For the Highway North of Bay

Among those from Coos Bay who met with Reedsport and Gardiner representatives in Reedsport, relative to hurrying construction of the Coos county line to the Winchester Bay section of the Roosevelt highway, were E. W. Murphy and J. T. Brand, of Marshfield and Henry Kern and John Mullen, of North Bend. George Bryant, manager of the Coast Auto Lines, of Coquille, also accompanied the group.

The delegation planned to meet with the Douglas county court with the idea of getting the court to advance the money for the contracts for this strip of road. J. T. Brand went on to Portland to bring up this and other matters before the regular meeting of the state highway commission.—News.

File for Water Rights

Zane Grey, famous author, has filed in the offices of the state engineer at Salem, application for a water right on Ditch creek, a tributary of Rogue river. The water would be used for domestic, mining, irrigation and power development in Curry county, where Mr. Grey recently acquired some property. He gave his home address as Avalon, Los Angeles county, California, says a Salem press dispatch Monday.

Mr. Grey proposes to construct a ditch more than a mile long. The ditch would provide water for irrigation of 10 acres of land and for placer mining purposes.

Other water applications received from Coos county recently follow:

M. O. Hooton, of Coquille, covering the appropriation of water from an unnamed tributary of Cunningham creek for irrigation of three acres of an estimated expense of $400.

College Wants Biological Station

Bandon Made It a Farce

Last Sunday's ball game closed the season. After importing four or five men for the first part of the season, Bandon came up here Sunday with only one outside player and gave so poor an exhibition that the post season series was called off right then. (The score was 13-3 in Coquille's favor.)

High spots in the game were home runs. Bill Fortier and "Chappie" King both made the circuit on hits that would not have been homers in many lots, but Ding Mulligan socked one almost to the fence back of center field. It landed across the drive from the diamond.

The first triple play of the league season occurred in the fifth inning. The first three men for Bandon had gotten on and the bases were loaded. Otto Davis plunked a long fly into center which Gilbert caught over his shoulder while on the run. He threw to Bonney at second in time to get O'Jay coming back, and Bonney made a perfect pig to Fortier at home, who tagged Quisenberry. The latter had left third after the ball was caught. Not satisfied with a triple Fortier threw back to second to catch Donahy going down from first, before he realized that the inning was over.

Had King not got in the way of Bonney's throw to first there would have been another triple play in the eighth. But King received the ball between the shoulders, cutting the play down to a double. King was knocked out and had to retire. Art Pulford played second for Bandon one inning.

Coquille played good ball but the visiting bunch seemed to be half asleep.

Coast Air Mail to Start Soon

The Pacific Air Transport company will start within the next few days to carry out its contract with the government to carry air mail between Seattle and Los Angeles, according to Vern C. Gorst, president of the company. The schedule calls for daily service six days a week.

The company is a Portland concern, and will maintain its headquarters here. It is one of ten companies to receive contracts from the government to carry air mail. The company will be the last one of the ten to start the schedule. The contract calls for the longest mileage of the ten, 1121 miles. The ten companies total in all 10,000 miles.

The contract with the government extends for four years and is placed on a percentage basis. The company, according to Mr. Gorst, will receive $3 a pound for carrying the mail.

Mail leaving Portland at 5:30 a. m. will reach San Francisco at noon and Los Angeles by 4:30 p. m. The entire trip from Seattle to Los Angeles will be made in about 13 1/2 hours.—Oregonian.

Wyoming Nails Cause Trouble

"Six out of seven punctures that I had on my trip occurred in Wyoming and were caused by nails, so I don't like Wyoming," declare T. T. Bennett, attorney of Coos Bay, who is en route home from the American Bar association meeting at Denver. "I traveled in seven states, and Oregon has the best roads of them all. Some of the other states have some good highways, it is true, but they cannot equal the Oregon highways." Mr. Bennett, who is accompanied by Mrs. Bennett, was one of three lawyers from Ore-

Speeders Are Crazy

The contention of many sane-minded citizens that speeders are crazy received official recognition at Salem this week when Carl B. Montgomery, arrested for speeding, was committed to the state hospital for the insane.

Montgomery was arrested on word from Albany. He was traveling 60 miles an hour when stopped. Upon being returned to Albany his erratic actions caused an investigation which disclosed the fact that he was mentally unbalanced.
