the year that is just closing.

The good year 1925 will leave in our minds many pleasant memories. Experience has taught us the sacredness of friendship; sympathy has made our efforts more effective. We are standing on the line that divides history from what is before us. May the lessons of the past give us guidance and strength for the future.

The Great Examiner has audited our supply of golden friendship and reports there are few withdrawals, but many new accounts. In our friendship vaults is an inexhaustible store of good-will, on which your check or draft will be honored at all times.

The welfare of our customers and the safeguarding of their interests has been, and always will be, the first thought of our officers and employees, and during the coming year we shall make every effort to give you better service than in the past.

1926 will be a good year in Coquille if we all pull together to make our town a better place in which to live and in which to do business.

We trust this Christmas day has been a happy one for you and that a prosperous New Year awaits you.

780,000 Trout Planted in 1925.

Over 780,000 trout fry were planted in the creeks and rivers of Coos and Curry counties during 1925, from the state fish hatchery near Bandon. In September 75,000 were planted in Euchre creek and 400,000 more were planted as follows: Twenty-two thousand each in Elk river, Grooked creek, Willow creek, Two Mile creek, Crystal creek, Davidson creek, Butte creek, Willow creek, tributaries of Floras lake, and Blumenrother creek; 45,000 in Floras creek, 17,500 in lakes near Marshfield; 44,000 each in Seven Mile and Elk river and 2000 in Ferry creek. The egg-taking station is under the supervision of Mr. Averill, assisted by Orvil Haga. The work of the hatchery will result in the smaller streams being re-stocked with trout. For some years recently they have been becoming depleted.—Times.

Couldn't Hear the Train

P. M. Lundquist, of Dundee, was killed Tuesday morning when the auto he was driving was struck at a grade crossing just north of Dundee by a southbound Southern Pacific train. Lundquist, who was alone in the car, was thrown 90 feet by the train and was dead when picked up by the crew, says a McMinnville press dispatch. He was about 55 years old and is said to have been quite deaf. His widow and several children survive.

New M. E. Church Next Year

A new Methodist church to cost about $10,000 will be built at Myrtle Point during the coming year, according to plans just announced by the congregation of that church. The building will be of hollow brick and is to be erected on the present church grounds, at the corner of Fifth and Maple. The old building will be utilized for Sunday school rooms and church parlors. Rev. Omer Ide is pastor of the church there, says a press dispatch from that city.

He Discovered Myrtle Wood

"I found some real Oregon novelties for Christmas presents which I found at Coos Bay a few days ago and I filled my grip with them," said an eastern Oregon man at the Imperial last evening, as he prepared to leave for home. "I was looking over some work at Marshfield and saw novelties made of myrtle wood. The wood is worked up into these in plants at Coquille and Myrtle Point, and I am surprised that some Portland stores do not carry a small line of the novelties. The wood is worked into nut bowls, sewing kits, work baskets, desk ornaments and the like. It is the most beautiful wood that I have ever seen and has a polish like glass. The novelties will make a hit up in my section of the state, where none of these things have ever been seen."—Oregonian.

Moving Radio Station to Blanco

Tests are being made at Cape Blanco, with the view of moving the Radio station and compass station of the U. S. Navy to that point. The wireless station is now located at Englewood and the compass station at Empire. It is planned to combine the two stations near the old wireless station site near Cape Blanco light house.

Of the 87 miles, the Roosevelt Highway covers in Curry county, 48 are already gravelled and the remaining 39 miles are already under contract to be completed in 1926. The gravel used in road building there is said to eventually become as durable as pavement.

Road Work in Douglas

Douglas county has had its first work on the Roosevelt highway this year in the vicinity of Gardiner, north of Coos Bay, where two and seven-tenths miles have been completed. There is a total mileage of the highway in Douglas county of 64 1-2 miles. This work is expected to be started soon.—Coos Bay Times.

Glass Houses May Be

Residences of Future

Plans for building houses of glass are being considered by glass experts. Opaque glass can be produced in great quantities, it is claimed, at a reasonable cost.

"The glass house," says a writer in a trade journal, "has been the butt of many jokes, when not actually used as a target for brickbats. It has carried with it, too, the idea that everything within its walls was open to public inspection, and that the occupants must go to bed with their clothes on, to avoid embarrassment."

"The material for the proposed glass house can be made in slabs one-eighth of an inch thick, thirty inches wide, and nine feet long. These slabs of opaque glass can be made in any shade or color the builder wants."

The writer says that glass houses must be constructed on a concrete foundation and a wood framework. There will be an air-pocket between the outside and the inside walls which will keep out both heat and cold. It is claimed that the first cost of the house would also prove to be practically the last, as the need for repairs would be almost nonexistent.

Tragedy and Comedy

in Errors by Wire

One of the most expensive telegrams ever sent over the wires was sent from Washington to New York, when Wall Street was awaiting the decision of the Supreme court on the taxability of stock dividends. At noon a message came through that the decision was that the tax was valid. Prices at once began to fall. Two hours later it was announced that the real decision was exactly the opposite to what had first been wired, and prices rose quickly. The mistake, however, had cost $1,000,000. To turn from tragedy to comedy, a cable message was received at Sydney, New South Wales, from Noumea, the capital of New Caledonia, saying: "Sailors and soldiers routed by Caledonians." New Caledonia is the French convict settlement, and such alarm was caused by the message that a warship was dispatched for the protection of British subjects. When the vessel arrived it was found the message referred to the victory of the New Caledonian football team over an eleven composed of French soldiers and sailors.

Conversation

The wit of conversation consists more of finding it in others than in showing a great deal yourself. He who goes out of your company, pleased with his own facetiousness and ingenuity, will the sooner come into it again. Most men had rather please than admire you, and seek less to be instructed and diverted than approved and applauded, and it is certainly the most delicate sort of pleasure to please another. But that sort of wit which employs itself insolently in criticizing and censuring the words and sentiments of others in conversation, is absolute folly; for it answers none of the ends of conversation. He who uses it neither improves others, is improved himself, nor pleases anyone.—Benjamin Franklin.

Quest for Beauty

The refrain of an old folk-lore song runs: "Oh, its dabbling in the dew that makes the milkmaid fair." Today there are still a few unsophisticated maidens who believe that to let the rain beat on the face is to beautify it, but in the olden days it was necessary to wander in the early morning and bathe the face in May dew. Pepys mentions this practice in his Journal in speaking of his wife: "My wife, down with Jane and W. Hewer to Woodwich in order to take a little ayre, and to lie there tonight and so to gather May-dew tomorrow morning, which Mrs. Turner hath taught her is the only thing in the world to wash her face with."

Entitled to Honor

Every Memorial day Mrs. Emma Gooch goes out and puts a wreath on the grave of the late Emil Gooch. People got to noticing it and somebody asked Mrs. Gooch what war the late Emil had fought in. "He never fought in any war," the widow replied. "Then why do you put a wreath on his grave on Memorial day?" "Wasn't he my husband?" retorted Mrs. Gooch, and went up and laid her wreath on the grave of the "Heroic Dead."—Detroit Saturday Night.
