Approve Music and Art Teacher

The executive committee of the Coquille Business and Professional Women's Club met Wednesday evening at the home of the president of the club, Mrs. Ruth Nissen Beyers. A suitable means of celebrating the first anniversary of the organization of the club was discussed and means of co-operating with other civic organizations in the matter of the Corn Show were sought with the result that the committee passed the following resolution:

Resolved; that the Business and Professional Women's Club of Coquille give a benefit dance on October 12, their first anniversary, the proceeds to be used towards financing the Corn Show. A motion was carried that the finance committee have charge of the arrangements for the dance, with the privilege of calling on any of the other members for assistance. It was further resolved that this dance become an annual event for the benefit of the Corn Show.

Another important resolution was passed which was a direct result of the regular meeting last Monday night. At the open meeting and program which followed the business session, Mr. Ross, of the Lions club, asked that this club co-operate with the Lions club in seeing what could be done toward securing a music and art supervisor for the schools. Favorable discussion followed and therefore the executive committee passed the following resolution:

Whereas the Business and Professional Women's club of Coquille believe there is urgent need for a music and art instructor in the public schools of this city,

Be It Resolved; That the members of this club work toward that end;
And Be It Further Resolved: That a committee be appointed to meet with the committee from the Lions club, which has already been appointed by the president as follows: Miss Mabel Eisaman, Mrs. Ula Leach, Miss Leona Lowe.

The members of the executive committee then adjourned to Coquille Hotel where they met with the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce who were holding their meeting there and surprised them by presenting the resolution relative to the Corn Show dance. The offer was accepted by the finance committee and plans are now in the making for the event.

With the Time Killers

"Let's start another rubber."
"Now, don't forget. We're lunching Monday in town."
"Let's dine late and go to the theater. Doesn't matter what we see."
"Let's go to that new place that keeps open all night. We can sleep all day tomorrow."
"What! Only half-past five? Let's have another round of cocktails."
"Well, there's Thompsons on Tuesday, the Billingshams Wednesday, the Rockwisters Thursday, the Buffelhags Friday, and we're spending the week end with the Giffleton-Phillips." — Kansas City Times.

Wasps Natural Thieves

Wasps are natural thieves, and they pilage the sweet things from all manner of places, even the bees not being immune. But the wasp is a manufacturer also, chewing up bits of wood and mixing it with a glutinous saliva to make a paper-like substance out of which to build its nest. The queen wasp is a good laborer in her early days but eventually she devotes herself entirely to laying eggs.

Delicate Instrument

The bureau of standards says the statement concerning the thermometer that measures the heat of a candle five miles away is correct. There is in the bureau an instrument to measure the heat of a single star, which is made so delicate that it is responsive to the heat of a candle several hundred miles away.

Tastes of Cannibals

Cannibals of Liberia do not like to eat women. Female flesh is too bitter for them, says Lady Dorothy Mills of England, who recently traveled widely in the interior of Liberia. Lady Mills asserts the human thigh is the best delicacy, and is always reserved for the chieftain. The body of a youth fourteen or fifteen years old is regarded as ideal food. "An ordinary healthy, normal wife costs about $90 on the Liberian marriage market," Lady Mills said.

Forest Fire This Week

Notwithstanding recent rains a Roseburg dispatch announced that a forest fire, covering about 200 acres, was reported burning that day near Rattlesnake ranch at the forks of the South Umpqua river in the Umpqua national forest. The exceedingly low humidity during the last three days had resulted in an increased forest fire danger. The fire reported is an old burn, it is stated, and consequently is doing little damage.

Largest Enrollment at U. of O.

Although new applicants are being admitted every day at the University of Oregon, 1268 new students were accepted up to September 15, it was announced today by Carlton E. Spencer, registrar. The total resident enrollment, Mr. Spencer estimated, will be approximately 3500, which exceeds last year by about 300.

Scholarship rules, in effect for the first time this fall, designed to eliminate poorly prepared students have so far kept approximately 300 from entering. Those who have failed in other colleges are barred. Non-residents must pay the $150 fee and meet two requirements: qualify to enter the state university of their home state and meet the Oregon requirements. Many students have been kept out, some going to other institutions, by the rule which allows the lowest one-fourth in Oregon high schools to enter only on probation.

"Although our motto may be fewer students and our scholastic standards high, enrollment will exceed all other years," Mr. Spencer declared.

With the elimination of dance halls and pool rooms from the University district and the effort by the university officials to discourage students in bringing automobiles to college, every means is being taken to stimulate greater scholastic achievement. Twenty-five new members of the faculty, including several department heads, also begin their first year in Eugene this week.

Visited at Hood River

John Hayes, of Bandon, was here Wednesday en route home from Pendleton where he took in the roundup and later visited with his brother-in-law at the latter's ranch three miles from Hood River. Mr. Hayes went to Bandon to start a delicatessen, which he leased some time ago in order to devote his time to his realty interests. He says that Hood River has the greatest apple crop ever. His brother-in-law has over 20,000 boxes on 35 acres. He has built a storage plant to keep 10,000 boxes. They are having trouble to remove the lead, used in spraying, from the fruit.
