COOK with electricity. Current is used only to start the cooking—it is completed on stored heat. This means better food, food with all the juices retained. It means economy of fuel, for the heat is held in the oven. It means a healthful kitchen, no fumes or smoke.

Riverton School Notes

Fred Clinton, Clyde Schroeder, Jack Hultin, Kenneth Hultin, Mabel Hull and Doris Williams recently enrolled in the high school. There are now fifty-one students in high school and eight-six in the grade school. There is one more student in high school than there was at this time last year but there are thirty less pupils in the grades.

The high school teachers have been able to find enjoyment during the week end. Miss Martha Jane Hutt and her sister, Miss Ruth Hutt, spent the week end with some relatives near Glendale. Miss Jackson and Miss Ward spent last week end visiting their alma mater at Eugene. Miss Dutch spent the night with the Philpott family a short time ago. While there she had her first experience at salmon fishing with a gill net. Although the football team has won no victories, they still train with hopes of doing better. The team will play Bandon at Bandon Saturday, October 8, and Marshfield at Marshfield Saturday, October 15.

Ram Is Three Times Champion

THIS is the record made by the Hampshire which secured the award of Grand Champion Ram at the 1926 Pacific International Livestock Exposition. The other two Grand Championships were won at the American Royal and Chicago International Shows. This achievement is typical of the attainments of the animals exhibited at the Pacific International.

Similar successes have been repeated many times in the history of Pacific International, indicating the importance breeders of high types of animals attach to the West's own great Livestock epic. The 17th Annual Exposition will be held at Portland October 29 to November 5, inclusive. The 1926 Grand Champion Ram will probably be exhibited again this year.

The Farmers & Merchants Bank knows of no better opportunity for the farmers of this district to gain valuable farm information than our own Pacific International. Therefore we say to all, GO, by all means.

McKINLEY NOTES

Richard McCarthy, mayor, located his new home on his holdings on upper Middle Creek near the I. J. Bennet farm.

Carlton Brown and wife returned from their honeymoon trip and are at present living on the C. M. Holmstrom farm.

McKinley Grange held a meeting on October 1st with a good attendance as usual. The application of Mr. Beale, Smith-Hughes instructor at Coquille High, was voted on. It is a matter of congratulation to have Agriculture instructors and County Agents realize the importance of the Grange as a sure means of keeping in touch with the rural population.

All of McKinley grange members who possibly can do so are planning on going to attend the installation ceremonies of the newly organized North Bayside Grange on the 15th inst.

Mr. Jenkins is busy this week filling his silo.

Judging from the muzzed-up countenances of Buzz and Kenny and Harlo Call after the game Saturday, it seems that it would be a good idea for football players to wear masks like the baseball catchers do.

It seems that the items writer from McKinley was very inaccurate and old-fashioned in stating that Mr. Bunch and son, Walter, had made a "flying trip" to Coquille. While Walter does not mind having people think he uses an airplane, the former county superintendent believes in being exact in all respects so we will correct by stating that they merely ran into town. Rube Brown and H. L. Hansen also ran into town Tuesday but they were not so swift and did not return until midnight.

Without fear of contradiction, though we hereby state that our Worthy Secretary is so rushed for time that he has to patronize the air mail.

Our school teacher is very accurate, too. On Monday the assistant postmaster was surprised to see Miss Shone with the whole school in tow visiting the post office. When she requested that they all be weighed on the office scales why naturally it was supposed it was the intention to Parcel Post them to some place or other but she wanted to weigh them on a government inspected scales so as to be entirely accurate. Some of the older ones were too heavy for the 100 lbs. scales but the postmaster tried weighing first on one foot and then on the other. It was proved that wouldn't work when little Ruby Free-
