Leach-Clinton

The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Clinton on Sanford Heights was the scene of a very pretty wedding Friday, December twenty-fifth, at three o'clock, when their daughter, Teresa, became the bride of Ernest V. Leach. The beautiful ring ceremony was used, E. A. Palmer officiating. Following congratulations and good wishes, the guests sat down to a delicious dinner prepared by Mrs. Clinton. Messrs. and Mesdames Lester Clinton, George Swinney and C. V. Smith and son Carlton, relatives and close friends of the contracting parties were the only guests present. Mrs. Leach looked very sweet in a gown of tan messaline and georgette and carried a bouquet of brides roses and carnations. She is a graduate of the Coquille High School and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. Mr. Leach is an exemplary young man, who has long been employed by the Southern Pacific and is now their agent at Alpine, Oregon, where the young people will reside in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach have a host of friends who wish them happiness and success on their journey through life.

Stage Men Not in the Fight

"Contrary to popular belief the Motor Stage men of the state are not behind the various suits that have been brought against the State of Oregon during the past ninety days," so stated Mr. Geo. W. Bryant, manager of the Coast Auto Lines, in an interview today.

Mr. Bryant further explained that three suits have been brought by certain interests and that each time the Stage men have been linked with the complaints for some unknown reason.

The three suits were all based on the Federal Highway Act which the complainants claim makes unconstitutional any state law levying toll or regulating loads on Federal Aid Highways. The first of these suits attacked the weight limit placed on certain highways of the state, the second seeks to declare the gasoline tax unconstitutional and the third attempts to enjoin the Secretary of State from collecting the 1926 Motor Vehicle License Fee.

"The Oregon Motor Stage Association, comprising 95 per cent of the Stage interests of the State, is not connected with any of these suits, nor are any of its members individually, and it has constantly reiterated its belief that the gasoline tax and a license fee based on weight of vehicle were the most equitable means of measuring the use of and damage to the highways, upon which premises our present license fee is based," is a further statement from Mr. Bryant.

Should the state of Oregon decide that additional funds are necessary to maintain the present system of highways the Motor Stage men are in favor of an additional gasoline tax as the most equitable method of metering the use of the highways," he concluded, "as the present revenue is raised by taxing all vehicles on an

The ancient buncombe about hen getting too fat to lay is still widely credited when, as a matter of fact, no hen except a fat hen can lay.

A full feed early in the day tends to make the hens listless, while a small feed encourages them to take the exercise which they need in order to keep in the best of health.

A hoe with 15 or 18-inch blade is very satisfactory for scraping the dropping boards, and if used regularly once a week or oftener, will assist materially in maintaining the health of the flock.
